

QUESTIONS OF RESOURCES

Premier Borden Balances Opposition for Facility With Which They Change Policy.

SIX DIFFERENT STANDS IN NINE YEARS

Government Maintains Same Stand today it Took in 1905—Maritime Provinces Must be Consulted.

Special to The Standard
Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 24.—"If in the interests of another of the provinces it be deemed advisable to make further grant to the Dominion Government for provincial purposes such action should only be taken as part of a general re-arrangement of financial arrangements in which all the provinces should have an opportunity to participate. If the needs of the western provinces call for additional financial grants (and I have no doubt such is the case) the national resources should get in line with the needs of the western provinces. I do not know the ground that these should not be considered. But I do, in justice to the other provinces, urge that their claims be equitably dealt with at the same time. Such was the clear-cut statement of Hon. George Murray, the Liberal premier of Nova Scotia, made to Premier Borden, when asked his opinion as to what should be done with regard to the matter of handing over to provincial control the national resources of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The premiers of these three provinces have asked the federal government to hand over to them the national resources and at the same time maintain the payment of the annual sum which Sir Wilfrid Laurier arranged these provinces should get in line of their resources. This was absurd of course and Mr. Borden asked the premiers of the three maritime provinces for their opinions on the subject. The opinion of Premier Murray in such a case is significant. Mr. Buchanan, the Liberal member for Medicine Hat, introduced the question in the House today.

When the autonomy bills were being drafted in 1905, Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not think it the wisest thing to hand over these lands, and made other financial terms. The Conservatives, led by Mr. Borden, strongly favored the transferring of the lands to the provincial governments, and Mr. Borden incorporated this principle into his Halifax platform, and made the demand an issue in the west during the election of 1911. No one believed of course that Mr. Borden contemplated handing over all these natural resources without certain conditions being attached to his generosity.

In 1905, and for several years afterwards the Liberal leaders in Alberta and Saskatchewan expressed their views as being those of the west, and the terms of the autonomy act, but in 1911, after the Conservatives came into office, there came a remarkable change; remembering Mr. Borden's promises, they suddenly took very advanced ground and demanded that the federal government hand over to them all their natural resources.

Liberal Change of Heart

The Prime Minister, in replying to Mr. Buchanan, was in good debating form and rallied the Liberals sharply upon their inconsistency in regard to such an important question. They had in nine years, stood for six different things. These could be divided like this:

1. They declared that the financial terms which they made under the autonomy bills were more generous than if the lands had been handed over to the provinces.
2. They claimed that the question had been settled over and over again by the people of Saskatchewan and Alberta when they returned to power under Liberal administrations, thus ratifying the terms of the autonomy act, and that they were overjoyed by the sincerity and wisdom of anyone who doubted the wisdom of their settlement.
3. They acquiesced by the fact that when the boundaries of Manitoba were extended in the following year, the lands were not handed over to the province and the swamp lands were taken away from it.
4. They next asked that a portion of the natural resources be transferred to the provinces.
5. After the Conservatives came into office they made rapid advances and asked for all the natural resources.
6. They now asked not only for all the natural resources, but that the provinces should be allowed to retain the financial subsidy allotted to them by the acts of 1905.

Would Mr. Buchanan explain these rapid changes, asked the Premier, it stood where it did in 1905. He was still in favor of handing over to the provinces their natural resources, but there were certain conditions to which the western provinces must assent, and the maritime provinces had to be consulted with regard to any changes which would be necessitated in the financial arrangements.

In the House today W. W. Buchanan of Medicine Hat, brought up the question of the transfer of the natural resources to the western provinces, which had been promised, he said, by Premier Borden in his Halifax platform and in the 1911 campaign generally to defeat reciprocity.

The fact that the western provinces had elected Liberals was not sufficient reason for not carrying out this policy. It was now time for Mr. Borden to say what he was going to do in the matter. During the last election in Saskatchewan provincial elections, this natural resources question had been used as a bribe to force the people to vote Conservative. R. B. Bennett of Calgary had told his constituents he would not be bound to support the present government if it did not keep its promise in this regard. Premier Borden in his Halifax platform and also asked for it. If the provinces had control of their resources, Alberta would be able to prevent the export of its natural gas.

