HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

Eddie Collins Gives Ten Rules For Playing Second Base

SPEED IS THE THING

BY EDDIE COLLINS,
World's Greatest Second Baseman.

FIRST—Cover the bag. That should be the slogan of every second baseman. On every ball hit a play may arise at your bag; be there ready for it.

SECOND—Have a perfect understanding with your co-worker, the shortstop. Have a simple but obvious sign with the shortstop, that will permit one another to know who will cover the bag.

THIRD—The second baseman must cooperate with the first baseman under certain conditions. With a runner on first and no one out, always be ready to cover first on a bunt. In order to be in proper position to make this play, move a trifle closer to first and do not play as deep as usual.

FOURTH—It is always advisable to know the catcher's signs, so as to be familiar with what style ball is to be pitched.

FIFTH—If the second baseman covers on an attempted steal, he should arrive at the bag in ample time to take the throw. Never wait until the ball is in the catcher's hands. Leave your position as the runner starts.

SIXTH—When anticipating such a play it is wise for the second baseman to move a couple of steps closer to the bag than is customary.

SEVENTH—With a runner on first, play closer to second than is customary.

EIGHTH—The second baseman must learn to get the ball away quickly. In making a double play the secret of success lies in speed. Be in a position to receive as well as throw it.

NINTH—If your batter is known to be a so-called right field hitter, the shortstop should always cover with a runner on first. If he is a left field hitter, the second baseman should cover.

TENTH—Have mind, attention and every thought on the game at all times. Carry on no conversation except such as is absolutely necessary. Concentrate. Be alive to every situation. Worry a base runner on second all you can by not permitting him to get much of a lead. Do it in such a way, however, that you won't leave your position unprotected. In conclusion, never lose sight of the ball.

GRIMES VICTIM OF CUBS' HIT ATTACK

Giants Strengthen Lead With Fourth From Reds.

'EXILED' FROM MARS TO JAIL

Mother and Two Sons, Feet Bare, Hair Long, Talk To Stars.

Police Charge Trio Mentally Affected by Addiction To Drugs.

DETROIT, June 13.—Nightly a mother and her two grown sons, all shoeless, the boys unshorn, tenants on the third floor of an apartment building at 3684 Trumbull avenue, staged a conversation with the planets, Mars, Neptune or Jupiter.

Occasionally in the daytime they held a talk-fest with the sun from their back porch, their arms waving, their hands gripping heated pieces of steel, tin or copper wire, while they shouted to old Sol: "Come down, be good to us," and the neighborhood perched itself on nearby barns and sheds enjoying the "show."

But the other tenants of the building didn't enjoy the midnight versions of the "show." It kept up for hours nightly for seven weeks, winding each time with a grand concert of battling and the breaking of furniture.

Policemen Stop It.
Early Tuesday it broke up with a half dozen patrolmen dragging the participants, Mrs. Anna Kearney, 50, and her sons, Stanley, 24, and Philip, 26, to jail, on a warrant charging them with disturbing the peace.

Wherefore, the tenants of the Trumbull apartments Tuesday lined up in recorder's court with stories to tell about the defendants, still shoeless, the men unshorn and coatless.

It seems the Kearneys, to quote them, once lived on Mars, got in bad with the powers up there, were liquidated by electricity and sent over to Neptune or some other planet. They got their bodies back, but not their manners, and were electrically liquidated again and banished over to the sun. There they proved bad tenants once more and got the gate in snappy fashion. Being incorrigible, they finally were exiled to earth, which, it seems, is about the lowest place to be on.

Disatisfied Here.
Since then they've been terribly dissatisfied and went to get back. Any old planet will do.

Patrolmen showed the court a couple of bales of scrap tin, iron junk and copper wire, which they claim, the Kearneys burned to liquidate themselves back to another planet. These were heated on the kitchen gas range, the Kearneys inhaling the smoke "to warm their stomachs," and give them the power to communicate with the sun and other celestial bodies. While the other tenants testified it gave them bad moments, and nearly always drove them from the building.

