Grand Ball to Be Given at Assembly Hall on September Ninth.

Guests, British and American Navies and Chambers of Commerce Delegates.

It is five years since the citizens of the Capital City tendered an entertain ment in the form of a ball to their good friends, the representatives of His Grafriends, the representatives of His Gracious Majesty's North Pacific squadron. It is the more surprising that so long a time should have been allowed to elapse by the Victorians, when it is remembered that on that memorable occasion everyone voted that the ball was perhaps the most delightful affali ever held in this city. It was talked of for years after as one of the bright particular spots in the entertainment annals of this gay city.

At one time the ball to the navy was an annual fixture, and why it was allowed to lapse is a mystery. Victoria owes much to the gallant members of the Royal Navy stationed here, and it is the general opinion that something should be done to show the hearty appreciation of Victoria's citizens towards the splendid body of men who have the guardianship of the Empire's integrity at this part in their keeping, for the Royal Navy is Britannia's first line of defence. Moreover, it cannot be overlooked that the amount spent annually by the fleet in this city is one of the most considerable items in its commerce. Few of the citizens realize what that amount really is, and it would astonish them did they know.

Many another good and sufficient reason could be advanced why Victorians should extend the warmest hospitality toward the gallant men who are in a sense the guests of the city for the term of their commission. The same remarks apply with equal force to the Royal Artillery and Royal Engineers who are now part of the defence force at Victoria.

It is now proposed to tender a grand.

More Improvements For the Royal Navy, and it is a singularly happy coincidence that on that date there will be here as visitors to the city representatives of two other august powers, namely, four representative vessels of the United States navy, and the delegates to the Congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire. Thus, the proposed function will have a triple significance. There is no question that from the spirit already evineed by Victoria's leading men, in special meeting assembled yesterday forenoon, that the reputation of the city as a whole-hearted, hospitable entertainer, will in nowise suffer. On that auspicious occasion the people of Victoria will have a unique opportunity to extend the hand of good fellowship to, not only the representatives of the British navy and army, but also to those of the navy of the great Republic, and at the same time to entertaining men who to a great degree shape the commercial destines of the British Empire,

It will indeed be an occasion worthy of remembrance, and one quite without precedent in the history of Victoria, who had his wife arrested here for bigamy in marrying John Blyth in Vancouver, was unmercially restricted here for bigamy in marrying John Blyth in Vancouver, was unmercially restricted here for bigamy in marrying John Blyth in Vancouver, was unmercially restricted here for bigamy in marrying John Blyth in Vancouver, was unmercially restricted here for bigamy in marrying John Blyth in Vancouver, was unmercially restricted here for bigamy in marrying John Blyth in Vancouver, was unmercially restricted here for bigamy in marrying John Blyth in Vancouver, was unmercially restricted here for bigamy in marrying John Blyth in Vancouver, was unmercially restricted here for bigamy in marrying John Blyth in Vancouver, was unmercially restricted here for bigamy in marrying John Blyth in Vancouver, was unmercially restricted here for bigamy in marrying John Blyth in Vancouver, was unmercially restricted here for bigamy in marrying John for the Chambers of Commerce party, it may safely be said that it is the most distinguished body which has ever visited the West. No such opportunity was ever offered advantage its powers as host and entertainers. It is hardly necessary to point out to the citizens that success is only to be secured by all working harmoniously together for the desired end.

At the City Hall yesterday the meeting convened by Mayor McCandless to discuss the matter was well attended by leading citizens, and a prompt that was well attended by leading citizens, and a prompt that was well attended by the od by leading citizens, and a prompt the land at present occupied by the mills start was made with the business. The following general committee was appointed with power to add to their number:

The price of tickets was fixed at $19 for gentleman and two ladies.

The meeting was adjourned till the meeting was adjourned till the morrow at 4 p.m., when music, prinding, decoration and supper committees will be appointed, and other necessary business transacted.

An encouraging indication of the value in the matter is shown in the fact that a large number have already subscribed to the fund. The suggestion of His Worship has been received everywhere with enthusiasm. Everything points to a brilliantly successful function on the evening of September 9. It only remains now for the citizens to strengthen the hands of the committees so that the affair shall redound to the honor and diguity of Victoria, and the province as a whole.

ell as the race wore on. The race was, spiritiess from the beginning. It was taid fifteen miles to windward up to the Long Island shore and return. Its only feature was the start, in which Captain Wringe, by a pretty piece of manoeuving, neatly turned the tables on the Yankee captain and captured the windward side. Even so the yachts crossed the line abreast as a harnessed team of the line abreast as a harnessed team of horses. But within fifteen minutes the defender showed her heels to the challenger, and when the float at the outer mark was reached, she rounded it 20 minutes and 23 seconds ahead of her

The only interest which remained after that was as to whether the Reliance would be able to reach the finish line in time to score the race. Unfil five minutes before the start Captain Barr held the windward berth, then both ran away from the line, the Shamrock leading. Two minutes before the starting gun the Shamrock headed up into the wind tacked, forced the Reliance to 40 the same, and both ran for the line, Reliance leading. They reached it before the starting gun, and the Reliance had to run along the leeside of it to wait the gun. The Shamrock reached the line as the gun sounded, and, not having to sheer off, secured the weather position. It was a trick which Captain Barr had worked offen, but never with a more satisfactory result than did Capt. Wringe today. Five times the boats have met. This