It might be well for the hon. member to take a look at himself and his friends before he throws charges as to our sincerity, across the house," said Premier Borden. The hon. member in 1905 had strongly advocated the retention of the natural resources by Canada, when new western provinces were created on the same financial terms; he should tell why he had experienced such a change of heart. In 1905 it was the (Mr. Borden) who stated the nature of the promise made to the natural resources to the provinces. The Prime Minister then turned to the attention of the Conservative party on the question. He stood where he had stood in 1905. The Halifax platform had declared for restoration of the financial arrangements between the Dominion and the provinces. The inter-provincial conference last summer would have taken the question up and discussed it as a problem affecting the entire nation. The hon. member had certain rights in the matter.

QUESTIONS OF RESOURCES

Premier Borden Balances Opposition for Facility With Which They Change Policy.

SIX DIFFERENT STANDS IN NINE YEARS

Government Maintains Same Stand today it Took in 1905—Maritime Provinces Must be Consulted.

Special to The Standard
Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 24.—"If in the interests of another of the provinces it be deemed advisable to make further grant to the Dominion Government for provincial purposes such action should only be taken as part of a general re-arrangement of financial arrangements in which all the provinces should have an opportunity to participate. If the needs of the western provinces call for additional financial grants (and I have no doubt such is the case) the national resources should get in line with the needs of the western provinces. I do not know the ground that these should not be considered. But I do, in justice to the other provinces, urge that their claims be equitably dealt with at the same time. Such was the clear-cut statement of Hon. George Murray, the Liberal premier of Nova Scotia, made to Premier Borden, when asked his opinion as to what should be done with regard to the matter of handing over to provincial control the national resources of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The premiers of these three provinces have asked the federal government to hand over to them the national resources and at the same time maintain the payment of the annual sum which Sir Wilfrid Laurier arranged these provinces should get in line of their resources. This was absurd of course and Mr. Borden asked the premiers of the three maritime provinces for their opinions on the subject. The opinion of Premier Murray in such a case is significant. Mr. Buchanan, the Liberal member for Medicine Hat, introduced the question in the House today.

When the autonomy bills were being drafted in 1905, Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not think it the wisest thing to hand over these lands, and made other financial terms. The Conservatives, led by Mr. Borden, strongly favored the transferring of the lands to the provincial governments, and Mr. Borden incorporated this principle into his Halifax platform, and made the demand an issue in the west during the election of 1911. No one believed of course that Mr. Borden contemplated handing over all these natural resources without certain conditions being attached to his generosity.

In 1905, and for several years afterwards the Liberal leaders in Alberta and Saskatchewan expressed their views as being those of the west, and the terms of the autonomy act, but in 1911, after the Conservatives came into office, there came a remarkable change; remembering Mr. Borden's promises, they suddenly took very advanced ground and demanded that the federal government hand over to them all their natural resources.

Liberal Change of Heart

The Prime Minister, in replying to Mr. Buchanan, was in good debating form and rallied the Liberals sharply upon their inconsistency in regard to such an important question. They had in nine years, stood for six different things. These could be divided like this:

1. They declared that the financial terms which they made under the autonomy bills were more generous than if the lands had been handed over to the provinces.
2. They claimed that the question had been settled over and over again by the people of Saskatchewan and Alberta when they returned to power under Liberal administrations, thus ratifying the terms of the autonomy act, and that they were overjoyed by the sincerity and wisdom of anyone who doubted the wisdom of their settlement.
3. They acquiesced by the fact that when the boundaries of Manitoba were extended in the following year, the lands were not handed over to the province and the swamp lands were taken away from it.
4. They next asked that a portion of the natural resources be transferred to the provinces.
5. After the Conservatives came into office they made rapid advances and asked for all the natural resources.
6. They now asked not only for all the natural resources, but that the provinces should be allowed to retain the financial subsidy allotted to them by the acts of 1905.

Would Mr. Buchanan explain these rapid changes, asked the Premier, it stood where it did in 1905. He was still in favor of handing over to the provinces their natural resources, but there were certain conditions to which the western provinces must assent, and the maritime provinces had to be consulted with regard to any changes which would be necessitated in the financial arrangements.

