UNDERWEAR

For Ladies and Children

But particularly the children this time. Cold weather is the order of the day. You'll need warm underwear for the little tots, warmer than usual perhaps if you can't get coal. We never overlook the children in the selection of our underwear, and we've looked well after their comfort this season.

Here are five lines of children's underwear that were selected with the greatest of care.

- No. 1—Children's all cotton vest and drawers in sizes from 1 to 6 at from 10c to 25c
- No. 2—Children's union vests and drawers, fine ribbed in sizes 0 to 6 at from 25c to 50c
- No. 3—Children's natural wool vests and drawers in sizes 1 to 6 at from 50c to 90c
- No. 4—Children's union vests and drawers, plain, in sizes 1 to 5 at from 25c to 38c
- No. 5—Children's black equestriennes, all wool, guaranteed fast black, in sizes 1 to 6 at from 50c to 85c

To anybody who wants anything that the aldermen can give, now is your time.

A press report censor from the scene of duck hunting operations would save the credulous public from a lot.

If the local wood dealers undersell the city wood yard who will put up the difference?

Y. M. A. stands for Young Men's Association, but don't let that worry you. You May Assist.

Last night was Halloween and there was many a man this morning who would have liked to have got a gate on.

The Wallaceburg footballers ought to be always ready, but I hope the Chatham team will make them feel blue.

That old cry of "are musicians jealous?" has given place to the new question "are preachers jealous of musicians?"

No, Dear Alright Yes, there is no affinity between the Young Men's Club and Walker's Club. One you go to, the other you take with you.

There were quite a number of citizens who woke up this morning to find a winter's supply of vegetables laid in on the front door step.

Quite a few Maple City sports have been out duck shooting lately, but the only results so far recorded have been in increasing the flying speed of the ducks.

If the Bangers don't win from Darrell, Darrell will be in store for the Chatham football team, and they will learn the locomotive properties of the cap called the Walker cap.

For a Walker cap that football trophy seems to get around pretty well. It has been in store for Glencoe, to Essex, to Detroit, and even to Windsor. Now it looks as if Darrell would get it.

People are wondering how all the Central school pupils and their friends will get into the Opera House Friday, November 7. That's all right. The children will run the roof.

General Booth, of the Salvation Army, has visited London and Woodstock, but he didn't come to this bright moral city. The aged campaigner against sin evidently knew where his services were most needed.

Hamilton always did look as if she had done something she shouldn't have done, but you can't blame that for looking mortified just now. The brick makers have combined and building operations are at a standstill.

If your front door step this morning was adorned with a miscellaneous collection of cabbage heads, potatoes, turnips, etc., you needn't have bothered about it. Last night was Halloween and you were a boy once yourself.

I saw a city doctor this morning with a hammer and chisel carving on a tombstone. What could that mean, anyway? I should think a doctor would have enough monuments in a cemetery well planted, without perpetuating his handiwork by means of the tombstones also.

The Boardman Club denies that the only thing they bagged during their recent duck hunting trip to Mitchell's Bay was their decoys, but their friends can prove that they bagged up their decoys to take them out and bagged up the decoys to bring them back. All other reports are unofficial.

I know one Chatham boy who got two ducks during a recent trip to Mitchell's Bay. He broke the wing of a passing bird and an effort to catch his game by hand, he fell into the bay. He got the duck all right, but came home and reported that he got two ducks—No, I didn't mention any names.

I really owe the Banner-minus-News an apology. Here I have always believed that it took them ten days to find out anything, but it seems to only take them five days. The Rev. Mr. George said certain things about the Chatham papers on Sunday and the Banner actually found it out on Friday.

Manager Briscoe deserves credit for the improvements he has made in the interior of the Opera House. Manager McVean started the work of improving the interior of the Opera House but he spoiled it with that horrible advertising curtain. Manager Briscoe has perfected the places where Manager McVean failed.

Dear Satellite—I see that Aid. Waddell, of the Board of Works, is talking about increasing the circus license tariff. I wish you would warn Aid. Waddell to be careful, as one Minister of Public Works has already lost his job over talking about increasing the tariff.

Years,
COUSIN MMBGX.

Last Saturday, in giving a press despatch in regard to a corn stalk that grew so fast in Kansas that a boy climbing it was likely to be lost, the Satellite had occasion to suggest that the corn stalk should be shown a copy of the Wallaceburg News and the corn stalk would fall down in disgust. The News man apparently feels hurt about the kindly advice of the Satellite and comes back with this: "Satellite's grab bag in The Planet. Right you are, Mr.

Satellite, the growth of the News has been so phenomenal that the corn stalk isn't in it with us and that's no comet's tale either. We say to let the corn stalk keep on growing till it reaches you, so that when it is necessary for you to climb down, you could make use of it, and not take a sudden drop as you are obliged to do sometimes. If, as is stated above, that corn stalk would be filled with disgust, one would naturally infer that it would be due to lack of brains in the corn stalk, and this lack of the necessary gray matter is just where the resemblance to Mr. Satellite comes in. The only difference is that brains are usually not looked for in corn stalks.

Not in the Wallaceburg News. When the Wallaceburg News was looking for resemblances, it is funny that it never noticed the resemblance between itself and the corn stalk. This makes itself disagreeably felt. You feel bilious, dyspeptic and tired; there may be pimples or eruptions of the skin; the damp weather brings little twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia that give warning of the winter that is coming. If you want to be brisk and strong for the winter it is now that you should build up the blood, and give the nerves a little tonic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest of all blood-making, nerve-restoring tonics, and will make you strong and brave off the aches and pains of winter if you take them in accordance with the directions.

Min. is one of the thousands whom Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have restored to health and strength. He says:—"It is with deep gratitude I acknowledge the benefit I have derived from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before taking the pills my health was much shattered with rheumatism, nervous depression and sleeplessness. For fully twelve months I rarely got a good night's sleep. When I began the use of the pills it was with a determination to give them a fair trial. I did not and I truthfully say that I could not wish for better health than I now enjoy. I shall always speak a good word for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Poor blood is the cause of most disease. Good blood means health and strength. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do not purge—they simply make pure, rich blood. That's why they cure so many diseases. But you must always get the genuine with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail, post paid, at 30 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50, by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THEATICAL

"When we were Twenty-one," the great theatrical success in theatrical history, will be presented in our city on Monday evening, and it offers not only an evening of pure enjoyment, but it teaches a lesson that no parent can afford to miss. This play is in four acts, but never has a play appeared so like real life. The members of the company are all good and when one leaves the theatre one feels a sincere affection for the dainty phyllys, the warm sentiment for the soldier man, the doctor and Waddles, while the Imp is every mother's wayward son, who comes to his senses and redeems his folly. A more beautiful play was never written to a grand success for the Lyceum course this season. Reserve a seat at Central Drug Store. Course books may be had at prices as low as 50c.

Lovers of melodrama have a rare treat in store, and no doubt the great English melodrama, "Gypsy Jack" will meet with deserved patronage when it is produced at the Grand Theatre on Thursday evening, Nov. 6. "Gypsy Jack" is a departure from the ordinary, as in dealing with the peculiar people, the gypsies, it has given the author a field for the display of originality, of which he has taken advantage, and has worked the possibilities into one of the most interesting stage stories of recent date. Willis Granger will be seen in the star part of "Gypsy Jack."
