

A Page

Cynthia Grey's Daily Mail Box.
Talks on Styles We'll Be Wearing.
Recipes by Advertiser Readers.

For

Series on Backyard Gardening.
Activities of London Women.
Items of General Interest.

Women

This Sample of LUX
is for you, Madam!

WHAT is LUX? It is a soap of unusual purity made into the thinnest of flakes that readily dissolve in hot water. It makes a creamy, foamy lather that cannot injure the daintiest fabric or the hands.

LUX is a wonderful life lengthener of all woollen and flannel garments. It absolutely prevents them from matting, thickening or shrinking in the wash.

Will you let us send you a sample, free? Address: LUX Dept., Lever Brothers Limited, Toronto. All grocers sell LUX 10c.

Wont shrink
Woollens

MADE IN CANADA.

INCOMPREHENSIBLE.

[Exchange.]

She received today a notice from that horrid bank, saying my account was overdrawn.
He—Well, you must have been signing checks a little too rapidly.
She—I haven't either. Why, the checks in that book they gave me are not half used up.

Better than Butter
Nicer than Jam

Sold in Jars
10c., 15c., 20c.
and in 24-lb. pails.

If you get Clark's you get the best.

British
Navy
Biscuits
REGISTERED
At your grocers

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

Grandma Knew Them.

Dear Miss Grey—I saw in the Advertiser a request for a song, "Won't you buy my pretty flowers?" I am sending it in and hope some one knows these very old songs as my grandmother used to sing them; the chorus is as follows:
"You have made your poor old mother weep for you from night till morn,
You have made your poor old father wish that you were never born."
The other chorus is quite long:
"Come now let us cheer them on
For they can't be with us long
Don't sneer at them because they're old and gray;
But remember while you're young that the day to you may come
When you're poor, and old, and only in the way."
Thanking you in advance, I remain,
JUST BELLA.

Ans.—We are grateful to "Just Bella" and hope the songs "grandma used to sing" may be traced.

Her Sole Support.

Dear Miss Grey—I am a widow in delicate health and my son, my sole support, has joined the army. Would you kindly let me know if I am entitled to any help from the Patriotic Fund and if so, how and where to go about it, and you will oblige.
A CONSTANT READER.

Ans.—I should certainly think that you were entitled to a grant. Inquire at the office of the Patriotic Society, at 438 Richmond street (upstairs). Are you not receiving the Government allowance for dependents of men at the front?

Decoration Day.

Dear Miss Grey—Here I am again with a few important questions and hope you will oblige me by answering them at your earliest convenience.
1. Would you please give me the names of a few famous cemeteries of the south?
2. When is Decoration Day?
3. What can I do to stop biting fingernails? It is one of my worst habits.
4. Are daisies good this summer for hats?
5. What is the latest shade for a summer dress and how would you have it made?

Ans.—In view of your second question concerning Decoration Day, it is presumably some of the American national cemeteries, where are buried soldiers who fell in the civil and Spanish wars. I do not know the names of the cemeteries, but in each of the following places in the southern states, national burying-grounds is situated; of course, there are many more besides these which I have mentioned: St. Augustine, Fla.; Andersonville, Ga.; Alexandria, La.; Baton Rouge, La.; Alexandria, Va.; Arlington, Va.; Culpeper, Va.; Gettysburg, Pa.; Washington, D.C.; Beaufort, S.C.; Memphis, Tenn.; Chattanooga, Tenn.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Crown Hill, Ind.; Little Rock, Ark.; Lexington, Ky.; and San Antonio, Texas.

2. May 30 is the most of the American states. For the benefit of those who do not know, Decoration or Memorial Day is set apart as a legal holiday for the purpose of commemorating the soldiers who fell in the civil war, and decorating their graves. In all the northern and western states (except Idaho and Texas) and in Virginia, May 30 is observed. In the south, April 26, May 10 and June 2, are days observed in the various states.
3. Exercising your will power is about the only thing when children have this habit, some will mend their ways, but finger tips with something distasteful, so at the first bite the offender is reminded; keep strict guard over yourself and it might be well to have your mother or sister warn you, every time you forget.
4. Yes, yes.
5. In wash goods, figured voiles, crepes, cotton gabardine, and many pretty textiles may be purchased, choose any color to become you; see a style book for design.

