

SOME QUESTIONS BEFORE THE LIT

A Fair Attendance at Students' Union Last Friday Evening.

THE MOCK PARLIAMENT

A Notice of Motion in Regard to College Functions—The Literary Program.

The Literary and Scientific Society meeting on Friday night was of fairly good attendance, in spite of the poor weather. A good programme was enjoyed after the business session. One of the important motions discussed was Mr. Cornish's desire that the society place itself on record as opposed to the introduction of intoxicating liquor at all College functions. He gave notice that he would place such a motion before the society at its next meeting.

Mr. Garvey proposed an oratorical contest, instead of the usual Mock Parliament, in November, but the amendment, retaining the old form of open meeting, was strongly supported. Messrs. A. N. Mitchell and Watson were elected leaders of Government and Opposition, respectively, and the date of the open meeting was fixed for November 17th. Mr. Cassidy, '01, defended, with some warmth, the Red Cross Fund, for the contingent, but was downed by Mr. Fisher, who held that if a trust in Providence was satisfactory in the case of Mr. Cornish's motion, a similar confidence would do Varsity credit in the contingent's question.

J. F. M. Stewart, '00, in a few well-chosen words, got permission to collect the price of some destroyed decorations at the Princess from the boys. He called it bunting, but some say it was box-cloth. It was stated that the general impression regarding the disorder at the Princess was that Varsity had an equal share in it, and that the newspapers of the city gave severe criticism to the students, as a whole. Messrs. Wilson, Stewart and McCredie spoke on the subject, and a motion was carried appointing a committee, Messrs. Wilson and Good, to see the city papers on the question, and formulate a protest against the implied injustice to Varsity.

The programme which followed was opened by Mr. Klotz with a brilliant piano solo, with an encore. J. A. Soule recited, and D. J. Davidson addressed the Lit. Amusing impromptu speeches were delivered by Messrs. Millman, Robertson, Stewart and Wallace. C. V. Dymont was to sing, but for some reason—the weather, presumably—didn't.

Dr. Wickett, who had occupied the rostrum with the President during the evening, addressed the Literary Society for a few moments before leaving. He is promised for a more pointed address in the near future.

ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE

St. Michael's Literary and Debating Society met as usual on Saturday evening. No member was absent; for all were anxious to hear the first debate of the year. The subject was, "Resolved, that novel-reading is injurious." The affirmative, Messrs. McAllister and Hopkins, used some very strong arguments, and deserve much credit for the eloquent manner in which they expressed their views; but their points all fell to earth before the fiery eloquence and clear logic of Owen Rowan and Matt. Wedlock. The judges, Messrs. Welsh, Staley and McGrath, decided in favor of the negative, to the satisfaction of all, except, perhaps, the affirmative.

The members of St. Charles Literary Society held their first meeting last Sunday. After an address of greeting by the Pres., Rev. J. A. Sullivan, C.S.B., the members proceeded to vote for Vice-Pres., and Mr. J. F. Dooley was elected by a large majority. Mr. H. Carr was appointed Secretary for the ensuing term. After an address by the newly-elected Vice-President, the society adjourned to meet November 14th.

St. Michael's II. added another game to their long list of victories by defeating St. Andrew's College last Saturday. It was a one-sided game, for the College was too much for the opponents in weight and head-work. In the first half the playing was mostly in St. Andrew's territory, until, finally, Sheridan got the ball and scored a touch down; after minutes had elapsed, he repeated the trick. In the second half the ball was kept in College territory, and after a half hour of playing, it was carried by Sheridan for another touch down. After this, the playing on St. Andrew's side was much better, but the backs were weak, and consequently the ball was worked to their ground, until, finally, Keefe scored a touch down. When time was called, the score was 16-0. The following lined up: T. Moylan, F.B.; H. Sheridan, C.H.B.; J. J. Cassidy, L.H.B.; L. Hopp, R.H.B.; J. Hayes, M. Quigley, C. Keefe, Scrimmage; A. Richard, S. Crocker, G. Tasher, Jack Carey, John Kelly, Wings; Ed. Cryne, C.B.; Umpire, Mr. W. Collins; Time-keeper, Mr. P. Cusick.

NOTES.

We were all up to see the Irishmen, Saturday.

Manager Carr has begun to talk hockey. The boys are glad to see Mr. Kennedy around again.

The boys played a game of Association last Monday, on Varsity's lawn, with Victoria II. The game was a good exhibition, the score being tie when time was called.

McCue and Pickett played great football for the College boys.

Alf. Foster is stopping in town for a few days, Oh?

H. Sheridan is playing great football for the College team. By the way, Harry is better again, his leg is working all right.

We play Trinity this week.

"Say Joe, 'He looks like a fellow leading a pony in a dog show.'"

Joe Caveny had quite a swelled head. The swelling is gradually going down.

Hinchy is back in class. He looked pretty "blue" there for a few days. "A little out-door exercise seemed to improve him wonderfully."—Doc.

