(Limited.)

Report on the Elise Mine by Ernest G. Locke, M. E.

216 Bailey Building, Seattle, Wash., October 26, 1896.

Joe Young, Esq., Rossland, B. C. Dear Sir: On Sunday, October the 18th, 1896, being on the north fork of Wild Horse creek, (or as it is sometimes called Huckleberry Creek) in British Columbia, I took the opportunity of examining the Elise claim, about which I have been told a great deal, and have pleasure in stat-

Elise claim, about which I have been told a great deal, and have pleasure in stating the following:

The vein has been exposed by means of an open cut fof about 30 feet in length and some 6 or 8 feet in depth. The strike is north 62 degrees E. and south 62 degrees W., dip north 28 degrees W., at an angle of about 70 degrees; elevation above sea level 4730 feet. The country rock is a slatey schiist standing nearly vertical, the planes of stratification, being north and south; the Elise vein, therefore, where discovered cuts diagonally across these planes. The vein matter or pay streak, is at least two and a half feet wide, composed of quartz, iron and copper sulphides, and galena, carrying gold, silver, copand lead. The ledge itself is somewhat wider and no doubt carries gold for a width of five or six feet. The vein has every appearance of being a true fissure vein, consequently no fear need be entertained of its giving out. The bottom of a true fissure vein was never yet found. The ore has a very rich appearance, with its variety of minerals, which is amply borne out by the assays placed before me, the average value of which is $115 to the tom. Such a showing is seldom met with, even after thousands of dollars have been spent in developing.

I look upon the Elise claim as a most promising prospect, one which I have even after thousands of dollars have been epent in developing.

I look upon the Elise claim as a most promising prospect, one which I have even the claim, one of which has a width in sight of six feet, one of probably four feet, and one of about twenty inches. Two during the season.

Mine: The Red Point on Lookout Mountain in the Trail Creek

Mining District.

Position and Size. The Red Point claim was the first location made on Lookout Mountain and lies between St. Charles, Debs, and Sovereign, on the one side, the Imperial, K. of L., Wolverine, Occidental and St. Croix on the other. The property has been paid for and surveyed. The size of the property is 1500 by 1500 feet the full size claimed. The citizens of Trail city have contributed a fund for the building of a wagon road from the town up Lookout Mountain to connect with the mines. About $3,500 worth of development work has been done and a contract has been awarded for a J. K. Clark's Report.

"I have made a careful examination of the Red Point mineral claim situated on Lookout Mountain and beg to "The ore deposits occur in the form of three parallel veins as shown by the outcrop which is large and well deof these veins have been traced for several hundred feet on the surface. Of assays I have taken but two, one tested by F. Pellew Harvey ran $73 gold, one from the present tunnel ran with a local assayer $6 gold. In 1894, I took a piece of the croppings, and after crushing and washing it found gold to the value of $50 and upwards per ton. I have always thought highly of the property. There is sufficient spring water on the ground to supply any works that may be devised. The country about is fairly timbered, and the fuel supply need not be considered for many years."

T. H. Finnegan's Report.

"The vein the shaft is on is about 20 feet wide, and is traceable for about 600 feet, and no doubt can be traced further by removing the top soil. The shaft is down about 12 feet. We had ore to start on, but it improved in quantity and quality as depth was attained. I did not consider it economy to continue the shaft, as we had decided to leave it to the decision of the diamond drill. I think the next best showing is the big cropping up the hill, where the $87 assay was taken from. There is still another good showing over northwest of the discovery line. It is a remarkably good showing. The fact of the Sovereign passing from a prospect to a mine, would in my estimation enhance the value of the Red Point 100 per cent. I have conversed with several mining men in regard to it, and they all agree that the surface showing of the Red Point is as promising as that of the Josie, Le Roi and War Eagle.

Treasury Shares.

The owners having tested the property by considerable surface work, opening up and exploring the ledges, and with borings with their diamond drill, and fully satisfied that the Red Point will make a shipping mine when opened up by a tunnel to crosscut the four ledges 200 feet from the surface, now offer One-Half of the Treasury Stock—150,000 shares—to the public. The balance of the treasury stock will be placed in the market later on at an advanced price