In the House today W. W. Buchanan of Medicine Hat, brought up the question of the transfer of the natural resources to the western provinces, which had been promised, he said, by Premier Borden in his Halifax platform and in the 1911 campaign generally to defeat reciprocity.

The fact that the western provinces had elected Liberals was not sufficient reason for not carrying out this policy. It was now time for Mr. Borden to say what he was going to do in the matter. During the last election in Saskatchewan provincial elections, this natural resources question had been used as a bribe to force the people to vote Conservative. R. B. Bennett of Calgary had told his constituents he would not be bound to support the present government if it did not keep its promise in this regard. Premier Borden in his Halifax platform and also asked for it. If the provinces had control of their resources, Alberta would be able to prevent the export of its natural gas.

It might be well for the hon. member to take a look at himself and his friends before he throws charges as to our sincerity, across the house," said Premier Borden. The hon. member in 1905 had strongly advocated the retention of the natural resources by Canada, when new western provinces were created on the same financial terms; he should tell why he had experienced such a change of heart. In 1905 it was the (Mr. Borden) who stated the nature of the promise made to the natural resources to the provinces. The Prime Minister then turned to the attention of the Conservative party on the question. He stood where he had stood in 1905. The Halifax platform had declared for restoration of the financial arrangements between the Dominion and the provinces. The inter-provincial conference last summer would have taken the question up and discussed it as a problem affecting the entire nation. The hon. member had certain rights in the matter.

QUESTIONS OF RESOURCES

Premier Borden Balances Opposition for Facility With Which They Change Policy.

SIX DIFFERENT STANDS IN NINE YEARS

Government Maintains Same Stand today it Took in 1905—Maritime Provinces Must be Consulted.

Special to The Standard
Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 24.—"If in the interests of another of the provinces it be deemed advisable to make further grant to the Dominion Government for provincial purposes such action should only be taken as part of a general re-arrangement of financial arrangements in which all the provinces should have an opportunity to participate. If the needs of the western provinces call for additional financial grants (and I have no doubt such is the case) the national resources should get in line with the needs of the western provinces. I do not know the ground that these should not be considered. But I do, in justice to the other provinces, urge that their claims be equitably dealt with at the same time. Such was the clear-cut statement of Hon. George Murray, the Liberal premier of Nova Scotia, made to Premier Borden, when asked his opinion as to what should be done with regard to the matter of handing over to provincial control the national resources of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The premiers of these three provinces have asked the federal government to hand over to them the national resources and at the same time maintain the payment of the annual sum which Sir Wilfrid Laurier arranged these provinces should get in line of their resources. This was absurd of course and Mr. Borden asked the premiers of the three maritime provinces for their opinions on the subject. The opinion of Premier Murray in such a case is significant. Mr. Buchanan, the Liberal member for Medicine Hat, introduced the question in the House today.

When the autonomy bills were being drafted in 1905, Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not think it the wisest thing to hand over these lands, and made other financial terms. The Conservatives, led by Mr. Borden, strongly favored the transferring of the lands to the provincial governments, and Mr. Borden incorporated this principle into his Halifax platform, and made the demand an issue in the west during the election of 1911. No one believed of course that Mr. Borden contemplated handing over all these natural resources without certain conditions being attached to his generosity.

In 1905, and for several years afterwards the Liberal leaders in Alberta and Saskatchewan expressed their views as being those of the west, and the terms of the autonomy act, but in 1911, after the Conservatives came into office, there came a remarkable change; remembering Mr. Borden's promises, they suddenly took very advanced ground and demanded that the federal government hand over to them all their natural resources.

Liberal Change of Heart

The Prime Minister, in replying to Mr. Buchanan, was in good debating form and rallied the Liberals sharply upon their inconsistency in regard to such an important question. They had in nine years, stood for six different things. These could be divided like this:

1. They declared that the financial terms which they made under the autonomy bills were more generous than if the lands had been handed over to the provinces.
2. They claimed that the question had been settled over and over again by the people of Saskatchewan and Alberta when they returned to power under Liberal administrations, thus ratifying the terms of the autonomy act, and that they were overjoyed by the sincerity and wisdom of anyone who doubted the wisdom of their settlement.
3. They acquiesced by the fact that when the boundaries of Manitoba were extended in the following year, the lands were not handed over to the province and the swamp lands were taken away from it.
4. They next asked that a portion of the natural resources be transferred to the provinces.
5. After the Conservatives came into office they made rapid advances and asked for all the natural resources.
6. They now asked not only for all the natural resources, but that the provinces should be allowed to retain the financial subsidy allotted to them by the acts of 1905.

