BIG FEATURE FILM AT UNIQUE THEATRE

"The Play's the Thing" won hearty approval of successive happy audiences—
Excellent comedy also

The film features at the Unique crowded houses at each performance yesterday and all who saw "The Play's the Thing" felt fully repaid and all were loud in their praise of the fine scenes and acting as presented on the curtain. This feature was shown exclusively at the Unique and formed one of the best entertainments presented at the "tidy little" Charlotte street house during its present season. The management has been untiring in its effort to secure the best possible film service for the Unique and the performance yesterday was evidence of the successful carrying out of the policy. The duel in the final scenes brought out some very clever acting and the duel itself had a realistic turn that is not usually seen on the stage. "A Misplaced Foot" was the laugh producing part of the entertainment presented yesterday and the different scenes were the cause of much merriment. The whole entertainment will be repeated today.

Church Loss $250.

GILLET'S LYE
EATS DIRT

At a club meeting held in a public house in a small village a discussion took place as to whether a hard soft substance would last the longer. The debate continued for some time, until one man spoke up and said: "Now men, you are all mistaken, as I can easily prove. When me and my wife married she had as good a set of teeth as any woman could have. Now she hasn't got one, and her tongue is as good as ever."

Taking Him Down.
A big boy named Coles, who was inclined to suffer from "swollen head," strolled into the classroom at school, looking as though he owned the earth.

The master looked at him long and hard.

"What is your name?" he asked at last.

"Coles, sir," answered the confident youth.

"Very well then, Coles you may scuttle," was the unexpected reply.

Worst shipping disaster in history of that section —Eight of victims from Caracquet.

Quebec, June 8.—About forty fishing schooners were lost with a loss of life amounting to twenty. A disaster caused last Friday night by a severe storm that swept the coast of northern New Brunswick and Bay Chaleur.

Mostly all the wrecks boats were driven ashore on Miscon and Shilpagan islands, and those points being rather remote, news of the disaster was slow in coming. Twenty fishermen are reported drowned and of these the bodies of eight were taken to Caracquet, N. B., this morning. All the recovered bodies are those of French-Canadian fishermen.

Considerable damage was caused to property along the coast and in Bay Chaleur. During a severe storm on Friday night the fleet of fishing vessels on the North Shore of the province was badly crippled and reports vary concerning the number which have been lost. Though it is definitely known that nine men have been drowned, eight from Caracquet, N. B., and one from St. Simons.

The reports which reached the city yesterday morning said that at least forty small fishing vessels had gone down in the storm which raged along the coast. Some of the crews of one or the other of the smacks were rescued by the more sturdy of the little fleet, but it was impossible owing to their being so widely scattered, to save all. No less than five bodies were buried this morning at Caracquet, and many more have been recovered by the disaster which is one of the worst in the shipping history of the North Shore.

The latest word with regard to the loss in the storm on Friday on the North Shore was to the effect that two vessels had gone down and a third was missing. Nine men were reported saved and the crew of the missing schooner had not been heard from. Eight of the men were from Caracquet and one from St. Simons, while each of the vessels was from the former place.

On board each of the schooners a father and two sons went to watery grave. Joseph Caracquet was the master of one of the little vessels, and his two sons John and Arthur sailed with him. All three were drowned. The neighbor named Dugas also. The master of the other schooner was R. S. Albert, and his two sons, Larcin and John, were missing. The third vessel was the father and another man, Oliver Paulin.

In the fleet which was out on Friday, there were about thirty or forty vessels from ports all along the northern coast. With the exception of the three in question, all the crews were saved, and while there were some rows and regret over the loss of the nine who were drowned, there was rejoicing over the return of the crews. Some of the two schooners is thought to have taken place off Miscon Point, some miles farther along the coast from Caracquet.

WILL UNVEIL PORTRAITS OF EMINENT JURISTS

Fredericton, June 8.—When the June sittings of the appeal division of the Supreme Court opens tomorrow the walls of the court chamber will be adorned by a portrait, about life size, in oil, of the late Sir James Carter, who was the last chief justice sent by the imperial government to preside over the supreme court. This painting, which is claimed to be an excellent portrait of the distinguished jurist, is a gift which was received from the deceased's son, Col. James Colebrook Carter, now residing in England, who visited New Brunswick last summer. The late Sir James Carter was for thirty-three years on the bench.