The mother and the sons were ordered sent to the city psychiatrist for observation. Another son, Dan, 14, was ordered sent to the juvenile detention home.

Police declare the trio mentally affected by addiction to drugs. None of them worked or ever left their home, neighbors say, refused to visit with the other tenants, and kept their heads under against visitors. Patrolmen had to subdue all three to place them under arrest early Tuesday.

GOODY DRIBBLES.
R. C. R.'s and Grand Trunk played a 1-1 tie last night in the City Soccer League, and produced one of the best games of the season. R. C. R.'s scored after the first minute of play, Froderick accounting for the quick tally after some fine combination. Grand Trunk came back in three minutes and evened matters up. Thorne doing the trick. However, after this neither team could make any progress in the way of goals, though they both put up a fine brand of the game. R. C. R.'s came nearest to winning with a rush near the final whistle.

Referee Spilsbury handled the game well.

The W. O. R. football club is celebrating its Saturday victory with a banquet at the De Luxe Cafe tonight. Lt.-Col. Reid will be the guest of honor.

Saturday's second round cup tie tilt between Trunks and Rovers of St. Thomas will also be sent on to the L. and D. executive.

John Cunliffe is the new pilot of the city soccer league. W. Sheard is his second in command.

During the meeting it was discovered that Ince's suspension by President Alexander and Hartnell, O'Farrell, all such cases must be dealt with by the governing body, which is the L. and D. executive.

Holt of St. Andrews, whose case came up last night before the St. Thomas City League, will also be sent on to the L. and D. executive.

The Army and Navy would like to arrange an exhibition game with any city soccer league team having no league fixture on Saturday first. Any communications regarding an exhibition game should be addressed to Mr. H. Faulkner, 198 Clarence street, who is now secretary of the Army and Navy team.

There will be a meeting of the Army and Navy players and officials at 194 Clarence street tonight at 7:30. Business is very important.

St. Andrews meet Grand Trunk Wasse Thursday night in a city soccer league fixture at Carling Heights, kick-off at 8:15. Since the Wasse have beaten the Saints, this tilt will be a factor in estimating the Scotch team at full strength.

The St. Andrews team will be chosen from the following players, who are requested to be on hand:

Whitlaw, Peebles, Wilson, MacFarlane, Owen, Holt, Morgan, McIntosh, Croal, Russell, Adamson, J. Smith, D. Smith and Knight.

MATTHEWS IS NEW EUROPEAN CHAMP
LONDON, June 13.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The boxing bout between Billy Matthews of London and Arthur Wynns of Belgium, at Liverpool last night, when Matthews captured the title of featherweight champion of Europe, was a fine contest. It was witnessed by a small attendance, however. The local marf was owing to his superior speed, which enabled him to pile up points early in the contest.

Raps Delorme Story As "Veritable Lie."

MONTREAL, June 13.—Mr. Justice Monet, sitting in the court of king's bench, today heatedly referred to an article published in La Presse embodying a statement to the effect that the alienists engaged to ascertain the mental fitness of Adelard Delorme to stand trial for the murder of his half-brother Raoul had decided the prisoner was insane, declaring the article to be a "veritable lie" and stating that unless La Presse publishes a retraction he has prepared, he would close the doors of the court to that paper's representatives for the rest of the Delorme trial.

To the jury of the court of king's bench his lordship said: "The article is absolutely false. You should conduct yourself as though you had never seen it."

FOUR KILLED IN DETROIT BLAST
Two Overcome in Battling Ammonia Fumes To Reach Dead in Tunnel.

DETROIT, June 13.—Four men were killed and one injured by the explosion of a tank in the ammonia room of Parker, Webb & Co., Michigan avenue and Twentieth street, here today.

Two firemen were overcome and had to be revived by pulmotors in attempting to reach the bodies through rooms filled with ammonia fumes.

Fire followed the explosion, doing $15,000 damage to the ammonia engine and boiler rooms.