Oranges and Lemons.

Dear Miss Grey—I some weeks ago one of your correspondents promised to send in a recipe for marmalade containing one orange and one lemon. Has it been printed yet? If it has I have missed it; would you mind having it printed again, as I am anxious to have it? I have been ill for five weeks, and was not able to see a paper for two months, so it may have been printed during that time, as I have looked for it in all papers since, but have not found it.
Could you or any of your readers tell me the best way to treat a cyclamen plant, also a sword fern? We burn gas—do you think it injurious to plants, as I seem to have such difficulty in keeping them?
8. I have a green Brussels rug, and it needs cleaning, could you tell me how I might clean it at home, last summer when the rugs were oiled I got some

Ans.—I think I understand just how it is, Jean, and I do not regard you as silly at all, but a very dear, wise, little girl. You forget to tell me how old you are, but I suppose, sixteen or seventeen. No, I do not think you should "give him up," but by all means continue to maintain your present attitude towards these things. A good punishment for him would be that "third person" you speak of. If he sees that you are in earnest, perhaps it will not be necessary to ask her. Your writing, Jean, is very good.

Grannie's Message.

Dear Miss Grey—Again I come to you for a bit space in your column. Have spoons given up? I am "Grannie" rather startled me, and I believe I read her letter over once or twice. What's in a name? Hers is good, as she believes in the power to do all she says. Her aim is high, ideals noble. She may fall to a certain extent through circumstances; we are all fallible in a way in something or other, since the beginning of time. But I believe she will not be a failure. If all men had mothers like her we would never have had a world of bloodshed and war, as we have today. I want to say to the married ladies and mothers of our correspondents, I am very sorry to think you could deliberately sneer at any good thing. You can't begin to hurt her; you have only let the world know that your own life has been a success. At home, your teaching staff in the school this evening. Several members of the board of education will also be present.

At Home For Teachers.

The Mothers' Club of Chesley Avenue School is holding an At Home for the teaching staff in the school this evening. Several members of the board of education will also be present.

A Difficult Matter.

Dear Miss Grey—Could you please tell me if Easter Sunday ever was on the 4th of April since the year 1857, until 1915? Thanking you,
J. D. K. READER.

Ans.—I do not know. There possibly is some way of finding this out, but personally I have not the knowledge.

The Backyard Garden.

CHAPTER XVII.
CABBAGE, KALE, ETC.
[By Prof. Spade.]
Cabbage journeys over a hazardous path from seed to crop. Rot, maggots and worm jeopardize the cabbage head from the time it appears above the ground. Cabbage plants are always started under glass for early crops, and transplanted. Transplanting is necessary for the later varieties, too, as only by developing the plants in beds, and exercising extreme care they reach the stage of hardiness to permit growth in the fields or open plot.
If you can set but a small number of plants, buying them would, perhaps, be better than attempting to grow them. Market growers drop a small amount of liquid manure into the hole (a half-pint of water will do) where the plant is set, and never plant a cabbage family. A strong sun with the leaves before the root has taken hold. The cold-frame will come in useful if the backyard farmer prefers to grow his own plants.
Cabbage requires rich ground, and comparatively quick results can be obtained under good conditions. It is possible to plant cabbage quite late in the season, if it is a quick variety, right onto the rug. Is there any means of cleaning it off successfully?

Advertiser Patterns

4. Could you tell me how to wash a tapestry table cover?
5. Could you tell me how to clean paper on the ceiling that is blackened by the smoke from burning gas?
6. Will you kindly have printed the list of wedding anniversaries and what each one means?

Ans.—1. A DAUGHTER OF ALBION.

