

Index

Foch, Marshal (continued)

- plans for a counter-offensive, 70
- preparations for final advance, 214
- under a cloud, 4, 86
- Fontaine-Notre Dame, 157
- Fort of the Roman Camp, the, 119
- Fourth British Army, operations of, 91, 103 et seq., 113 et seq., 141, 147, 153, 159, 161, 163, 199, 200, 201, 204, 205, 207, 219, 221
- (See also Rawlinson)
- France, a tribute to her army, 250
- after the battle of Sedan, 210
- arrival of first American Divisions in, 17
- defensive system of eastern frontier of, 119
- diminishing man-power of, 17
- importance of Channel ports to, 29
- the battle of, 181 (note)
- GAZA, Allenby's victory at, 2, 18
- George, Lloyd, a famous speech of, 6
- and the Western front in the spring of 1918, 25
- becomes Minister of Munitions, 135
- characteristics of, 71
- his action on Allied organisation, 4, 12
- his faith in Foch, 63
- proposal to transfer British Army to Balkans, 242
- German arrangements for advance on Paris, 93
- attack on Third and Fifth Armies, 34
- campaign in the West, defeat of, 53
- Crown Prince, the, 61, 62, 69, 110
- begins second battle of the Marne, 110
- unsuccessful attempt to capture Verdun, 154
- defensive system: the spinal cord of, 146
- dread of tanks, 143
- reception of their defeated troops, 223
- regiments: strength of, 226 (note)
- underground barracks, a, 138
- war strength in 1918, 27

- Germans, a cardinal blunder of, 2
- a determined push by, 29
- abandon outpost system of defence, 136 (note)
- admit defeat, 223
- an example of mentality of, 197
- Bolshevist tendencies in soldiers returned from Russia, 127
- bombard Paris, 62
- capture the line of the Somme, 41
- diminishing artillery- and man-power of, 122, 123, 125
- drive back the British Fifth Army, 10
- evacuate forest of Bourgogne, 216
- fighting strength of, 84
- "kultur" of, 132, 210
- move troops from Russian front, 7, 17, 174
- reinforcements from the Eastern front, 17
- retire behind Hindenburg line, 1, 186
- their scientific plans in warfare, 85-6
- their second defeat at the Marne, 102
- Germany, Ludendorff's frank advice to, 111
- misunderstands psychology of Americans, 68
- the Kaiser's pronouncement on parliamentary government, 166
- Givenchy, the 55th West Lancashire Division at, 48
- Gneisenau and Blücher, 16
- Gough, a baseless charge against, 39
- a combination of untoward events concerning, 34 et seq.
- falls back to the Somme, 39
- forms a reinforcing force, 44
- his rear lines of defence, 39
- Gough's Fifth Army, operations of, 10, 29, 30, 31, 34, 37, 38, 40, 41, 45, 165, 197, 222
- (Cf. Fifth British Army)
- Gouraud, General, 146-7, 214
- attacks in the Champagne, 156
- brilliant defence of, 95
- crosses the Aisne, 207
- reaches Mézières, 217
- Grandpré, fall of, 207
- Grant, General, forms a reinforcing force, 44
- Great Britain, the importance of the Channel ports to, 29