STOMACH COMFORT.

When the Stomach Rebels, Indigestion and Nerve Pain Follows. Mi-o-na Brings Relief.

Just as soon as you are done eating, the healthy stomach commences to churn the food around and mixes it thoroughly with the juices of the stomach. If the food is not churned, it lays heavily on your stomach, turns sour and causes all kinds of distressing symptoms, such as headache, indigestion, stomach pain and dyspepsia. Mi-o-na helps the stomach to properly mix the food.
 John S. May, of Isabella St., Belleville, Ont., says: "For over seven months I was in constant agony with a case of nervous dyspepsia and indigestion that medical skill could not relieve. I was weak and had lost much weight through loss of appetite and suffering. My meals would fill me with gas and a feeling of oppression across the stomach, and all up the left side, left me in a miserable condition. I was restless at night and as tired and unrefreshed in the morning as on going to bed. A choking sensation in my throat was always constant when lying down, and my heart seemed to flutter and pound as though it were coming out through my side. I was benefited from the first two days' use of Mi-o-na. I began to feel like myself again, my appetite returned and the depressive feeling left me. I can enjoy my meals without the least worry of after suffering. I gained in weight and can sleep the night through in comfort.
 Go to J. D. Clark the druggist, and get a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na Tablets. Money back if Mi-o-na does not cure.

Your Window Box.

Begonias are admirable plants for growing in window boxes. The foliage of all begonias is attractive, but especially so are the beautifully marked leaves of the Rex variety. The beefsteak, Gloire de Lorraine and varieties may be expected to grow well and to flower under the conditions that suit the vines already described, says the department of agriculture.
 Ferns in variety are available for the window box and may be selected at any florist's to suit the taste of the grower, but dwarf varieties are better suited for the room available. Ferns may be grown with begonias satisfactorily. Both require a temperature lower than the average living room.
 Coleus is another group of plants that may be grown in a window box, but they must have sun. The leaves of these plants have a wide range of color and marking as well as of size and shape. They must have a warmer atmosphere than the plants already mentioned, a temperature of 55 degrees to 60 degrees at night being desirable. The mealy bug is often quite troublesome on coleus.
 For an upright plant growing a foot or eighteen inches high aspidistra is satisfactory. The leaves of this plant grow in somewhat the same manner as garden flags, but there are varieties with variegated leaves as well as those with green leaves.

Turkish General More Humane Than Germans.

London, May 10—According to a despatch from an eye witness with the British army in Mesopotamia Khalel Pasha the Turkish general to whom the British forces under General Townshend surrendered at Kut El Amara showed the utmost consideration for the prisoners. Khalel Pasha experienced admiration for the gallant defence of the garrison and showed anxiety that they should be well fed. He especially desired that every comfort and consideration should be shown to General Townshend and expressed regret that his own supplies were not more plentiful.

Production and Thrift

CANADA'S CALL FOR SERVICE AT HOME

Produce More and Save More The Empire needs food. If you are not in the fighting line you may be in the producing line. Labour is limited—all the more reason to do more than ever before. Grow food for the men who are fighting for you. The Allies need all the food that you can produce. Every little helps. You are responsible for your own work. If you cannot produce as much as you would like, produce all you can. Work with the right spirit. Put fighting energy into your effort and produce now when it counts. The more you produce the more you can save. Producing and saving are war-service.

Make Your Labour Efficient In war-time do not waste time and energy on unimportant and unprofitable work. Economize labour. Put off unproductive work till after the war, and, if possible, help in producing something needed now. Let us not waste labour. Canada needs it all. If possible help to feed the Allies. Make your backyard a productive garden. Cultivate it with a will. Make your labour count as much as possible.

Do Not Waste Materials There should be no waste in war-time. Canada could pay the annual interest on her war expenditure out of what we waste on our farms, in our factories, in our homes. Every pound of food saved from waste is as good as a pound of increased production. The way for a nation to save is for every individual to save. France is strong to-day because of thrift in time of peace. The men and women of Great Britain are not only "doing" but are learning to "do without."

Spend Your Money Wisely Practise economy in the home by eliminating luxuries. Wasting our dollars here weakens our strength at the front. Your savings will help Canada to finance the war. Save your money for the next Dominion War issue. There can be no better investment.

A TALL YARN

A Yankee entered a big hotel in the Highlands, when he overheard a party of visitors about shooting.
 "Gentlemen," he said, "I guess I have seen some good shooting in my time. I have seen a fly killed on the flagpole at three hundred yards.
 An Irishman, who was one of the party, said:
 Begorra, it's pretty good, but I believe I've seen better. When I was in the army the major used to roll an empty beer barrel down the hill, and every time the bung hole turned up we put a bullet in. Any man who could not do it was dismissed. I was in that corps for fifteen years and never saw a man dismissed.

NOT MUCH

Pa, a man's wife is his better half isn't she?
 We are told so my son.
 Then, if a man marries twice, there isn't anything left of him, is there?

A Chinese Trick

The Chinese are past masters in art of trickery, and some of their tricks are very ingenious. One is a method by which they can make a postage stamp do service almost indefinitely. The sender of the letter passes over the stamp some paste which in appearance is not unlike the gum at the back of a stamp. When the stamp is obliterated it takes the impression, but it is not even "skin deep." The receiver of the letter must be a confederate, and he passes a damp sponge over the stamp. This removes the paste and with it the postal mark, so until the stamp is worn out it can be used over and over again.

The Next Boat

My ancestors, haughtily little Heloise Aldyne told her nine-year-old playmate Hermione McGuire, came over before yours did. They came over in the first boat, the the Mayflower.
 Well, mine came over, Hermione said stoutly, her blue Irish eyes, fishing with spirit "in the very next boat, the Juneflower."

NOT SAFE

In a certain borough in the north of London one man who had been invited to enlist wrote as follows to the local recruiting committee. "Do not feel I ought to leave my wife while there are any single men left in this district."

A deaf man was being married and the parson asked the usual question, "Do you take this woman for your lawful wife?"
 "Eh?" said the deaf man.
 "Do you take this woman for your lawful wife?"
 This time a bit louder.
 The groom seemed to get angry.
 "Oh, I don't know," he said. "She ain't so awful. I've seen wuss than her that didn't have as much money."

Germany's reply to the Wilson "ultimatum" is so satisfactory to the German-American press that it can hardly be satisfactory to the American-American people.

Keep Minard's Liniment in the house.

The old soldier was telling his thrilling adventures on the field of battle of young fellows, one or two of whom were very sceptical as to his veracity. "then" he said, "the surgeons took me up and laid me carefully in the ammunition wagon, and—"

"Look here," interrupted one of the doubtful listeners, "you don't mean the ammunition wagon. You mean the ambulance wagon."
 But the old man shook his head.

"No," he insisted, "I was so full of bullets that they decided I ought to go in the ammunition wagon."

Out of 230,000 Jews in England it is said that 17,000 are in the army and navy. Is Jewish recruiting in Canada equally creditable to a race that has in the neighborhood of half a million men fighting for the Allies?