The recipe has not yet been sent in, to my knowledge. Would the reader promising please let us have it for the benefit of Daughter of Albion?
2. Yes, indeed, gas does seem to injure house plants of any description. Better let the cyclamen dry out now, set the pot on one side, and cease watering; in about a month remove the bulb and keep in a cool, dry spot until the last of October; plant again in fresh earth, and you should have bloom for Christmas.
As to the sword fern, perhaps you can get it outdoors on the porch, these sunny days, and with a little fertilizer worked into the soil with a table fork, judicious watering, and fresh air, it should set a new lease of life.
3. I don't really see how you can clean the rug at home very successfully; wouldn't it pay to employ a professional cleaner? Any hints which readers send in would be greatly appreciated.
4. As in No. 3, would advise sending it to a cleaner?
5. You could try using this magic wall cleaner, but I am honestly somewhat doubtful if it will remove smoke. Six tablespoons salt, 6 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons coal oil, enough water to make a batter; put on stove and cook to a thick paste; form in balls and rub solid wall paper with this mixture.
6. First, cotton; second, paper; crystal; wooden; tenth, tin; fifteenth, crystal; twentieth, china; twenty-fifth, silver; thirtieth, pearl; fortieth, ruby; fiftieth, golden; seventy-fifth, diamond.
Your very excellent recipes have appeared elsewhere on this page.

The Best Paper.

Dear Miss Grey—We have taken The Morning Advertiser for nearly a year, and think it is the best paper we have ever taken.
Miss Grey, do you think it is right the way some of the women run on their husbands, and find so much fault with them? I think the women that write such letters are the ones that are to blame for most all the trouble that is in their homes. It shows they haven't got much sense or they wouldn't write about such stuff.
1. Could anyone tell me how much it would cost to get a tennis racket?
2. How can you mix gliding?
3. Do you think a girl 17 is too young to keep company with young men in the same good company, and her mother will allow it, not to go steady, but just for good times?
4. Hoping to see this in print soon, I remain,
J. M. E.

Ans.—1. A tennis net costs anywhere from six dollars up to fifteen; good tennis balls are fifty or seventy-five cents; and a racket from two to five dollars.

2. The powder is doubtless the kind that should be mixed with banana oil; this may be procured at any hardware or art goods store.
3. If your mother is willing, it is all right.
Answer for Jean.
JEAN—I think I understand just how it is, Jean, and I do not regard you as silly at all, but a very dear, wise, little girl. You forget to tell me how old you are, but I suppose, sixteen or seventeen. No, I do not think you should "give him up," but by all means continue to maintain your present attitude towards these things. A good punishment for him would be that "third person" you speak of. If he sees that you are in earnest, perhaps it will not be necessary to ask her. Your writing, Jean, is very good.

Grannie's Message.

Dear Miss Grey—Again I come to you for a bit space in your column. Have spoons given up? I am "Grannie" rather startled me, and I believe I read her letter over once or twice. What's in a name? Hers is good, as she believes in the power to do all she says. Her aim is high, ideals noble. She may fall to a certain extent through circumstances; we are all fallible in a way in something or other, since the beginning of time. But I believe she will not be a failure. If all men had mothers like her we would never have had a world of bloodshed and war, as we have today. I want to say to the married ladies and mothers of our correspondents, I am very sorry to think you could deliberately sneer at any good thing. You can't begin to hurt her; you have only let the world know that your own life has been a success. At home, your teaching staff in the school this evening. Several members of the board of education will also be present.

At Home For Teachers.

The Mothers' Club of Chesley Avenue School is holding an At Home for the teaching staff in the school this evening. Several members of the board of education will also be present.

A Difficult Matter.

Dear Miss Grey—Could you please tell me if Easter Sunday ever was on the 4th of April since the year 1857, until 1915? Thanking you,
J. D. K. READER.

Ans.—I do not know. There possibly is some way of finding this out, but personally I have not the knowledge.

The Backyard Garden.

CHAPTER XVII.
CABBAGE, KALE, ETC.
[By Prof. Spade.]
Cabbage journeys over a hazardous path from seed to crop. Rot, maggots and worm jeopardize the cabbage head from the time it appears above the ground. Cabbage plants are always started under glass for early crops, and transplanted. Transplanting is necessary for the later varieties, too, as only by developing the plants in beds, and exercising extreme care they reach the stage of hardiness to permit growth in the fields or open plot.
If you can set but a small number of plants, buying them would, perhaps, be better than attempting to grow them. Market growers drop a small amount of liquid manure into the hole (a half-pint of water will do) where the plant is set, and never plant a cabbage family. A strong sun with the leaves before the root has taken hold. The cold-frame will come in useful if the backyard farmer prefers to grow his own plants.
Cabbage requires rich ground, and comparatively quick results can be obtained under good conditions. It is possible to plant cabbage quite late in the season, if it is a quick variety, right

Ans.—1. A DAUGHTER OF ALBION.

