Digger Indian Passes Into Self-Made Oblivion

IONE, Calif., May 23.—(A.P.)—The Digger Indian has gone. He has been killed by the Indians themselves. The Digger Indian was burned at the stake while he was feared and mocked by 800 of his fellows at the annual "cry" of the Mowuks near here recently. The burning was in effect a war dance about the victim.

The burning, while typifying, according to the Indian allegory, the culmination of a long hunt for an enemy, actually marked the abandonment of the name Digger Indian by all Indian tribes in California. The Mowuks were the last to gain their tribal designation. They were once called Diggers.

Indians say the name Digger first made its appearance in Utah. It was said to have been first used by whites on the way to California because of the Indian custom of digging for roots. Then, as the whites continued their westward migration, the settlers continued to use the appellation. The Digger in Indian allegory came from Utah to Nevada, then to the Pines of Pitt-River, then to Modoc county, Shasta county, Humboldt county and down into the south. Spurred by every tribe, he became an outcast and sought shelter in the territory of the Mowuks. Here he remained hidden, refusing to leave, until his capture and death at the stake.

The annual "cry" of the Mowuks is held in honor of the dead. Indians from all parts of the state attend. It is a time of ceremony, feasting and merrymaking.

Urges a Selective Policy of Immigration

WINNIPEG, May 30.—Urging a more selective policy with regard to immigration in order to make Canada an Anglo-Saxon country, Walter McRae, Canadian author, who is in Manitoba in search of data for a book of history on the province, denounced the wholesale dumping of what he described as "little Asians" into the west in addressing the Kiwanis club here.

In advocating Canadian nationalization, Mr. McRae stipulated that he did not want it confused with the nationalization proclaimed by Quebec, but rather founded upon principles brought to Canada by United Empire Loyalists, that we should always remain British and should in all things govern ourselves.

"We have come to a time when decision must be reached whether we are going to have a Canadian people, or just a string of people living in Canada with their eyes fixed on some other country, and I say that Canada should harbor no man who cannot and will not become a Canadian," Mr. McRae declared.

The question he said was how we are going to Canadianize the foreigners. If we are not Canadianized ourselves, even the government refused to recognize "Canadian" as a nationality. He did not expect a man to forget his mother country, but he thought it was illogical and unreasonable of a Canadian born to be branded as an alien or hyphenate.

"I wish to none in my loyalty to the empire, but the pride that takes first place in my heart is the pride of being a Canadian," Mr. McRae concluded.

Finger Facts

It is a fact not generally known that the fingers of the right hand move much more quickly than those of the left. They are also much more accurate.

Recent experiments have also proved that the ring finger of the left hand can work more quickly, it is moving in conjunction with the right-hand forefinger. Any two fingers working together, indeed, move considerably faster than one finger working by itself. The more a person uses his or her fingers the more adept they become. A pianist or typist will find that, in time, the left hand becomes as skilful as the right.

There's a Big Show at the Crescent To-Night

ANITA STEWART RETURNS IN
"THE LOVE PIKER."

After casting your vote for your favourite side in politics to-night, rest your mind as well as your body by attending the big show at the Crescent Theatre. The feature attraction is "The Love Piker," in which the pretty Anita Stewart re-appears on the silver sheet.

Arrested for speeding in her roadster, Hope Warner, a wealthy young woman, meets and is sided by Martin Van Hulse, a young civil engineer who has made his way in the world by sheer force of character, despite the handicap of early poverty. Later Martin is instrumental in saving Hope's life and the friendship between the two ripens into love. They become engaged but the girl's loyalty to her lover is put to a severe test when he takes her to visit his father, old Peter Van Hulse, who lives in the tenebrous, where he has spent all his life and will not leave. When Hope sends out invitations for her wedding, her unobedient training asserts itself and she tears up the one intended for the elder Van Hulse. On the wedding morning she is troubled with remorse for her action and by the time she is attired in bridal costume experiences a revulsion of feeling. She jumps into an auto and hurries to old Peter, confesses her fault, brings him back with her and is married.

Voting Since 1860

CIVIL WAR VETERAN IS FOUND INELIGIBLE.

SEATTLE, May 23.—(A.P.)—E. W. Binns, 36, of Seattle, veteran of the Civil War, who voted for Abraham Lincoln twice and who has cast his ballot for every Republican presidential candidate since 1860, has recently found out he is not a citizen and can not vote for a candidate this fall.

When Binns went to register the clerk of a Seattle registration office found out that he was born in England, that he was not naturalized, though he had voted since 1860, and that, while he thought his father was a naturalized citizen of the United States, he could not produce a copy of his father's naturalization papers. Binns' father died 30 years ago.

Big Melodramatic Feature at the Nickel

ALLAN HOLUBAR'S GREAT PRO-DUCTION "BROKEN CHAINS."

Can a born coward change his nature and become a hero, if not unafraid at least unflinching?

Winifred Kimball believes he can. She embodied her belief in the form of a motion picture scenario and entered it in the Chicago Daily News $50,000 scenario contest. She told her story so well that the famous judges gave her entry the first prize of $10,000, picking it out of the 32,900 manuscripts submitted. The prize carried with it a production on an elaborate scale by Goldwyn Pictures Corporation, with a star cast.

Goldwyn has now made the picture under the direction and personal supervision of Allan Holubar, and "Broken Chains" is coming to the Nickel Theatre to-night for three days. Everyone will want to see why this scenario captured the $10,000 prize. It is a great emotional photograph with big dramatic moments and as thrilling and realistic a hand-to-hand fight as the silver-sheet has ever depicted.

In the cast of "Broken Chains," are Colleen Moore, Claire Windsor, Bert Mercer, Malcolm McGregor, Ernest Torrence, William Orlamond, James Marcus, Gerald Fritz, Edward Bell and Leo Willis. Reports from cities where this prize-winning picture has already been shown indicate that it is the biggest kind of popular success.

Japan Plans Bond Issue FOR RECONSTRUCTION WORK.

TOKIO, April 21.—(A.P.)—New domestic bond issues totalling 155,000,000 yen will be floated by the Japanese government during the fiscal year 1924-25, providing loan market conditions are favorable, according to an announcement by the Department of Finance.

The government must also float conversion issues totalling 410,000,000 yen to take care of old issues maturing within the new fiscal year, from April 1, 1924, to March 31, 1925. In addition it is hoped to place on the market other issues totalling 70,000,000 yen which were scheduled for 1923-24, but withheld owing to unfavorable market conditions. These bring the total of projected domestic loans for the year to 635,000,000 yen.

Reconstruction work made necessary by the earthquake disaster will absorb nearly all the proceeds of the new issues.

Four salmon were taken from Fish-ele River on 17th ult., by Mr. Thompson of Spruce Brook.

Most of the rivers along the West Coast were very high last week and the rain of Friday increased the volume of water in all the rivers. There are several sportsmen camped on the rivers of Crabbes Robinsons and Fischels.—Western Star, May 27.