A portrait of Sir Frederick Barker will also be unveiled.

Indigestion and Headaches

Arising From Constipation, Cured and Regular Habits Established by Dr.
Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

In the western Provinces, where so many thousands live far from doctors and drug stores, very many rely on Dr. Chase's medicines to cure disease and maintain health and strength. This letter gives some idea of what perfect control Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills exert over the most common ills of life.

Mrs. H. K. Hower, farmer's wife, Eastburg, Alta., writes: "For ten years I suffered from constipation, indigestion, headache and lumbago. Treatment from two or three doctors afforded only temporary relief, so I turned to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and with most satisfactory results. Headaches have disappeared, regular habits established and general health very much better. Both my husband and I can speak highly of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, as we have both been greatly benefited by them." The Canadian Mail Service Superior

Ottawa, June 8.—A bill to exclude from Canada all aliens north of the fortieth parallel of latitude was introduced by Mr. H. H. Stevens of Vancouver, in the House of Commons this morning. The effect is to exclude all aliens except Russians. The agreement with Japan is excepted by a special clause and provision is made for other Asiatic governments to make similar agreements with the Canadian government.

Mr. Stevens said that he gave due weight to imperial reasons against exclusion, but that he based his bill on the right of self-protection, which Lord Curzon agreed to in the self-governing colonies. He asked that if the bill should not pass this session the government should make strong representations in London to Canada's right to control immigration. Sir Wilfrid Laurier asked what course the government proposed to adopt.

Mr. Borden answered that he had not heard the terms of the bill when it was introduced. He would look it over in Hansard and consider the matter.

"Until doomsday," remarked Sir Wilfrid.

At the opening of the afternoon session Mr. A. K. McLean called to the superiority of Halifax over St. John as the landing point for the trans-Atlantic mails. He read a memorial from the Halifax Board of Trade which claimed that Halifax had an advantage on the average of twelve hours and forty-three minutes over St. John for mails from Liverpool to Montreal. He pointed out that the mail contract last year had provided that the steamship company should be left free to choose the port at which it would land mail but that he was convinced that the government had used its influence to secure the transfer of the Royal line steamers from Halifax to St. John.

P. B. McCurdy of Queen's-Shelburne, agreed with Mr. McLean as to the superiority of Halifax as a port of call but affirmed that there was no evidence to show that the government had exercised any influence in connection with the C. N. R. steamships. He said that the government had exercised its influence to the detriment of Halifax. He then went on to discuss the port of call. He said that the government had exercised its influence to the detriment of Halifax. He then went on to discuss the port of call.

St. John Will be Given Consideration.
Mr. Hazen thought if the people of Halifax and St. John would pay less attention to quarrelling and more to getting together so as to arrive at some unanimity it would be better for all concerned. Mr. Hazen said that St. John for years had been a port of call for the mail carriers and that the government had exercised its influence to the detriment of Halifax. He then went on to discuss the port of call.

as compared with four ships formerly, the additional cost being $400,000. He regretted that owing to the delay in the completion of the Albatross and the Canadian service had been injured, but with these boats it would be as good as the New York service, but for the loss of the Empress of Ireland.

The distance from Canadian ports is shorter than from New York, which makes up for faster boats which ply from that port. Mr. Pelletier said that the New York boats were really responsible for the complaint because the British postal authorities owing to the absence of the Albatross and the Canadian refusal to send letter mail by the Canadian route. He appreciated the fact that the loss of the Empress of Ireland would hurt the service as the Empress was a typical summer ship. The Postmaster General denied that the New York service would have to be utilized to a considerable degree. St. John had got the double cross in regard to mail matters. An arrangement had been made to send letter mail by the Canadian route. This could not be done, however, so the bulk of the letters for Canada via New York.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that despite the disaster to the Empress he continued to be a great believer in the Canadian route. The C.P.R. could not be expected to replace this boat at once with another as good. But this enterprising company would undoubtedly soon supply a good vessel. He confidently believed that the disaster to be held would show that the disaster which has occurred could have happened under similar conditions in the middle of the Atlantic.

Selection of Port Was in Hands of Companies.

