There was a considerable amount of mories this morning. Boys and Girls small and big being in attendance to time, learning bright songs and joining in some merry games, listening to a bible story told in an attractive way or engaged in some industrial work, such as the making of hammocks, learning painting, weaving and other like occupations that children take pleasure in.

ren off the street, give them organized knight's camp. The idea being to keep the childgames and amusement not to lessen their holiday fun, but to make it just so much more pleasant for them in every way. And one of the best lesson that is taught daily is that at the close of the morning session when the Union Jack is held up in front and saluted by the children, pledging their allegiance and in these words:-

"I pledge my allegiance to this flag and to the empire to which it stands. In the Providence of God a mother of nations, a keeper of the peace, strong in liberty and justice for all." The national Anthem is then sung
