Philips Gayne Killed By Train Near Moncton LIVED TEN MINUTES AFTER HELP CAME

Circumstances of Tragedy a Mystery—Believed Unfortunate Man was Lying on Track when Caught by Engine Wheels.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, April 27.—Gaspings his last and cut and mangled almost beyond recognition, Phillips Gayne, an employe of the I. C. R. track near Hall's Creek Bridge, half mile or more from this town, about six o'clock this morning, a few minutes after being found by the train, was killed by the engine wheels. The circumstances surrounding his death are a mystery. The unfortunate man was found by Alfred Orr and John Stultz, two I. C. R. employes who were on route to their homes in Lewisville and Sunny Brae from work. Shortly before Gayne was found, Sweeney's east bound freight passed over the road, and it is thought the man was run over by this train.

Orr and Stultz leaving work between five and six o'clock on Sweeney's train for as Church street crossing and then jumped off, walking the rest of the way to their homes. Upon their arrival at Hall's Creek bridge, they found Gayne lying on the track in a fearful mangled condition, but his life not quite extinct. Both legs and one arm were cut off, while the head and face were cut and the body bruised.

An incoming train was stopped for the purpose of bringing Gayne to the hospital, but before he could be picked up life had become extinct and coroner and undertaker were summoned.

Lying in the ditch beside the track with a broken shoulder was Gayne's dog which had also been struck by the train. Just how Gayne came to be on the track at that time is not known. He cannot be ascertained. He was in Stroncho's yard and had been drinking. He went out to his home, but the family appear to know little of how he came to be on the railway track where he was found. It is supposed, however, Gayne, after remaining home for a time, started back to Moncton accompanied by his dog. It would appear from the condition in which he was found that he was either sitting or lying on the track when struck, and was caught by the wheels, as otherwise, if he had been struck by the engine pilot he would have likely been killed on the spot.

This theory is strengthened by the fact that no train has reported striking a man, and so far no marks of blood have been found on the engine or cars to indicate just which train ran over him.

When found Gayne had working clothes on, showing that after going home at ten o'clock he had changed into his night clothes and was on his way to bed. His family say he had been in the habit of setting an alarm clock and getting up and going to work. The I. C. R. officials say there were many trains on the road during the morning, and the belief is Gayne was killed between three and five, probably by the night express or special.

The deceased was 49 years of age, and is survived by his wife, two daughters and a son. One of the daughters is Mrs. Lewellyn Butler, Sun by Brae. Dr. R. L. Botsford, coroner, on being notified of the tragedy, was panelled a jury, and after viewing the remains at Futtie's morgue adjourned till ten tomorrow, when an inquest will be held. A sister, Mrs. Patsy, and a brother, Edward Gayne, reside in St. John; another brother, William lives at Gallagher Ridge, while two others, John and Benny, are in New York.

The steamer Ascot completed its cargo Thursday night and sailed Friday morning at four o'clock.

EXPECT MUCH BUSINESS DURING NEXT FEW DAYS

House of Commons Has Lot of Government Legislation and Naval Bill May Rest for a Week.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, April 27.—The House will probably have an opportunity this week to continue the program established since the adoption of the closure. A lot of government legislation is on the program for tomorrow, and this seems likely to run for the five sitting days of the week. On Thursday, American Day, the House will not sit. The naval bill is likely as not, will not come before the House this week.

MUCH BUSINESS FOR THE COUNCIL TODAY

Contracts May be Let for Water and Sewer Systems on Douglas Ave. and Adelaide Streets.

At the meeting of the common council this afternoon Com. Wigmore will ask for authority to let contracts for the construction of water and sewer systems on Douglas avenue and Adelaide Road, contracts for the reconstruction of the sewer on the Marble Cove sewer, and for the construction of a half mile of water mains. He will also make a report on the Marble Cove sewer problem, and hopes to secure authority to solve it by having a sewer run from the car stables out into the river.

Com. Agar will submit a petition from residents of Queen street asking that a portion of the street be paved under the provisions of the local improvement act.

There are a number of matters of a routine nature to come up. At a meeting of the commissioners on Saturday the Mayor and Com. Schofield were appointed to represent the city at a public meeting called by the Board of Trade for this evening to discuss the question of pushing the work of harbor development.

The commissioners have under consideration the question of the permanent construction of the North Market wharf with concrete walls and a solid filling. The wharf is in need of repairs and Com. Schofield is getting information as to the cost of rebuilding the wharf with permanent material. The commissioners are also looking into the financial side of the question of building a new warehouse on the Quinn wharf.