"Bill O'Rourke got a letter after all. 'Didn't you, Stout?'"

"Doc." McGrath's troubles are just commencing.

Mick Martin and Dan O'Connor were occupants of the sick room for a few days.

"Put some sugar on your shoes and coax 'em down!"

He looks well in long "ones." Go and have 'em taken at Chick's!

"And Dooley went down in a heap. 'Did you see mine, yet?' 'Kel.'"

Because "Joe" has a big "tum."

"Stout" Stormont played at Hamilton last week. He says that the people up there didn't use him right; unfortunately, he got hurt. "Stay at home."

McCaffrey is a star.

Riley can't be beat.

"We all enjoyed ourselves."

They are not the wonderful players they are claimed to be—"Critic."

We can play 'em; yes, so can "others," but "they" can't be beaten.

"Who gave you the black eye, Kel? Never mind, old boy, cheer up."

"Comedian" Riley will appear for the first time this season in "Mr. Rough." He is no doubt supported by an excellent up-to-date company, including the world-renowned trio, Cryne, J. W. Kelly, and Mr. H. Sheridan.

It will happen in the "Hand and Ball Ally."

It is expected that the "boys" will all turn out, and that good order will prevail both in the "gods" and "balcony."

Mr. W. Stormont will act as "Property Man."

The words are from the pen of Mr. W. Thompson.

The "stage-hands" would like assistance, if necessary, from the audience, on account of the many scenes to be handled.

"Next attraction" will be published later.

Messrs. Powell, Pickett and Dooley showed the Meds. on Saturday how we could play handball. We were victors by a score of 28-15.

PHARMACY HALLOWE'EN

"Where's Trinity?" murmured the impatient ones, between yells, as Pharmacy's eternally fresh waited for marching orders in front of the O.C.P. Finally the orders came and the eager crowd, whooping, yelling and howling, marched along Gerrard as far as Dr. Chambers' house, where a momentary quiet dropped on them, only to be succeeded by a welkin-splitting whoop of appreciation and approval for that genial torch-bearer on the path of knowledge. Then "Forward! March!" came the ringing tones of Pharmacy's own Wright, and the column started for Yonge street, with the martial musical fish-horn in many, many mouths, and gay, fluttering of colors. "Half-left turn," sang out our cheery commander, and Pharmacy was fairly launched on the main artery of Ontario's metropolis.

"Hay foot! Straw foot!" roared some leather-lunged cynic, among the spectators, but we were basking in the electrically-lighted smiles of the fair ones, and heeded nothing but these, till we found the Meds. of Trinity lined up and ready to honor us by passing us through their invincible lines. Under crossed canes, and "The Black and Red," we passed with words of cheery greeting, warm approval, and friendly bantering, warming the cockles of our heart. So much so, that we could but raise our hats in token of deep respect and thankfulness for the friendship thus bestowed upon us. More than one Pharmacy man earnestly prayed that it might last into prescription-writing days. At last we passed from the protection of Trinity canes, and Heaven's gentle dropping of aqueous matter on our bare heads reminded us that we had hats, and what they were for. At the same time setting our horse sense working, which may in some little account for the rush for Trinity's division, No. 2. "We wanted to get in out of the rain." We passed through it all unharmed and scatheless, since we are wet-proof, and lined up to give Trinity a chance to come out of the drip. They gladly availed themselves of the opportunity thus magnanimously presented, and lifting their hats to the "Black, Yellow and Red," passed under Pharmacy cord-wood, with many misgivings as to the strength of our pestle-welding arms. No accidents occurred, and though we had, in several instances, to stand on tip-toe to allow the passage of some animated lightning-rods, we managed to crack no containers of medical lore.

This series of beautifully-executed movements put the Meds. in front. "Prescribers first, dispensers after the proper course of all proper medicine." They in due time, brought us to the Grand, where the combinations proposed celebrating Halloween in accordance with ancient practice and custom. Each part doing their best to add to the entertainment, and each giving the other all the show they wanted, and I presume each scribe is to keep his quill off the doings of the other scribes' particular fraternity. Though I should much like to expatiate on the decorations, programme and general excellence of Trinity's celebration.

The balcony, as usual, was divided between the Colleges, and Pharmacy should give its heartiest thanks to Mr. Suran for the able and tasteful manner in which he decorated their share of it. The boxes occupied by the Pharmacy Faculty and committee were especially tasteful, and reflect particular credit on the designer. In short, the whole scheme of decorations was complete, leaving nothing to be desired.

The feeling that they were in the swim, along this line, no doubt added much to the comfort of the boys, and enabled them to respond in heartiest tones to Trinity's yells, when Mr. Wright allowed them to sit at ease in the balcony chairs, before handing them over to Mr. Tassi, musical director. This interval was filled in with the usual production of pandemonium, consisting of the wild skirl of the five-cent bugle, the deep boom of the fish-horn, and the thundering of "yell" after "yell," together with wild welcome to each arriving member of the Faculty, which consisted of a unanimous decision by everybody, Pharmacy, that he was all right.