Would Mr. Buchanan explain these rapid changes, asked the Premier, it stood where it did in 1905. He was still in favor of handing over to the provinces their natural resources, but there were certain conditions to which the western provinces must assent, and the maritime provinces had to be consulted with regard to any changes which would be necessitated in the financial arrangements.

In the House today W. W. Buchanan of Medicine Hat, brought up the question of the transfer of the natural resources to the western provinces, which had been promised, he said, by Premier Borden in his Halifax platform and in the 1911 campaign generally to defeat reciprocity.

The fact that the western provinces had elected Liberals was not sufficient reason for not carrying out this policy. It was now time for Mr. Borden to say what he was going to do in the matter. During the last election in Saskatchewan provincial elections, this natural resources question had been used as a bribe to force the people to vote Conservative. R. B. Bennett of Calgary had told his constituents he would not be bound to support the present government if it did not keep its promise in this regard. Premier Borden in his Halifax platform and also asked for it. If the provinces had control of their resources, Alberta would be able to prevent the export of its natural gas.

It might be well for the hon. member to take a look at himself and his friends before he throws charges as to our sincerity, across the house," said Premier Borden. The hon. member in 1905 had strongly advocated the retention of the natural resources by Canada, when new western provinces were created on the same financial terms; he should tell why he had experienced such a change of heart. In 1905 it was the (Mr. Borden) who stated the nature of the promise made to the natural resources to the provinces. The Prime Minister then turned to the attention of the Conservative party on the question. He stood where he had stood in 1905. The Halifax platform had declared for restoration of the financial arrangements between the Dominion and the provinces. The inter-provincial conference last summer would have taken the question up and discussed it as a problem affecting the entire nation. The hon. member had certain rights in the matter.

QUESTIONS OF RESOURCES

Premier Borden Balances Opposition for Facility With Which They Change Policy.

SIX DIFFERENT STANDS IN NINE YEARS

Government Maintains Same Stand today it Took in 1905—Maritime Provinces Must be Consulted.

Special to The Standard
Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 24.—"If in the interests of another of the provinces it be deemed advisable to make further grant to the Dominion Government for provincial purposes such action should only be taken as part of a general re-arrangement of financial arrangements in which all the provinces should have an opportunity to participate. If the needs of the western provinces call for additional financial grants (and I have no doubt such is the case) the national resources should get in line with the needs of the western provinces. I do not know the ground that these should not be considered. But I do, in justice to the other provinces, urge that their claims be equitably dealt with at the same time. Such was the clear-cut statement of Hon. George Murray, the Liberal premier of Nova Scotia, made to Premier Borden, when asked his opinion as to what should be done with regard to the matter of handing over to provincial control the national resources of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The premiers of these three provinces have asked the federal government to hand over to them the national resources and at the same time maintain the payment of the annual sum which Sir Wilfrid Laurier arranged these provinces should get in line of their resources. This was absurd of course and Mr. Borden asked the premiers of the three maritime provinces for their opinions on the subject. The opinion of Premier Murray in such a case is significant. Mr. Buchanan, the Liberal member for Medicine Hat, introduced the question in the House today.

When the autonomy bills were being drafted in 1905, Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not think it the wisest thing to hand over these lands, and made other financial terms. The Conservatives, led by Mr. Borden, strongly favored the transferring of the lands to the provincial governments, and Mr. Borden incorporated this principle into his Halifax platform, and made the demand an issue in the west during the election of 1911. No one believed of course that Mr. Borden contemplated handing over all these natural resources without certain conditions being attached to his generosity.

In 1905, and for several years afterwards the Liberal leaders in Alberta and Saskatchewan expressed their views as being those of the west, and the terms of the autonomy act, but in 1911, after the Conservatives came into office, there came a remarkable change; remembering Mr. Borden's promises, they suddenly took very advanced ground and demanded that the federal government hand over to them all their natural resources.