The recipe has not yet been sent in, to my knowledge. Would the reader promising please let us have it for the benefit of Daughter of Albion?
2. Yes, indeed, gas does seem to injure house plants of any description. Better let the cyclamen dry out now, set the pot on one side, and cease watering; in about a month remove the bulb and keep in a cool, dry spot until the last of October; plant again in fresh earth, and you should have bloom for Christmas.
As to the sword fern, perhaps you can get it outdoors on the porch, these sunny days, and with a little fertilizer worked into the soil with a table fork, judicious watering, and fresh air, it should set a new lease of life.
3. I don't really see how you can clean the rug at home very successfully; wouldn't it pay to employ a professional cleaner? Any hints which readers send in would be greatly appreciated.
4. As in No. 3, would advise sending it to a cleaner?
5. You could try using this magic wall cleaner, but I am honestly somewhat doubtful if it will remove smoke. Six tablespoons salt, 6 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons coal oil, enough water to make a batter; put on stove and cook to a thick paste; form in balls and rub solid wall paper with this mixture.
6. First, cotton; second, paper; crystal; wooden; tenth, tin; fifteenth, crystal; twentieth, china; twenty-fifth, silver; thirtieth, pearl; fortieth, ruby; fiftieth, golden; seventy-fifth, diamond.
Your very excellent recipes have appeared elsewhere on this page.

The Best Paper.

Dear Miss Grey—We have taken The Morning Advertiser for nearly a year, and think it is the best paper we have ever taken.
Miss Grey, do you think it is right the way some of the women run on their husbands, and find so much fault with them? I think the women that write such letters are the ones that are to blame for most all the trouble that is in their homes. It shows they haven't got much sense or they wouldn't write about such stuff.
1. Could anyone tell me how much it would cost to get a tennis racket?
2. How can you mix gliding?
3. Do you think a girl 17 is too young to keep company with young men in the same good company, and her mother will allow it, not to go steady, but just for good times?
4. Hoping to see this in print soon, I remain,
J. M. E.

Ans.—1. A tennis net costs anywhere from six dollars up to fifteen; good tennis balls are fifty or seventy-five cents; and a racket from two to five dollars.

2. The powder is doubtless the kind that should be mixed with banana oil; this may be procured at any hardware or art goods store.
3. If your mother is willing, it is all right.
Answer for Jean.
JEAN—I think I understand just how it is, Jean, and I do not regard you as silly at all, but a very dear, wise, little girl. You forget to tell me how old you are, but I suppose, sixteen or seventeen. No, I do not think you should "give him up," but by all means continue to maintain your present attitude towards these things. A good punishment for him would be that "third person" you speak of. If he sees that you are in earnest, perhaps it will not be necessary to ask her. Your writing, Jean, is very good.

Grannie's Message.

Dear Miss Grey—Again I come to you for a bit space in your column. Have spoons given up? I am "Grannie" rather startled me, and I believe I read her letter over once or twice. What's in a name? Hers is good, as she believes in the power to do all she says. Her aim is high, ideals noble. She may fall to a certain extent through circumstances; we are all fallible in a way in something or other, since the beginning of time. But I believe she will not be a failure. If all men had mothers like her we would never have had a world of bloodshed and war, as we have today. I want to say to the married ladies and mothers of our correspondents, I am very sorry to think you could deliberately sneer at any good thing. You can't begin to hurt her; you have only let the world know that your own life has been a success. At home, your teaching staff in the school this evening. Several members of the board of education will also be present.

At Home For Teachers.

The Mothers' Club of Chesley Avenue School is holding an At Home for the teaching staff in the school this evening. Several members of the board of education will also be present.

