Thousands of acres of wild land have been burned over and many thousands of dollars worth of timber destroyed. The loss of timber in the Kineo region alone is estimated at over $100,000.

The total damage thus tar by the various fires in the state is difficult to estimate, but probably $500,000 is not too high a figure of the damage.

Queens county reports one of the greatest droughts in its history. The ground in all parts of the province is badly parched and farmers are greatly worried. At White's Cove on Saturday the thermometer registered 95 in the grade.

The sheat made it impossible to discourse, and the corp, which have already run three-quarters of a mile and threatened to go over into Saplingville, where there is an unbroken stretch of valuable timber land, also owned by S. W. Philbrick of Skowhegan.

Another had fire started yesterday in the vicinity of Roach River, in the Lily Bay district, and already has burned over hundreds of acres. There are no men to fight it in that region and the strong wind and dry condition of that section make the fire jeopardize a large territory of some of the best timber and one which has exicted a great deal of talk is the first appearance with a number of novelties to discourse.

Up to the present he has shipped only a thousand boxes and unless rain speedily falls he will be unables to ship any more this season.

The worst of the whole situation is that there is little prospect that the immediate future will be any different from the past. Fine, warm weather was predicted again last evening.

In many parts of the country forest fires are raging. Friday evening a fire was started along the line of the St. Martins railway by sparks from a passing locomotive. The blaze quickly syread and by Saturday night had davastated an area of over six square criles between Potter's road and Henry Lake. It was burning flercely Saturday afternoon and evening, but Saturday inght the wind changed and swept the fire back over the burned area.

At one time buildings were threatened by the fire, but they managed to escape. Property belonging to the St. Martins railway was also threatened and a gang of men was sent out to protect it.

Considerable private property was destroyed by the fire, but it consisted chiefly of brush. The Bay Shore Lumber Company, however, lost quite a lot of valuable birch timber.

THRILLING TIME

George McArthur and a party of friends who went outside the harbor, for a sail in Mr. McArthur's gasoline launch on Saturday afternoon spent a rather uneasy evening as a result of the launch's engine breaking down. The mishap occurred off Black Rock Point and the launch was towed into Mispec. The weather was rough and for attime the launch and its occupants were in considerable danger.

Some of the members of the party which was with Mr. McArthur walked into the city, arriving late Saturday, night. Others stayed with the boat, which will be towed to the city.
