

TO HAPPY HOUR PATRONS

We are compelled to state to our patrons that on and after Tuesday, Oct. 31st the price of admission to feature productions will be 10 AND 15 CENTS.

Special Feature nights at the Happy Hour at present are TUESDAYS, THURSDAYS AND FRIDAYS. The picture business of Newcastle is confined to two hours in the evening and with the big advance in price of high class productions and material, we simply lose money even with crowded houses.

Facts are facts and when we say we have the highest-priced and best program obtainable we only state a fact that will be substantiated by anyone acquainted with the motion picture business. The Happy Hour program is shown in all the largest theatres in New York and other Metropolitan centres, at prices ranging from 25 cents to $2 and picture lovers know that the Happy Hour shows could not be bettered anywhere. PRICES ON OTHER NIGHTS WILL REMAIN THE SAME, VIZ., 10 CTS. ON MONDAY, WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAYS. 41-3

THE WEEK IN NEWCASTLE

FRATERNAL VISIT

SAVING DAYLIGHT

The Newcastle mills last week started in saving a quarter of an hour of daylight each day, by setting their clocks 15 minutes ahead of Standard time. The whistles therefore blow at 6.45, 11.45, 12.45 and 5.45 by Standard time.

METHODIST CHURCH

The Methodist pulpit last Sunday morning was occupied by the pastor, Rev. Dr. C. W. Squires. In the afternoon, at Maple Glen, and in the evening at Newcastle, the preacher was Rev. John Squires, who could not reach Tabucinae on Saturday because of the boat not running. Dr. Squires left on Monday for Connecticut to visit his wife who has been ill at the home of relatives there several months. His pulpit will be occupied next Sunday by one of the ministers from Bathurst.

BYRON KEATING

KILLED IN ACTION
In the casualty list on Tuesday afternoon appears the name of Byron T. Keating, of Chatham, as having died of wounds. Mr. Keating left Chatham about eight years ago for Calgary, Alberta, where he later became a leading Real Estate Agent and accumulated considerable property. He was prominent in political circles in Calgary, and was at the time of enlisting in the Mounted Rifles in that city, a member of the Executive of the Calgary Liberal Association, of which he was formerly president. Mr. Keating is a cousin of Mrs. John Morrissey, of Newcastle.