Advertiser Patterns

onto the rug. Is there any means of cleaning it off successfully?
4. Could you tell me how to wash a tapestry table cover?
5. Could you tell me how to clean paper on the ceiling that is blackened by the smoke from burning gas?
6. Will you kindly have printed the list of wedding anniversaries and what each one means?

Ans.—1. A DAUGHTER OF ALBION.

The recipe has not yet been sent in, to my knowledge. Would the reader promising please let us have it for the benefit of Daughter of Albion?
2. Yes, indeed, gas does seem to injure house plants of any description. Better let the cyclamen dry out now, set the pot on one side, and cease watering; in about a month remove the bulb and keep in a cool, dry spot until the last of October; plant again in fresh earth, and you should have bloom for Christmas.
As to the sword fern, perhaps you can get it outdoors on the porch, these sunny days, and with a little fertilizer worked into the soil with a table fork, judicious watering, and fresh air, it should set a new lease of life.
3. I don't really see how you can clean the rug at home very successfully; wouldn't it pay to employ a professional cleaner? Any hints which readers send in would be greatly appreciated.
4. As in No. 3, would advise sending it to a cleaner?
5. You could try using this magic wall cleaner, but I am honestly somewhat doubtful if it will remove smoke. Six tablespoons salt, 6 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons coal oil, enough water to make a batter; put on stove and cook to a thick paste; form in balls and rub solid wall paper with this mixture.
6. First, cotton; second, paper; crystal; wooden; tenth, tin; fifteenth, crystal; twentieth, china; twenty-fifth, silver; thirtieth, pearl; fortieth, ruby; fiftieth, golden; seventy-fifth, diamond.
Your very excellent recipes have appeared elsewhere on this page.

The Best Paper.

Dear Miss Grey—We have taken The Morning Advertiser for nearly a year, and think it is the best paper we have ever taken.
Miss Grey, do you think it is right the way some of the women run on their husbands, and find so much fault with them? I think the women that write such letters are the ones that are to blame for most all the trouble that is in their homes. It shows they haven't got much sense or they wouldn't write about such stuff.
1. Could anyone tell me how much it would cost to get a tennis racket?
2. How can you mix gliding?
3. Do you think a girl 17 is too young to keep company with young men in the same good company, and her mother will allow it, not to go steady, but just for good times?
4. Hoping to see this in print soon, I remain,
J. M. E.

Ans.—1. A tennis net costs anywhere from six dollars up to fifteen; good tennis balls are fifty or seventy-five cents; and a racket from two to five dollars.

2. The powder is doubtless the kind that should be mixed with banana oil; this may be procured at any hardware or art goods store.
3. If your mother is willing, it is all right.
Answer for Jean.
JEAN—I think I understand just how it is, Jean, and I do not regard you as silly at all, but a very dear, wise, little girl. You forget to tell me how old you are, but I suppose, sixteen or seventeen. No, I do not think you should "give him up," but by all means continue to maintain your present attitude towards these things. A good punishment for him would be that "third person" you speak of. If he sees that you are in earnest, perhaps it will not be necessary to ask her. Your writing, Jean, is very good.

Grannie's Message.

Dear Miss Grey—Again I come to you for a bit space in your column. Have spoons given up? I am "Grannie" rather startled me, and I believe I read her letter over once or twice. What's in a name? Hers is good, as she believes in the power to do all she says. Her aim is high, ideals noble. She may fall to a certain extent through circumstances; we are all fallible in a way in something or other, since the beginning of time. But I believe she will not be a failure. If all men had mothers like her we would never have had a world of bloodshed and war, as we have today. I want to say to the married ladies and mothers of our correspondents, I am very sorry to think you could deliberately sneer at any good thing. You can't begin to hurt her; you have only let the world know that your own life has been a success. At home, your teaching staff in the school this evening. Several members of the board of education will also be present.

At Home For Teachers.

The Mothers' Club of Chesley Avenue School is holding an At Home for the teaching staff in the school this evening. Several members of the board of education will also be present.

A Difficult Matter.

Dear Miss Grey—Could you please tell me if Easter Sunday ever was on the 4th of April since the year 1857, until 1915? Thanking you,
J. D. K. READER.