Liberal Change of Heart

The Prime Minister, in replying to Mr. Buchanan, was in good debating form and rallied the Liberals sharply upon their inconsistency in regard to such an important question. They had in nine years, stood for six different things. These could be divided like this:

1. They declared that the financial terms which they made under the autonomy bills were more generous than if the lands had been handed over to the provinces.
2. They claimed that the question had been settled over and over again by the people of Saskatchewan and Alberta when they returned to power under Liberal administrations, thus ratifying the terms of the autonomy act, and that they were overjoyed by the sincerity and wisdom of anyone who doubted the wisdom of their settlement.
3. They acquiesced by the fact that when the boundaries of Manitoba were extended in the following year, the lands were not handed over to the province and the swamp lands were taken away from it.
4. They next asked that a portion of the natural resources be transferred to the provinces.
5. After the Conservatives came into office they made rapid advances and asked for all the natural resources.
6. They now asked not only for all the natural resources, but that the provinces should be allowed to retain the financial subsidy allotted to them by the acts of 1905.

Would Mr. Buchanan explain these rapid changes, asked the Premier, it stood where it did in 1905. He was still in favor of handing over to the provinces their natural resources, but there were certain conditions to which the western provinces must assent, and the maritime provinces had to be consulted with regard to any changes which would be necessitated in the financial arrangements.

In the House today W. W. Buchanan of Medicine Hat, brought up the question of the transfer of the natural resources to the western provinces, which had been promised, he said, by Premier Borden in his Halifax platform and in the 1911 campaign generally to defeat reciprocity.

The fact that the western provinces had elected Liberals was not sufficient reason for not carrying out this policy. It was now time for Mr. Borden to say what he was going to do in the matter. During the last election in Saskatchewan provincial elections, this natural resources question had been used as a bribe to force the people to vote Conservative. R. B. Bennett of Calgary had told his constituents he would not be bound to support the present government if it did not keep its promise in this regard. Premier Borden in his Halifax platform and also asked for it. If the provinces had control of their resources, Alberta would be able to prevent the export of its natural gas.

It might be well for the hon. member to take a look at himself and his friends before he throws charges as to our sincerity, across the house," said Premier Borden. The hon. member in 1905 had strongly advocated the retention of the natural resources by Canada, when new western provinces were created on the same financial terms; he should tell why he had experienced such a change of heart. In 1905 it was the (Mr. Borden) who stated the nature of the promise made to the natural resources to the provinces. The Prime Minister then turned to the attention of the Conservative party on the question. He stood where he had stood in 1905. The Halifax platform had declared for restoration of the financial arrangements between the Dominion and the provinces. The inter-provincial conference last summer would have taken the question up and discussed it as a problem affecting the entire nation. The hon. member had certain rights in the matter.

QUESTIONS OF RESOURCES

Premier Borden Balances Opposition for Facility With Which They Change Policy.

SIX DIFFERENT STANDS IN NINE YEARS

Government Maintains Same Stand today it Took in 1905—Maritime Provinces Must be Consulted.

Special to The Standard
Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 24.—"If in the interests of another of the provinces it be deemed advisable to make further grant to the Dominion Government for provincial purposes such action should only be taken as part of a general re-arrangement of financial arrangements in which all the provinces should have an opportunity to participate. If the needs of the western provinces call for additional financial grants (and I have no doubt such is the case) the national resources should get in line with the needs of the western provinces. I do not know the ground that these should not be considered. But I do, in justice to the other provinces, urge that their claims be equitably dealt with at the same time. Such was the clear-cut statement of Hon. George Murray, the Liberal premier of Nova Scotia, made to Premier Borden, when asked his opinion as to what should be done with regard to the matter of handing over to provincial control the national resources of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The premiers of these three provinces have asked the federal government to hand over to them the national resources and at the same time maintain the payment of the annual sum which Sir Wilfrid Laurier arranged these provinces should get in line of their resources. This was absurd of course and Mr. Borden asked the premiers of the three maritime provinces for their opinions on the subject. The opinion of Premier Murray in such a case is significant. Mr. Buchanan, the Liberal member for Medicine Hat, introduced the question in the House today.

