Closing Scene at Hand in the Haywood Case.

Senator Borah Sums Up for Prosecution-Impelling Force, He De clares, Came From Denver-Pettibone's Silence Significant-Judge Wood Addresses the Jury To-day-Haywood's Family In Court.

Haywood's Family In Court.

Boise, Idaho, July 27.—Senator Borah concluded his address at 7.20 p.m., and Judge Wood announced that he would charge the jury in the Haywood case at 10 a.m. to-day.

As early as 7 o'clock yesterday morning the court house doors were besieged by hundreds seeking admittance to the courtroom.

Inside the court, as the next to the last day of the trial began, Haywood sat, surrounded by his family. His invalid wife, whose helpless condition and pallid face have attracted so much attention and sympathy, sat immediately at his right, and next to her was the gray-hared mother, who, Thursday, could not restrain the tears which welled to her eyes as Clarence Darrow made the last ples for the life of her son. The prisoner's daughter and sister were also in the family circle.

Mrs. Frank Steunenberg, the wife of the murdered governor, and her stalwart son, Julian, were early in the courtroom, and when they had been shown to seats inside the attorney's rail found themselves within seven or eight feet of Haywood himself. Attorneys from many cities in the west constituted a large proportion of yesterday's big audience.

Senator Borah began by reviewing briefly the points made in the opening hour of his address to the jury Thursday night. He said he would go briefly over the trail of blood left by Harry Orchard, taking first the murder of Governor-Steunenberg and harking back over some of the most. harking back over some of the most important incidents developed in the important incidents developed in the testimony.

"I hardly need to tell you sensible men," declared the pleader, "that Pinkerton detectives had nothing to do with the assassination of Frank Steunenberg. That is one of the most absurd of the many absurd things brought into this case by the learned counsel of the defence."

Senator Borah, in laying the foundation for his argument of conspiracy, pointed out that Orchard went to Caldwell from Denver, and fresh from association with the officers of the Western Federation of Miners, who regarded Steunenberg as an enemy.

who regarded Steunenberg as an enemy.

"Harry Orchard left Denver with crime in his heart," said the speaker. "The impelling, compelling force came from Denver. George Pettibone helped Orchard pack his utensils of murder in his trunk. Why is Pettibone not here to deny it? His silence is a confession of his guilt. Pettibone's absence is an absolute corroboration of Orchard."

Moulders to Help Haywood.

Philadelphia, July 27.—The convention of the Iron Moulders' Union of North America, now in session in this city, yesterday adopted a resolution expressing sympathy with Haywood and recommending that the executive board send circulars to all affiliated lodges soliciting financial aid for his defence.

Sometimes it only goes that far, but generally it develops into Diarrhoea, Dysentery or Summer Complaint and has a tendency to weaken the whole system.

When the bowels get loosened up in this way and you wish to check the unnatural discharge without bringing on constipation, there is only one remedy to use, and that one is Dr. Fowler's EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY. This remedy is not an experiment as it has been used in thousands of families durng the past sixty-two years.

When you ask for Dr. FowLER's be sure you get it, as many unprincipalled drug-gists will try to palm off a cheap subtitute on you.

Miss M. Hopkins, Roseview, Sask., writes: "I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and found it is all it is recommended to be for Diarrhoea and Summer Complaint. We would not be without a bottle of it in the

THE MONOGRAM FAD.

Everything That Can Show a Name

To the ultra fastidious the proclain ing of one's identity to the public by means of monograms on every article of apparel and adornment may appear in somewhat poor taste. It is the fash-ion of the moment, however, and, like other fads and fancies, may be modified or exaggerated at one's own dis

Everything that can show an embroidered name does so, and there are the daintiest designs for underwear, those in which flowers appear being most liked. Collars, chemisettes, gloves, the long chiffon scarfs, the draped veil, fan and even the undersleeves, when these are put into a band, are also inconspicuously lettered. For the purse, card case and pocket books there are initials and mono grams, as also larger ones for larger in gold, silver, gun metal and enamel.

They have tiny prongs at the back with which to attach them to the article as desired, and at some places one may have one's own design made up by a trifling increase in expense. Many a gift this year consisted of a set of iultials, three sizes—two of each—nleely put up in a leather case ready to be applied to desk pad, engagement book, traveling case or to any of the hundred and one articles for which they might be suitable.

Then there are the more expensive jeweled monograms, each letter consist-ing of solid stones. A beautiful effect is produced by one letter of turquoises another of topazes and a third of bril-

Enameled letters are much less expensive and for general use prettier. A recent bride received as a gift a set of six initial plates. They were in script, the three letters being made of sterling silver intwined with tiny blue rhinestone centers.

the puff sleeves corresponded.

In warm weather the small yoke could be removed, and the frock would be decidedly pretty and comfortable.

Becoming Mourning.

Fashions in mourning have undergone a very great change since the wonderful improvements that have been made in crape. In the first place, it has been successfully waterproofed and is no longer expensive wear. Then the soft finish crape is particularly well adapted to the picturesque and artistic gowns of the present day. Instead of the gowns being trimmed with folds and volants of crape this sea son entire empire and empress gowns will be worn of this soft and graceful crape.
