

The Daily Tribune.

VOL. II.

SAINT JOHN, N. B. SATURDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 11, 1873.

No. 248

THE DAILY TRIBUNE

Is issued every afternoon from the office, No. 51 Prince William Street.

Subscription Price $5 per annum in advance. Single Copies two cents.

Regular Carriers will deliver the paper to Subscribers in the City, at their places of business or residences, immediately after it is issued.

MAIL SUBSCRIBERS can secure the DAILY TRIBUNE (postage pre-paid) at $6.25, or $6, postage paid at office of delivery.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE is issued every TUESDAY MORNING, and mailed in time for the early morning train, East and West.

Subscription Price ONE DOLLAR, invariably in ADVANCE. Postage must be paid at the office of delivery.

ADVERTISING RATES.—The following are the rates charged for Transient Advertisements in THE TRIBUNE:

For Advertisements of Governments, Corporations, Railways and Steamboat Companies and other public bodies,—for Theatres, Concerts, Lectures and other public entertainments, first insertion, $1.00; each subsequent insertion 50 cents.

For ordinary mercantile transient advertising, first insertion, 50 cents; each subsequent insertion, 30 cents. Advertisements of Employment Wanted, Help Wanted, Agents Wanted, Rooms Wanted, Articles Lost, Articles Found, Houses to Let, Lectures, Removals, &c., inserted in condensed form, not exceeding five lines, at 25 cents each insertion, and few cents for each additional line.

Marriage Notices, 50 cts.; Deaths 25 cts.; Funeral Notices 25 cts., for each insertion.

Contracts for advertising BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL CARDS, GENERAL BUSINESS, LAND SALES, &c., for long or short periods, may be made at the counting room, on the most liberal terms.

Contracts for yearly advertising will secure all the advantages of Transient advertisements at a very much lower rate.

Advertisers in THE DAILY TRIBUNE will insure proper display and accuracy in their advertisements by sending the manuscript to the counting room, 51 Prince William Street.

Merchants, Manufacturers and others are respectfully solicited to consider the claims of THE DAILY TRIBUNE in the distribution of their advertising patronage. The Tribune has already secured a large circulation in the city, while the sales on the afternoon trains, East and West, are not exceeded by any other Daily.

A WOMAN'S REVELATION.

My husband came tenderly to my side. "Are you going out this evening, love?" "Of course I am!"

I looked down complacently at my dress of pink crepe, low-dropped over with crystals and the trails of pink azaleas that caught up its folds here and there. A diamond bracelet encircled one round white arm, and a little cross blazed faithfully at my throat. I had never looked better, and I felt a girlish pride as my eye met the fairy reflection in the mirror.

"Come, Gerald, make haste!—why, you haven't begun to dress yet!"

Where were my wifely instincts that I did not see the haggard, drawn look in his features—the fevered light in his eyes?

"I can't go to-night, Madeline—I am not well enough."

"You are never well enough to oblige me, Gerald. I am tired of being put out with such excuses."

He made no answer, but dropped his head in his hand on the table before him.

"Oh, come, Gerald," I urged impatiently. "You are so awkward for me to go alone always."

He shook his head listlessly.

"I thought perhaps you would be willing to remain at home with me, Madeline."

"Men are so selfish!" I said, plaintively; "and I am all dressed. Claudia took half an hour for my hair. I dare say you'll be a great deal quieter without me—that is, if you are determined not to go."

No answer again.

"Well, if you choose to be sullen, I can't help it," I said, lightly, as I turned and went out of the room, adjusting my silver boquet-holder, the taberoses and self-portraits seeming to distill incense at every motion.

Was I heartless and cruel? Had I ceased to love my husband? From the bottom of my heart I believed that I loved him as truly and tenderly as ever with my whole soul, but I had been so spoiled and petted all my brief selfish life, that the better in me was so to speak, numbed alive.

I went to the party, and had my fill of admiration and honors for the rest of the evening, and I could catch now and then a glimpse of my husband, who looked pale and weary, and I could catch now and then a glimpse of my husband, who looked pale and weary.

"I think the trials and vicissitudes through which we have passed are well worth the price of the precious treasure of my second wife."

"That was what Gerald answered me, the sweetest words that ever fell upon my ear."