When the autonomy bills were being drafted in 1905, Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not think it the wisest thing to hand over these lands, and made other financial terms. The Conservatives, led by Mr. Borden, strongly favored the transferring of the lands to the provincial governments, and Mr. Borden incorporated this principle into his Halifax platform, and made the demand an issue in the west during the election of 1911. No one believed of course that Mr. Borden contemplated handing over all these natural resources without certain conditions being attached to his generosity.

In 1905, and for several years afterwards the Liberal leaders in Alberta and Saskatchewan expressed their views as being those of the west, and the terms of the autonomy act, but in 1911, after the Conservatives came into office, there came a remarkable change; remembering Mr. Borden's promises, they suddenly took very advanced ground and demanded that the federal government hand over to them all their natural resources.

Liberal Change of Heart

The Prime Minister, in replying to Mr. Buchanan, was in good debating form and rallied the Liberals sharply upon their inconsistency in regard to such an important question. They had in nine years, stood for six different things. These could be divided like this:

1. They declared that the financial terms which they made under the autonomy bills were more generous than if the lands had been handed over to the provinces.
2. They claimed that the question had been settled over and over again by the people of Saskatchewan and Alberta when they returned to power under Liberal administrations, thus ratifying the terms of the autonomy act, and that they were overjoyed by the sincerity and wisdom of anyone who doubted the wisdom of their settlement.
3. They acquiesced by the fact that when the boundaries of Manitoba were extended in the following year, the lands were not handed over to the province and the swamp lands were taken away from it.
4. They next asked that a portion of the natural resources be transferred to the provinces.
5. After the Conservatives came into office they made rapid advances and asked for all the natural resources.
6. They now asked not only for all the natural resources, but that the provinces should be allowed to retain the financial subsidy allotted to them by the acts of 1905.

Would Mr. Buchanan explain these rapid changes, asked the Premier, it stood where it did in 1905. He was still in favor of handing over to the provinces their natural resources, but there were certain conditions to which the western provinces must assent, and the maritime provinces had to be consulted with regard to any changes which would be necessitated in the financial arrangements.

In the House today W. W. Buchanan of Medicine Hat, brought up the question of the transfer of the natural resources to the western provinces, which had been promised, he said, by Premier Borden in his Halifax platform and in the 1911 campaign generally to defeat reciprocity.

The fact that the western provinces had elected Liberals was not sufficient reason for not carrying out this policy. It was now time for Mr. Borden to say what he was going to do in the matter. During the last election in Saskatchewan provincial elections, this natural resources question had been used as a bribe to force the people to vote Conservative. R. B. Bennett of Calgary had told his constituents he would not be bound to support the present government if it did not keep its promise in this regard. Premier Borden in his Halifax platform and also asked for it. If the provinces had control of their resources, Alberta would be able to prevent the export of its natural gas.

It might be well for the hon. member to take a look at himself and his friends before he throws charges as to our sincerity, across the house," said Premier Borden. The hon. member in 1905 had strongly advocated the retention of the natural resources by Canada, when new western provinces were created on the same financial terms; he should tell why he had experienced such a change of heart. In 1905 it was the (Mr. Borden) who stated the nature of the promise made to the natural resources to the provinces. The Prime Minister then turned to the attention of the Conservative party on the question. He stood where he had stood in 1905. The Halifax platform had declared for restoration of the financial arrangements between the Dominion and the provinces. The inter-provincial conference last summer would have taken the question up and discussed it as a problem affecting the entire nation. The hon. member had certain rights in the matter.

Classified Advertising

One cent per word each insertion. Discount of 33 1/3 per cent on advertisements running one week or longer if paid in advance. Minimum charge 25 cents.

WANTED.

WANTED to buy all kinds of 810 and 30 to travel with manager. Pay weekly. Apply to F. W. Moon, Windsor Hotel 9-11 a. m. today.

SALESMEN—Sell equivalent of coal at $4 per ton. City office now opening. Apply Box 31, Standard Office.

WANTED—Two single men, age 20 to 30 to travel with manager. Pay weekly. Apply to F. W. Moon, Windsor Hotel 9-11 a. m. today.

WANTED AT ONCE—A foreman and mill-wright for Gaspe, Que. None but first class men need apply. Address Drawer 33, Chatham, N. B., stating salary required, where last employed and giving references.