Trapped In Tunnel.
The four men, company officials say, lost their lives in rushing into the tunnel leading from the ammonia room, under the engine and boiler room, to the refrigerator plant on the upper floors, in an heroic effort to turn off the flow of ammonia along the tunnel pipes.

The bodies of three of the workmen were recovered by firemen, protected with gas masks, and with ropes about their bodies, who waded through the tunnel, waist deep with water.

Only one was positively identified, as that of Robert Birney, 41, married, 1749 Beecher street, a pickler.

The other bodies are believed to be those of Charles Newman, 29, single, 101 Montcalm street west, a steam-fitter, and of William Nagel, 34, married, 5553 Maxwell avenue.

One In Ruins.
Firemen late this afternoon were ordered by fire chiefs, at the suggestion of Dr. James E. Burgess, coroner, to halt the attempts to recover the fourth body, believed to be that of J. Gallanay, 35, married, 4572 Vancouver avenue.

Firemen found it wedged under a boiler, but it was bloated to three times its natural size by the fumes and could not be extricated. They emerged when the fumes began to penetrate their gas masks. Dr. Burgess said the danger was too great to attempt recovery until the fumes had become less dense.

The bodies of two men were recovered in a tunnel, underneath the engine room by firemen Martin LeBouef and George W. Delaney, who, wearing gas masks, had gone through a tunnel for 100 feet in water up to their waists. Both firemen were nearly overcome before they could fight their way back to safety. They were revived with pulmotors.

Ropes Save Lives.
Access to the tunnel was gained by breaking away the floor of the outside loading platform, outside the engine room building. Were it not for the ropes attached to their waists LeBouef and Delaney would have lost their lives in making their way back to the street.

Other firemen, also carrying gas masks and roped together, brought the bodies of the two workmen to the street. They were so badly swollen and the flesh so badly disintegrated from the action of the fumes that they were not recognized, and could be handled only with the greatest difficulty.

FIND LONG LOST TREASURE BOX

Needle of Magnetic Divining Rod Locates Gold.

Was Buried Beneath Waters of River Three Hundred Years Ago.

PENETANGUISHENE, June 13.—Buried beneath the waters of the River Wye for more than three hundred years, the long lost treasure box of the Jesuit Mission to Huronia, has been located at last by the needle of a magnetic divining rod. It lies beneath twenty feet of water and mud and divers are now starting to raise it.

Just what the box will show when it is brought to light, is at present a matter of conjecture, but the needle shows that it contains gold in great quantities.

This finding is verified by the records of the Society of Jesus, which shows that one of the seven big boxes brought into New France in the year 1650 and laboriously carried to Fort Sainte Marie by canoe, was lost and never recovered. An examination of the records indicates that the box contains the altar candelabra and the pay chest of the troops which accompanied the black-robed missionaries into the wilderness of Huronia. If this be so the value of the treasure will be enormous, as the vestments were the present of the court of France and were of solid gold. So far as is known to date, they were sent into the wilderness and disappeared.

Although tradition had it that the seventh box was buried beneath the waters of the Wye, no serious attempt was made to locate it until a few days ago. This search was stimulated by the recollection of a story told by a raftman some thirty years ago that he had touched the box when polling logs. The story recently was told Diver Captain Carson and he interested Ed. Jeffery, who had invented a peculiar magnetic divining rod which had given great satisfaction in showing ore and mineral deposits.

The two rows about the river, testing its depths until at length the needles of the divining rod showed strong reaction to the influence of gold. The place in the river was charted and subsequently the position and measurements of the chest were confirmed by steel rods. Its dimensions correspond exactly to the one lost by the Jesuit Fathers when Fort Sainte Marie was in building.

EXETER
EXETER, June 13.—Sunday marked a red letter day for the Salvation Army. Several of the brethren of London, accompanied by the silver band, came up Saturday and remained over for Sunday. Meetings were held in the parks, to which scores went from far and near. The rain cut short the meeting Sunday evening.

The numerous downpours of rain lately have left the gardens and fields in lakes of water. This supply of moisture should prove a boon to the farmers.
