POLICE COURT.

Before T. W. Saunders, Esq., P. M. THURSDAY, July 17th.

THE WHISKEY-STEALING CASE John O'Donnell was again brought up to-day. He looked decidedly pale and waxy, no doubt the effect of the supplies being cut off for so long. His Worship remarked that the infor mation in this case had been first laid by the Excise Officer, but it had turned out, on consulting the Collector of Inland Revenue here, that the Government had only a joint possession of the warehouse in which the whiskey was, and he was therefore of opinion that the information should be laid by Mr. Allan. The information of the Excise Officer had subsequently been withdrawn, and a similar information had been laid by Mr. Allan. Mr. Peterson was to have been here on behalf of the Crown, but he was the present, and the case would therefore be remanded until to-morrow.

In answer to an application for bail from Mr. MacMillan, who appeared on behalf of the prisoner, the Magistrate said that if the present information should be dismissed, another information would be laid by the Crown, as their previous one was only withdrawn for the present, not dismissed.

Case remanded until to-morrow.

It seems that the man was "wanted" in consequence of an affirs in a tavern, in which he badly punished Oliford. It seems that the man was "wanted" in consequence of an affray in a tavern, in which he badly punished the tavern-keeper, and was only restrained from further violence by being struck on the head with a chair wielded by a third party; and the prisoner's bandaged head gave token that the impromptus "chairman" was not charry in the use of head gave token that the impromptu 'chairman' was not chary in the use of his muscles, however chairy may have been the character of his weapon.

On Wednesday morning fire was seen ssuing from the blacksmith shop belonging to the saw factory of Mr. H. B. Smith. The small steam fire engine The small steam fire engine which is being repaired was got out, and vater thrown on the building a few minutes after, a small stream being kept up in the meantime by the rotary pump belonging to the factory, which did good service. The fire was soon got out after the steamer began to throw water. The roof was burned off, and all the oil in the building was burned up. It was covered with shingles laid in mortar, and this no doubt prevented flames from spreading to the frame workshop adjoining. The loss and damage to the goods will amount to about $1,000, upon which there was lample evidence this morning. The lightning was exceedingly vivid, and the thunder crashed and reverberated its loudest. This copious rain will be of great benefit to the crops generally, though it may retard haying a little.

Reception.—A number of the members of the well-come Rev. E. B. Harper, M.A., their new pastor.
