A NEEDED EXPLANATION. To the Editor of The Advertiser:

From a letter in The Advertiser of Nov. 1, written by Rev. E. Softley, B.D., of Leamington, I notice that he says: "Sanctification is radically ferent in character from justification. Just acation is complete; sanctification is progressively developed. Justification is Christ's work, once and forever imparted to us, and is of God alone. Sanctification is God's work, by the Holy Spirit in us, as he progressive of his good pleasure." Man working and God enabling.' To the main contentions here made, there can be no objection, but I cannot see what part man has in sanctification apart from receiving it from Christ. To throw greater light on this important matter, I would refer your States and Canada, east of the Rockies, readers to the following definition of sanctification:

ly works in us both to will and to do

Jesus Christ personally in his perfect life and fullness, to reign and live in our heart and life. It is to exchange our imperfection for his perfection; to cease from our struggles and take his strength; to become so united to him and so dependent upon him every mo-ment that he will literally dwell in us, and live again his incarnate life in our flesh as truly as he did in Galilee and Jerusalem. This is the mystery of mysteries, and yet it is the office and work of the Holy Ghost to make it the glorious privilege of all sincere Christians. It is Christ in you the hope of glory. God grant to all who read these words, grace to accept this gift and live in the enjoyment of it every day. liveth in me, and the life I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me. For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain."