WANTED—Two engineers for Tug Boats of 18 normal H. P. Address, giving experience, references and wages expected, Miramichi Lumber Company, Chatham, N. B.

WANTED—Agents to sell boxes for immediate delivery and 1914 delivery. Apply to F. W. Moon, 56 Princess street, St. John, N. B.

HOTELS.

ROYAL HOTEL

King Street.
St. John's Landing Hotel.
RAYMOND & DOHERTY CO., LTD
T. B. Reynolds, Manager.

HOTEL DUFFERIN

ST. JOHN, N. B.
FOSTER, GATES & CO.
F. C. GATES... Manager

CLIFTON HOUSE

H. E. GREEN, Proprietor.
Corner Germain and Princess Streets
ST. JOHN, N. B.

VICTORIA HOTEL

Better Now Than Ever.
87 King Street, St. John, N. B.
ST. JOHN HOTEL CO., LTD.
Proprietors.
A. M. PHILLIPS, Manager.

SITUATIONS VACANT.

WANTED—By a well established life insurance company, a superintendent of agents. Address Box N. St. John, N. B., stating experience and qualifications.

AGENTS WANTED—Salesmen $50 per week, selling one-hand egg-batter. Sample and terms 25c. Money refunded if unsatisfactory. Collette Mfg. Company, Collingwood, Ont.

LEARN BARBER TRADE—Few weeks required; tools free; position secured; Molar system; twenty-two years established; modern method of teaching; write for particulars—J. O. LAR BARBER, COLLEGE, 62F, St. Lawrence Blvd., Montreal.

WINES AND LIQUORS.

RICHARD SULLIVAN & CO.

Established 1878.
Wholesale Wine and Spirit Merchants
Agents for
MACKIE'S WHITE HORSE CELLAR
SCOTCH WHISKY.
LAWSON'S LIQUEUR SCOTCH WHISKY.
SIMPSON'S HOUSE OF LORDS
SCOTCH WHISKY.
KING GEORGE IV. SCOTCH WHISKY.
AUK'S HEAD BASS ALE.
FAIRBANKS' LAGER BEER.
GEO. SAYER COGNAC BRANDIES.
Bonded Store, 44-46 Dock Street,
Phone 539.

M. & T. MCGUIRE.

Direct Importers and dealers in all the leading brands of Wines and Liquors; we also carry in stock from the best houses in Canada, very Old Rye Wines, Ales and Stout, imported and Domestic Cigars.
11 and 15 Water Street
Telephone 579.

MALE HELP WANTED

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN, BRAKEMEN, wages about $100; experience unnecessary. Send age, postage, railway, care Standard.

FOR SALE.
SEWING MACHINE NEEDLES, all kinds, half dozen 17c, by mail; new style Singer Hand Machine, $12; Wilcox & Gibbs automatic tension Machine, $15; New Home and other Machines, very low cash prices; Domestic and other machines repaired; one good Typewriter cheap; William Crawford, 105 Princess street, St. John, N. B.

BLACK FOXES.
FOR SALE—One pair of Black Foxes two years old. (Breeder's) raised in last season; will guarantee litter five last season; also ranch free till September 1st. Apply H. B. WEEKS, North Tryon.

FOR SALE—A good lot of work horses and one or two drivers. Apply The Hibbard Co., Limited, Fredericton, N. B.

SAWMILL PROPERTY FOR SALE OR RENT—Steam and water power plant in Victoria County is being offered at very low cost for immediate sale. Suitable terms can be made for renting, sawing out this season's cut of spruce and hardwood. Capacity about three million feet. For further particulars write P. O. Box 376, St. John, N. B.

FOR SALE—Fifty ash sleighs for sale at Edgemoor's, send for prices and catalogue. Edgemoor's, 115 City Road.

ENGINEERING

Electric Motor and Generator Repairs, including rewinding. We try to keep your plant running while making repairs.
E. S. STEPHENSON & CO.
Nelson street. St. John, N. B.

J. FRED WILLIAMSON

MACHINIST AND ENGINEER.
Steamboat, Mill and General Repair Work.
INDIANTOWN, ST. JOHN, N. B.
Phones, M-229; residence M-1724-11.
Telephone 982.