Ans.—I do not know. There possibly is some way of finding this out, but personally I have not the knowledge.

The Backyard Garden.

CHAPTER XVII.
CABBAGE, KALE, ETC.
[By Prof. Spade.]
Cabbage journeys over a hazardous path from seed to crop. Rot, maggots and worm jeopardize the cabbage head from the time it appears above the ground. Cabbage plants are always started under glass for early crops, and transplanted. Transplanting is necessary for the later varieties, too, as only by developing the plants in beds, and exercising extreme care they reach the stage of hardiness to permit growth in the fields or open plot.
If you can set but a small number of plants, buying them would, perhaps, be better than attempting to grow them. Market growers drop a small amount of liquid manure into the hole (a half-pint of water will do) where the plant is set, and never plant a cabbage family. A strong sun with the leaves before the root has taken hold. The cold-frame will come in useful if the backyard farmer prefers to grow his own plants.
Cabbage requires rich ground, and comparatively quick results can be obtained under good conditions. It is possible to plant cabbage quite late in the season, if it is a quick variety, right

Ans.—1. A DAUGHTER OF ALBION.

The recipe has not yet been sent in, to my knowledge. Would the reader promising please let us have it for the benefit of Daughter of Albion?
2. Yes, indeed, gas does seem to injure house plants of any description. Better let the cyclamen dry out now, set the pot on one side, and cease watering; in about a month remove the bulb and keep in a cool, dry spot until the last of October; plant again in fresh earth, and you should have bloom for Christmas.
As to the sword fern, perhaps you can get it outdoors on the porch, these sunny days, and with a little fertilizer worked into the soil with a table fork, judicious watering, and fresh air, it should set a new lease of life.
3. I don't really see how you can clean the rug at home very successfully; wouldn't it pay to employ a professional cleaner? Any hints which readers send in would be greatly appreciated.
4. As in No. 3, would advise sending it to a cleaner?
5. You could try using this magic wall cleaner, but I am honestly somewhat doubtful if it will remove smoke. Six tablespoons salt, 6 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons coal oil, enough water to make a batter; put on stove and cook to a thick paste; form in balls and rub solid wall paper with this mixture.
6. First, cotton; second, paper; crystal; wooden; tenth, tin; fifteenth, crystal; twentieth, china; twenty-fifth, silver; thirtieth, pearl; fortieth, ruby; fiftieth, golden; seventy-fifth, diamond.
Your very excellent recipes have appeared elsewhere on this page.

The Best Paper.

Dear Miss Grey—We have taken The Morning Advertiser for nearly a year, and think it is the best paper we have ever taken.
Miss Grey, do you think it is right the way some of the women run on their husbands, and find so much fault with them? I think the women that write such letters are the ones that are to blame for most all the trouble that is in their homes. It shows they haven't got much sense or they wouldn't write about such stuff.
1. Could anyone tell me how much it would cost to get a tennis racket?
2. How can you mix gliding?
3. Do you think a girl 17 is too young to keep company with young men in the same good company, and her mother will allow it, not to go steady, but just for good times?
4. Hoping to see this in print soon, I remain,
J. M. E.

Ans.—1. A tennis net costs anywhere from six dollars up to fifteen; good tennis balls are fifty or seventy-five cents; and a racket from two to five dollars.

2. The powder is doubtless the kind that should be mixed with banana oil; this may be procured at any hardware or art goods store.
3. If your mother is willing, it is all right.
Answer for Jean.
JEAN—I think I understand just how it is, Jean, and I do not regard you as silly at all, but a very dear, wise, little girl. You forget to tell me how old you are, but I suppose, sixteen or seventeen. No, I do not think you should "give him up," but by all means continue to maintain your present attitude towards these things. A good punishment for him would be that "third person" you speak of. If he sees that you are in earnest, perhaps it will not be necessary to ask her. Your writing, Jean, is very good.

Grannie's Message.

