ANOISVENT WITH OIL.—Professor Simpson, of Edinburgh, has been the means of bringing to light a curious corroboration of the sanatary value of the ancient practice of anointing with oil. It appears that the learned Professor, when visiting the manufacturing town of Galashiels, swas casually informed that the workers in the world mill in that place were, exempt the work mill in that place were exempt the workers in a the wood mill in that place were exempt the attacks of consumption and ascrolule. On inquiring of the medical men in the vicinity, the truth of the statement, was confirmed, and it was then deemed expedient to pursue investigati-ons on a boarder scale. Communications were accordingly sent to physicians, re-siding in Dunfermine, Alloa, Tillicountry, Invertes, and other district, where wool nulls are in operation; and in the case of all it was ascertained that similar immuall it was ascertdined that similar immu-nity was enjoyed from the fatal diseases mentioned. It further appeared that in some of the tocalities scarating had been added to the list; and also, that employ-ment in the mills not only preserved, the health, but children of delicate constitutions were sent to the woof workers for the express purpose of acquiring strength, a result in almost every instance attained.

A country or some time past it has been a subject of research, among the mistage to produce a merchantable article that shall possess the fertilizing properties of Peruvina guale. A prize of £ 1000 stering has been differed by the Royal Agricultural Society of England for the production of such an article, provided the state of £5 per ton. ing it be sold at the rate of $5 per ton. Mr. Edwin Petit, of London, claims to have discovered the democration, which have discovered the democratic state of the prize of a grounds which appears not unreastnable. His letter on the subject, again. "Would it be a prize to me to recive £1000 on condition that I self an article for £5, when its ascertained market value is £9 per ton? • • • Give me a