London Correspondent Makes a "Definite Announcement"

BEREAVEMENT OR WAR WILL PREVENT UNDERSTOOD KING AND PRESIDENT OF UNITED STATES WILL MEET AT NIAGARA FALLS—TO OPEN TORONTO EXHIBITION.

London, April 28.—According to a report published in Berlin an Austrian naval division has left Trieste with ten thousand troops with the intention of occupying Antivari, Dublino and San Giovanni, Medua and advancing against Cattinje.

The Strassburger Post reports that the German emperor has received a telegram to the effect that the Austrians have already entered Montenegro. "The political situation is premature, but little doubt is now felt that Austria is determined to act alone unless the ambassadorial conference in London on Monday resolves upon European action."

New York, April 27.—The Brooklyn Eagle's London correspondent under date of April 27th, writes as follows: "I am able to announce definitely that King George will visit Canada in 1914. Only some such unexpected event as a European war involving England, or a family bereavement, will prevent this trip taking place."

"The King and his advisers are taking pains to keep the proposed visit secret as they are afraid that the Canadians may be disappointed. A meeting between King George and President Wilson at Niagara Falls is being arranged in the near future."

"King George has intimated his willingness to open the Toronto exhibition in August, 1914, and preparations for this event are already being made in English court circles."

First King to Visit Us.

"It will be the first time that any King of England has visited Canada. No people of the Empire are more loyal, or more attached to the King, than are the Canadians. His Majesty's visit to this country will be a great event, and the Canadian people will be with his father on this interesting trip."

On the Canadian circles here a visit from the King has long been anticipated. When Lord Grey was Governor General powerful representation was made as to the desire of the Canadian people to see in person the King, and the appointment of the Duke of Connaught as Governor General, who is now in Canada, has been cordially endorsed that earnest solicitation of the Canadian government to permit the King to visit in 1914, and preparations for this event are now being made, so far as his plans can be arranged in advance.

Lord Great Great Welcomes.

Lord Strathcona, the veteran high commissioner of Canada, said yesterday: "No people of the Empire are more loyal, or more attached to the King, than are the Canadians. His Majesty's visit to this country will be a great event, and the Canadian people will be with his father on this interesting trip."

As the yacht races for the America's cup take place in September, 1914 there is just a chance that the King will be in the Empire at that time. It would be impossible for him to receive a finer welcome in any part of the world than in America.

"At the yacht races for the America's cup take place in September, 1914 there is just a chance that the King will be in the Empire at that time. It would be impossible for him to receive a finer welcome in any part of the world than in America."

"During the King's absence from England the royal prerogatives will be vested in a commission similar to that which was appointed when he went to India to receive the homage of the Prince of Wales stay in England while his father is abroad. This trip to Canada is only the forerunner of others. It is King George's ambition to be the first King to visit not only Canada, but also Australia and South Africa."

PART OF SKULL REMOVED AND MAN STILL LIVES

Ball Pierces Brain of Houlton Man—Surgeons Take Out Piece of Skull Size of Half Dollar.

Houlton, Me., April 26.—A peculiar accident happened in the Crookston Co-operative and Lumber Company's mill here the other day when Charles Spooner, who is a man of 40, and who has four small children, was caught in a belt and thrown against a bolt which pierced his skull as large as a half dollar, and took a mass of hair and blood from the brain. The operation was a particularly delicate one. Although he is in a critical condition the doctors say he has a chance of recovery. Spooner formerly lived in St. Leonard, N. B.

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY PLANS TO EVACUATE MONTENEGRO TODAY

Demands Immediate Evacuation of Scutari and Threatens Aggressive Action as Alternative—Germany Supporting Austrian View—Powers Must Act at Once.

Vienna, April 27.—The official Fremdenblatt, discussing Scutari says: "If Austria-Hungary is to be really tranquilized the great powers must not stop at a platonic declaration of their unanimous intentions; they must compel their good will into deeds without delay, in this connection the constant talk about compensating Montenegro for her military successes makes an especially bad impression."

"The political and military prestige of Europe has suffered by the fall of Scutari, if this injury to their prestige, this check to their ambitions is a matter of indifference to the powers, Austria cannot follow them along such a path."

A Slight Fire.

Shortly after nine o'clock Saturday evening the North End fire department was called out by an alarm from box 123. A fire had broken out in the dwelling of Fred Belyea, Victoria Lane, and the firemen were given a half-hour fight before the blaze was extinguished. Mr. Belyea was moving at the time and had mostly all of his furniture out when the fire started. It is thought that the fire started by a lamp being upset. About $200 damage was done to the building.