Dear Miss Grey—Again I come to you for a bit space in your column. Have spoons given up? I am "Grannie" rather startled me, and I believe I read her letter over once or twice. What's in a name? Hers is good, as she believes in the power to do all she says. Her aim is high, ideals noble. She may fall to a certain extent through circumstances; we are all fallible in a way in something or other, since the beginning of time. But I believe she will not be a failure. If all men had mothers like her we would never have had a world of bloodshed and war, as we have today. I want to say to the married ladies and mothers of our correspondents, I am very sorry to think you could deliberately sneer at any good thing. You can't begin to hurt her; you have only let the world know that your own life has been a success. At home, your teaching staff in the school this evening. Several members of the board of education will also be present.

At Home For Teachers.

The Mothers' Club of Chesley Avenue School is holding an At Home for the teaching staff in the school this evening. Several members of the board of education will also be present.

Two Millinery Specials

For Saturday's Quick Selling Untrimmed Shapes $1.49

On sale Saturday at 9 a.m., Untrimmed Hat Shapes, transparent brims and braid crowns, tagel and chip braids, in black, white and a few tuscans. Regular value $3.00, Saturday $1.49

Trimmed Hats $2.49 Each

One table of Stylish Trimmed Hats, a good variety of styles and colorings. On sale Saturday at 9 a.m., at $2.49 See These Lines in Display Windows.

Gloves

A Very Special Bargain in Long Silk Gloves. A 16-button length, double tip, strongly woven silk glove, in all sizes, in black and white. This is a real heavy quality silk glove. We consider this line the biggest bargain we have ever offered in gloves. A limited quantity Saturday at $1.00 pair

Embroidered Bedroom Sets

Scalloped or Hemstitched—"Like Linen" Spreads at $3.95 and $4.50 each Sheets at $2.75 each Pillow Cases at $1.25 pair Dresser Scarfs at $1.00 each Stand Covers at $1.00 each

Sold by the entire set or as separate pieces.

Saturday Shopping News From the Staple Department

36-Inch White Cotton. Regular 10c yard, for $1.00 40-Inch Plain Pillow Cotton. Regular 20c yard. Sale price 16c yard

40-Inch Longcloth, a nice fine soft cotton, suitable for gowns and underwear. Sale price 14c yard 21/4 yards wide, Bleached Sheetings. Sale price 29c yard

Huckaback Towels, splendid quality, at 12 1/2c each Huck Towels, large size, at 35c pair Galatea Suitings, splendid assortment of patterns for children's dresses and suits, at 15c per yard Wash Suitings, cinderella cloth, kindergarten cloth and drill suitings, wide width, fast colors, at 20c per yard

Old Songs and Poems

"HULLO!" (S. W. FOSS.) When you see a man in woe, Walk right up an' say "Hullo!" Say "Hullo!" an' "How d'ye do?" "How's the world a-usin' you?" Bring yer han' down with a whack; Waltz right up an' don't go slow; Grin an' shake an' say "Hullo!"

Is he clothed in rags? Oh, shoo! Walk right up an' say "Hullo!" Rags is but a cotton roll Jest fer wrappin' up a soul; An' a soul is worth a true Hale and hearty "How d'ye do?" Don't wait for the crowd to go; Walk right up an' say "Hullo!"

When the vessels meet, they say, They saloot an' sail away. Jest the same as you an' me— Lonesome ships upon a sea: Each one ealling his own log For a port beyond the fog. Let yer speakin'-trumper blow, Lift yer horn an' say "Hullo!"

Say "Hullo!" an' "How d'ye do?" Other folks are good as you. "Wanderin' in the Far-Away; When you travel through the strange Country o'er the sea range; Then the souls you've cheered will know Who ye be, an' say "Hullo!"

RED CROSS COLUMN

One of the most interesting gifts received so far by the Canadian Red Cross Society reached headquarters in Toronto recently in the form of one scarf and three knitted wristlets, which were coming week. Mrs. W. K. Ross very kindly gave instruction regarding pillow slips for the Shorncliffe hospital, and Miss Mabel Macbeth on behalf of the Humane Society urged the necessity of co-operation, that horses in the Empire's service may not be forgotten among other activities. On Saturday next the public will have an opportunity of remembering these faithful friends. A generous donation was reported from Mrs. Walter Humberston to be used as the regent thought best. The Lord Roberts's chapter served tea and welcomed the visiting chapter at the close of the afternoon.