NECESSITIES GETTING SCARCE IN ENGLAND

Army a Glutton for Cloth and Leather—Old Clothes Will Have to Be Worn—Coal Will Be Scarce, Miners Having Enlisted.

London, Sept. 6.—"Wear your old clothes and invest your money in war loan," is one of the appeals for war economy which the blank walls of England have been placarded. It is doubtful if these appeals are much heeded by the people, but if the war lasts much longer they will have to wear their old clothes for the simple reason that there will be no new clothes for them to wear.

The soldier is a great consumer. If every man in peace time used up as much material of every kind as he uses while he is in the army the volume of the nation's trade would be simply staggering. There would be no trouble about supplying the demand, for every man then would be a producer as well as a consumer, but the soldier is a consumer only, and there are now some five million of men in the British army.

The result is a shortage of nearly all materials, and as the soldier must be supplied first, the government is taking all the necessary precautions to see that he does not run short. In the matter of clothes, for instance the government has commandeered all the wool clip. This does not mean that there will be no wool clip except for the soldiers, but it means that no one is allowed to buy or sell any wool without a permit from the government specifying just how much he may buy or sell and the price at which the transaction is to be carried out as well. No farmer in the United Kingdom may sell his wool clip this year except to an army buyer, or to a person holding an authorization from the army council. The prices have been fixed at from 24 to 37 cents a pound for washed wool, according to quality, and no permits will be issued to private manufacturers until all the requirements of the British army and its allies are satisfied.

The same applies to boots. The army has made a practical corner of all the leather in the country and there is going to be very little left for civilians. The orders for boots for Britain's armies and those of her allies which have been placed in this instance, between the middle of July and the end of September orders in hand in England for military boots for England, Russia and Italy will consume 23,700,000 feet of upper leather, while between September 30 and November 15, 16,000,000 feet of upper leather will be needed for English and Russian orders. In addition to that the Russian Government is prepared to take 40,000,000 feet of upper leather between now and the middle of November if it can get it, and then there is the corresponding quantity of

MANITOBA TRIAL

Summary of a Most Sensational Hearing.

The Details and Incidents Surrounding the Investigation.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 6.—The trial of Sir Rodmond Roblin, George R. Coldwell, and James H. Howden began on July 24 with a motion by counsel for the defence before Mr. Justice Prendergast to quash the indictment returned by the grand jury at the spring assizes. This was refused, but the motion succeeded to the extent that two counts in the long indictment were severed, leaving twelve counts on which the ex-ministers went to trial. The jury was called on July 26 and has been in custody since that date.

It was the first important trial held in Winnipeg's new million-dollar court house, and it is unique in legal annals for the prominence of the accused, the variety and importance of the issues involved and its length. Interest has been added by all the attendant circumstances of eighteen months filled with political sensations. The court sat six days a week and the stenographic record of the proceedings amounted to two hundred thousand words every six days. Seven lawyers were actively engaged. R. A. Bonnar, K.C., was the chief of the crown counsel, assisted by J. B. Coyne, K.C., and R. W. Craig, K.C. A. J. Andrews, K.C., was chief of the counsel for the defence, assisted by F. M. Burbidge, W. H. Hastings and E. R. Lvin, esq. W. H. Hastings and E. R. Levinson. Mr. Justice Prendergast presided throughout with dignity and courtesy.

On September 1, 1915, proceedings were begun in the city police court against Sir Rodmond Roblin, former premier, and three of the men who sat in his cabinet—Hon. W. H. Montague, who had been minister of public works; George R. Coldwell, former minister of education, and James H. Howden, the ex-attorney general. P. A. MacDonnell was appointed a special magistrate to conduct the preliminary hearing, and the taking of evidence was commenced before him on September 14. On October 14 all four were committed for trial and their bail was renewed at $25,000 each. On November 13 Dr. Montague who has not been in good health for some years, died suddenly in his apartments of apoplexy. The ex-ministers were arraigned on July 27 and they pleaded not guilty. They were tried together on twelve counts centering on the general allegation that they conspired to defraud the province of Manitoba

ENDED FATALLY

By Courier. Last week Wm. W. Bay City, Sept. 5—Franklin Parker, wealthy lumberman, who was held up and shot by two highwaymen late Sunday night, died in a hospital here last night. He was a former president of the American Lumber Association and had extensive interests in Canada. He was born in Bangore, Me., 49 years ago.

Picking of California fruits for eastern shipment was practically discontinued yesterday because of the threatened railroad strike.

The conclusion of the trial does not bring to an end the legal proceedings which have followed the resignation of the Roblin Government a year and a half ago. A charge of destroying public documents still rests against Sir Rodmond Roblin. Thomas Kelly has been convicted by a jury for his alleged connection with the parliament building wrongdoing and his counsel are seeking to obtain from the supreme court of Canada the annulment of the trial which was denied by the Manitoba court of appeal. Dr. R. M. Simpson is awaiting trial on charges arising from the same matters.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the main poisons do not absorb impurities in the blood, while the bowel poisons do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation. To feel like your folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all keep it up! act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.