New York, April 26.—Dr. Friedrich Friedmann, has arranged for the sale of the American rights in his anti-tuberculosis vaccine for $125,000 in cash and $1,800,000 in stock in thirty-six Friedmann institutes to be organized in as many selected states, with a total capitalization of $5,400,000 according to the Times this morning.

SUFFRAGETTES MOBBED AGAIN IN HYDE PARK

Crowds Attempted to "Rush" Militants to the Serpentine For Water Cure—Police Saved the Women.

London, April 27.—Hyde Park was again turned into a bedlam by the suffragettes and their opponents this afternoon. The women, declining to recognize the police order that no suffragette meetings were to be held in the park, appeared with a wagonette and proceeded to address a small crowd. Immediately youths commenced to drag the wagonette to the Serpentine, for the purpose of ducking the women.

Mounted and foot police intervened just in time to save them, and the suffragettes were escorted from the park followed by a jeering crowd who pelted them with turf and street refuse. After they entered a call was made to drag the wagonette to the Serpentine, for the purpose of ducking the women.

The Perthshire cricket pavilion at Perth, together with a collection of valuable photographs, records and relics, was destroyed by fire today. Suffragettes are suspected, although nothing of an incriminating nature has been found.

INTEREST AT CALAIS IN PENDING LAW SUIT

Charge for Theft Develops Into Counter Charge of Indignity—Border Club Circles May be Disrupted.

Special to The Standard. Calais, Me., April 26.—The feminine portion of that part of the population of Maine living near the St. Croix river, is divided into two hostile camps as the result of a suit now pending in the Supreme Court here. Miss Vivian Schofield has sued Miss Mary S. Bennett, principal of the Lubec High School, because of accusations which it is alleged the latter made in connection with the theft of a pocketbook from the high school building recently.

Miss Schofield claims that, although she knew nothing whatever of the matter she was submitted to the indignity of a search by the school principal.

The parties to the suit are both prominent in society along the border, and their friends have manifested much feeling regarding the suit, which promises to disrupt more than one whist club and sewing circle in Washington County.

Understood strong evidence can be submitted to prove that he is the culprit in party.

THE INTERNATIONAL LAW SOCIETY DISCUSSES PANAMA TOLLS

ABOLISH TOLLS OR ARBITRATE IT ALL

Washington, April 26.—Both in set speeches and discussion, speakers at today's meeting of the American Society of International Law, maintaining that the United States was under a moral as well as an international obligation to submit the Panama Canal tolls controversy to arbitration. It was also held by several of the speakers that Congress should at once repeal the tolls exemption act and submit the tolls exemption act and once repeal the subject to diplomatic negotiation.

Hannis Taylor, former minister to Spain, declared that upon the settlement of the controversy hinged the century-old friendship between the United States and Great Britain, and urged an earnest plea to Congress to repeal the tolls act to permit diplomatic negotiations for an amicable adjustment of the question.

Amos S. Hershey, professor of international law at the University of Indiana, was another speaker who desired to see the question submitted to arbitration. He said "unless Congress sees fit to repeal that part of the Panama Canal act regarding the exemption of coastwise tolls, the United States is under an international obligation to enter into an agreement with Great Britain to arbitrate the controversy."

"In view of the long and honorable history of the United States," declared Thomas R. White, of Philadelphia, "as a leader in the movement for the substitution of a system of international judicature for the present unsatisfactory methods of settling international disputes, it is particularly appropriate that the opportunity should have been offered it to establish such a precedent."

It would be unworthy of the United States to rely upon what must be deemed a technical reason for declining to arbitrate and it is to be hoped that the state department will not persist in the attitude which has been assumed and will embrace the opportunity of creating a precedent sustaining the proposition that it is not necessary in international law that injury should actually be suffered before a justifiable action arises.

A letter of similar tenor, from the late Prof. John Westlake, of London was read, but he maintained that it was necessary "that an injury be actually sustained before a justifiable action arises."

Following the addresses and discussion these officers for next year were elected: President, Senator Cullu Root of New York; vice-presidents, Chief Justice White, Justice William R. Day, Philander C. Knox, Andrew Carnegie, Joseph H. Choate, John W. Foster, George Gray, Wm. H. Taft, William W. Morrow, Richard Olney, Horace Porter, Oscar S. Straus, Jacob M. Dickinson, and Wm. J. Bryan.