Musical Instruments Repaired

VIOLINS, MANDOLINS and all stringed instruments and bows repaired.
SYDNEY WEBB
41 Sydney street.

ERNEST LAW

WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER
Hamilton, Waltham and other high grade watches in stock.
Issuer of Marriage Licenses.
NO. 3 COBURG STREET.
PUBLIC NOTICE.
A Bill will be presented for enactment at the next session of the Legislature entitled "An Act to exempt the Harbor-Master of the City of Saint John from liability in certain cases." The object of such Bill is to enable the harbor-master to remove condemned vessels from any part of the City of Saint John without being liable for any further damage which may be occasioned by such vessel. Saint John, N. B., 11th February, A. D. 1914.
HERBERT E. WARDROP, Common Clerk.

This is the feather-weight loaf of snow-like purity, golden-domed and lofty, porous, satin crumb—of course you use FINE ROSES. Last of the House Flour Co. Ltd.

Fine Roses Flour

Not Bleached Not Starched

When through old age the bodily functions become sluggish, Na-Dru-Co Laxatives give gentle, timely and effective aid, without discomfort or distress. 25c. a box at your Druggist's. 173 National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited.

TENDER

Sealed tenders will be received by the undersigned up to 12 o'clock, noon, Thursday, March 5th, for carpenter work, mason work, painting and glazing, heating and plumbing and iron work in connection with the erection of a Tuberculosis Hospital and Power House for the Commission of the St. John County Hospital to be situated on Merritt street, St. John, N. B. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted. The specifications may be seen at the office of the undersigned. F. NEIL BRODIE, Architect, 42 Princess St., St. John, N. B.

NOTICE.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that a Bill will be presented for enactment at the next session of the Provincial Legislature entitled "An Act respecting the paving of Streets and Sidewalks in the City of Saint John." The objects desired to be attained by this Bill are:
(1) To enable the City of Saint John to pave any street or portion of street or sidewalk and charge one half of the cost of the same against the properties fronting on both sides of the streets, the City paying the other half of such cost.
(2) To enable the said City to lay down sidewalks and charge one half of the cost thereof to the owners of the properties abutting on such sidewalks.
(3) To provide that no owner of any building shall permit water to be discharged or to escape or percolate therefrom, upon or through any street, other than by a properly constructed underground drain or conduit discharging into a public sewer.
Dated at Saint John, N. B., the 30th day of January A. D. 1914.
HERBERT E. WARDROP, Common Clerk.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

that application will be made by the Council of Physicians and Surgeons of New Brunswick to the Legislative Assembly of New Brunswick at its next session to amend the New Brunswick Medical Act so as to increase the fees on Matriculation Examinations to $40.00, and the Registration Fee to $30.00. Also to permit one payment of $100.00 in lieu of the Annual Registration Fee of $10.00.
Dated this 19th day of February, 1914.
POWELL & HARRISON, Solicitors for Applicants.

NOTICE.

The "NEW BRUNSWICK HYDRO-ELECTRIC COMPANY" will present for enactment at the ensuing session of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of New Brunswick an Act in amendment of their Charter, substituting the words "Ten Million Dollars" for the words "One Million, Five Hundred Thousand Dollars" in clause (d) of section 10 of said Act.

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN IN CHARGE WENT TO POLES YESTERDAY

Chicago, Feb. 24.—Thousands of Chicago women had their first real experience today with the vote, and took part in the actual nomination of candidates for the city council. There was some excitement in wards in which women candidates were running in opposition to men. Signs and placards were everywhere, and the women candidates were hustled for votes in approved political fashion. Five of the eight women candidates were unopposed in their party and their nomination was certain. Among them was Miss Marion Drake, who has been the Progressive ticket in the spring election against the present alderman of the first ward, John P. (Bathhouse) Coughlin.

TRAVELING LAUNDRY. HOTEL ARRIVALS.

Dufferin.
Peter Farrell, Fredericton; C. H. Bull, do; A. Donovan, New York; A. E. McKelvey, New York; F. Podoley, Cleveland; Wm. H. Dalrymple, Boston, Mass.; A. E. Brooks, Halifax; F. L. Doyle, Moncton; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Brown, Winnipeg; J. M. A. London,