SHAMROCKS BEAT THISTLES IN SECOND GAME 17 TO 12

Most Strenuous Game of Girls' Basketball Ever Seen in the City Marks Final Between Two Rivals at the Armories Saturday Night.

Shamrocks defeated Thirdles 17-12 Saturday night in the most strenuous me of girls' basketball ever witnessed in London. This gives Shamrocks a Breach Does Everything It was that edge on team play which won for Shamrocks, long basses and the ability to get away from their leech-like Thistle hecks at critical moments that counted effectively in the scoring.

Chistles far surpassed Shamrocks in close-in team play and in COULON ALSO GOOD the whole Thistle team, with possibly two and not more than three Shamrocks, were in a writhing, twisting mass, which mauled its way down toward the Shamrock basket, and through which it was difficult to follow the ball. If Shamrocks got the ball, as they did on three or four occasions, the long pass of the Shamrocks came into effective use, with disastrous results to Thistle chances.

Not more than two minutes had passed before Referce Miller ad lost track of the game, as far as discipline went. Both the cams were in the saddle, and they were setting the pace to suit nemselves. In justice to Miller, however, he had a difficult job on and, and had he tried discipline, the crowd would probably have and a whistling in their ears all through the quiet Sabbath. Last came, Thistle supporters claimed, Referee Miller thought it was even of one and half a dozen of the other to a round dozen of penalties. Saturday night his simple arithmetic was much better. L. Milne, and while he missed a few of the criminal outcroppings, he passed them out as evenly as they came. Thistles had one more personal them out as evenly as they came. Thistles had one more personal foul than the Shamrocks, but if the series did not do anything more it at least proved, and especially Saturday night's game, that neither of the teams had any monopoly on rough play.

Attle Frances Talbot, Rene Curnoe and Pearl Blackwell were thinks of how it came about. St. Louis had four men on trial for third. There was Ellierbe, who had been and while Thistles moved out to the point several feet in front of the basket, expecting a toss-up, Mr. Miller tossed the ball to a Shamrock for a throw-in. Most of the Thistles just looked around also heard him): "Throw the ball." A quick pass to Lottle Garrett, standing off to one side, at shota, and Shamrocks were ahead, 10 to 8. It looked and Ruel.

New York April 28.—Robertson of St.
Louis can today lay claim to being at least first cousin to old man opportunity, and in pretty good standing with him at that. The old man did not stop at knocking at Robertson's door. He entered, grabbed Robertson by the nape of the neck and forced him to play third.

Mittle Frances Talbot, Rene Curnoe and Pearl Blackwell were all knocked out for a few moments, but all three gamely continued in the affray once they recovered.

Lottie Garrett and Rene Curnoe shared the outstanding honors of the night. The former made 13 of the Shamrock total, two of the baskets being beautiful shots. Lottie, with Isobel Duncan, who accounted for the remaining four Shamrock points, and Pearl the first time speed has been called a lability for an infielder. Foll was misted for a time but he did not stay misted.

Brantford, April 29.—King Baseball will make his debut to Brantford fans next Saturday afternoon, when the ball-tossets from Port Credit come to this city for the opening game of the Hamilton Central Senior Baseball League.

The schedule for the first three games as drawn up at a meeting held in Hamilton Saturday afternoon is as follows:

Manager Mackey allowed three of his squad to go their own way yesterday in preparation for the start tonight for Flint, where the Londoners open tomorrow. Karl, Woods and Schnee are the three. Picard, the likely-looking right-hander, will remain behind to give his arm more work, joining the squad later.

What good advertising can be done for a city is shown by the Hamilton Collegiate track team. Saturday at Penn State games, on the same bill with Oxford and the big American universities, and against the best secondary school talent the eastern seaboard of United States could muster, they won their race, and not only brought fame to Canada but to Hamilton as well. Popular subscriptions paid their way.

London, April 28 .- Disorders, in which a number of persons were in-jured, marked the associataion footall match between the Westham Uniteds and Bolton Wanderers which the latter won 2-0 in the great new stadium at Wembley Hill this after-noon. The trouble was attributed largely to the intense feeling be-tween the supporters of the two contestants, crowds of Bolton adherents coming to London on special trains for the game.

Just before play was scheduled to begin the crowd, the greatest ever seen at a football match in Great Britain swarmed over the field and defied the police to remove them.