TRINITY MEDS

Trinity expected every man to turn out Halloween night. And every man did. Along with Pharmacy we honored the Grand Opera House with our company, at least that is what "Kit," says, and she ought to know, because she was there as our guest, and occupied the best box in the House. We occupied the gallery, and thanks to Mr. King and his committee, the House was very tastefully decorated with "Red and Black," while Pharmacy had their side decked with "Red, Yellow and Black." The stage settings were also nicely draped, and we went one better than our friends at Pharmacy here, by having more of our colors on the stage. But they evened things up by being the first to present Glory Quayle with a handsome bouquet. But here Lionel was a good second, and presented one that, for beauty, excelled even that of theirs. It made us all sing out and give our College yell, to see the way that Glory sported our colors on her beautiful costumes. We were treated to a good play, and now that it is all over, we think that no one can say we made a mistake by going to the Grand instead of the Princess. During the acts we entertained the people by singing some patriotic songs, and by hanging Oom Paul from the gallery. Pharmacy gave some good choruses, but Trinity had the singers, and excellent solos were rendered by Mr. Newsome, Mr. Allen, Mr. Walker, and Mr. Levy. It was evident from the way the folks in the pit "rubbed," that they were surprised to hear such music, but Trinity always has the best of everything, and wants people to know it. Of course, with our horns, gazooks, and whistles, we made lots of noise, but we interrupted no part of the play. It is gratifying to us to see that we were complimented in the papers on our good behavior while at the theatre, in contrast to some others.

The play over, we lined up and marched up Yonge. It surprised us somewhat to see nine policemen line up on each side of us and march along. But they were only obeying orders, and did not interfere even while we burned Oom Paul until not a shred of him was left. After serenading some of the ladies and the homes of some of our professors, we marched back to the College, all in good order. Here, after thanking the committee and giving three cheers for the Canadian Contingent to the Transvaal, we sang "God Save the Queen," and went home, saying that we had had a fine time at the theatre, but, thanks to the police, a very quiet and tame time outside.

The elections for the Dinner Committee and representatives to the other Colleges took place Friday afternoon. Very little canvassing had been done, and it was a quiet election all through, although some of the contests were very close. The result of the election is as follows:

Dinner Committee.—President, Mr. Boyd; 1st Vice-President, Mr. D. Landsborough (acc.); 2nd Vice-President, Mr. H. B. Hutton; 3rd Vice-President, Mr. W. Pearson (acc.); Toaster, Mr. J. Moore (acc.).

Fourth Year Committee.—Mr. Livingston and Mr. Walker.

Third Year Committee.—Mr. C. Elliott and Mr. Hassard.

Second Year Committee.—Mr. R. Thomas and Mr. H. E. Service.

First Year Committee.—Mr. C. Duggan and Mr. Dickson.

Representatives.—McGill, Mr. F. Trebilcock (acc.); Bishop's, Mr. Newsome; Queen's, Mr. Ross; London, Mr. Sinclair; Toronto Meds., Mr. W. Kyle (acc.); Trinity University, Mr. Burleigh; Pharmacy, Mr. R. Thompson; Victoria, Mr. Davey; Osgoode, Mr. Marks (acc.); Dental, Mr. Graham (acc.); Knox, Mr. Marlowe (acc.).

It is rumored that a football match took place on Varsity campus last Monday, between Trinity Meds. and Varsity. Now, as it is well known that we can beat Varsity, and as the reported score was 3 to 0, we are inclined to believe that it was a false and scandalous report, circulated by some malicious person with evil intent.

Our proposed match with S.P.S. was to have been played on Saturday at 10.30 a.m. But on account of circumstances over which we have no control we were unable to get together, so S.P.S. have the game by default.—Hard lines.

Captain Brown is recovering slowly, but will be out of the game all Fall.

The Dinner Committee and Representatives intend giving an oyster supper Tuesday night. It will be a brilliant affair. Everyone should be on hand.

The many friends of "Jack Wilson, '00," will be glad to know that he is again on the high road to recovery, and all join in hoping that he may soon be in our midst again.

One of our friends received a letter from Dr. Robert Peers, who is at present doing a rushing business in California.

"Bob" says he was through "Hell-Gate" the other day, and for the benefit of those who may desire to know, he was greatly surprised to find three inches of snow on the ground, and the "inmates," or so-called inhabitants, were hauling coke to put on the fires. Cheer up, Billy.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. Brandon, '02.

We are sorry to have to chronicle the departure of one of the most esteemed members of the final class, Mr. A. McColgan. "Mac" is a jolly good fellow, and will be greatly missed by his fellow-students. Saturday he left for Detroit to complete his course, not because he felt that Detroit was ahead of Trinity, but on account of the newly-inaugurated Council in Michigan.

Why don't you give him an anesthetic. I don't want to see him suffer?—Third year choir leader.

Anyone desiring full information regarding clinical methods, would do well to secure a copy of Stirret's Handbook on Extern Polcats.