Premier Borden said that the sending of mails from London was governed by a considerable degree by the rules of the International Postal Union. Turning to the Halifax-St. John dispute it was but natural that there should be rivalry between these two cities. The government was accused by both cities of interference. The arrangement in regard to mails of last year, however, left the selection of ports entirely to the companies and the department had nothing to do with the choice. As to the Gutelius agreement it was but natural that the people of Halifax should feel that they should not be excluded from all the benefits which have accrued to Canada as the result of the construction of the C.P.R. Mr. Borden said he was convinced that the choice of ports was an appropriate agreement does not discriminate either against Halifax or St. John.

It was only natural for Mr. Gutelius to desire an agreement which would not prove to be a losing proposition for the I. C. R. As to the mails he said that the choice of ports was an appropriate agreement does not discriminate either against Halifax or St. John.

ALMA LEVES HER ADDRESS WITH ST. JOHN

"Alma, Where do You Live?" the attraction at the Opera House—Clever and distinctly "Frenchy"

After a comprehensive look at "Alma," as portrayed by Miss Nellie Wilson on the Opera House stage last evening, one could easily understand why the men encountered on the street by that young lady should stop to propound the question which forms the title of the attraction holding the boards at the Opera House for the second night of the week. Miss Wilson is a pulchritudinous peach and she does not hesitate to prove it to the satisfaction of her audience.

Described as a "French vandyke," Alma Where do You Live, deserves the name. It carries the usual amount of spice but is cleverly done. Though lacking a chorus it is a typical summer show and only once in a while does it display a tendency to become sultry.

Miss Wilson has a nice singing voice and acts well but she could almost get the part "across" on the strength of her appearance and govt. The cleverest member of the company is Mr. Alexander Loftus, the comedian. His humor is uncanny and infectious and every situation coming to him he handled with the skill of a real artist. Particularly good was he in the second and last acts, although his scenes with Alma were side-splitting.

As Count Bolivar, Jean de Goussac did excellent character work. His dialect could not have been improved upon and throughout he was the ideal jealous Frenchman. Will J. Adams also did well as the detective.

Steve W. Stott as Pierre La Peach sang several numbers in a sweet tenor voice. He was also convincing in his duet and trio, his voice being heard to advantage in both numbers. He also sang a number of songs in a duet with Alma. Mr. Forbes and Mr. Mackenzie were capable in minor parts.

Miss Helen Tilden as Louise had a beautiful selection of songs and did them all very well. She also danced nicely but was evidently ill advised as to the John climate for her costume in the second and last acts was rather flimsy even for summer in this latitude.

Although the production was cleverly put on. It abounds in catchy whistleable music and while little of it is of distinct merit yet it is fully enough to keep the audience interested. There are many quantities of comedy in the offering and it is well cared for. Also there are opportunities for the display of effective gowns and hosiery none of which are neglected. The pruning of the Empress of Ireland disaster, but he believed that the C. P. R. would do everything possible to replace that steamer without delay.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux said that the people of Canada were compelled to drink the cup of humiliation. Last year the postmaster-general had announced this new arrangement as a step to bring Canada nearer to the Motherland. It stated at the time, remarked Mr. Lemieux, "when the names of the vessels were announced that the postmaster general was not a very high stepped and my prediction has come true. We are paying $400,000 more for this service and people on both sides of the Atlantic are complaining of it as a disaster."

Mr. Lemieux then read a letter by Robert Glasgow of Toronto to the editor of the London Times, who described the present mail service as irregular and stupid and a wholly unnecessary handicap on business between the motherland and Canada.

Mr. Pelletier deprecated Mr. Lemieux's attempt to give a black eye to the service which his own leader had said that Canada should strain a point to maintain.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Summer

These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the heating sun, are severe on any skin. Their depolishing effects are best overcome by the application of pure cerotized wax. This keeps skin and pores in a clean condition, the complexion naturally bright and spotless. Discoloring, freckles and roughened outside are actually absorbed by it. One ounce of cerotized wax, obtainable in any drugstore, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, and washed off in the morning.

The skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good cerotized lotion should be used. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered cerotized wax in 4 pint witch hazel. Rub the face in this during the day, or before going out for bare skin, or social affairs. It is a remarkable skin tightener and wrinkle eraser.
