Zielinski v. College of Physicians and Surgeons and R. A. Pyne was taken after adjournment. The plaintiff is an eclectic medical practitioner, and has been practising since 1865, and claims that he is and has been entitled since 1870 to be registered as such by the defendants, but they refuse to register him, though in 1884, he says, defendant Pyne promised to register him if he proved that he had been in practice for four years previous to 1870, or even in 1870, but when he adduced the evidence, still he was wrongfully refused registration. Plaintiff further says that defendants twice prosecuted him for practising medicine for hire, and as the result of the last prosecution he was in jail for four days. After each of the prosecutions the plaintiff says he engaged and paid counsel to appeal his case, and procure a jury trial, but the said counsel wrongfully and wilfully neglected his case and he suffers without redress. At last an agent of the defendants called upon him and told him to continue to practice and they would register him in June last, but eclectic medical practitioner, and has been practising since 1865, and claims Total Assets. the defendants called upon him and told him to continue to practice and they would register him in June last, but defendant Pyne still declining, plaintiff appealed to council of defendants and presented a petition signed by many priment doctors and citizens, who testified to his skill, but still the College would not register him. The plaintiff says he has suffered damages by reason of such treatment. He also says that it is the duty of the college to provide for the medical education of scleenties and to appoint examiners to examine as to their fitness, which they have failed to do. He is willing to have failed to do. He is willing to take ninety-five thousand dollars for the damages he has sustained and asks also for a mandamus to compel the college to register him and for an injunction to restrain further processition. tion to restrain further prosecutions of him. The defendants deny all the plaintiffs' allegations, but are willing to register him if he will produce a certificate from some eclectic board. The defendants also seem to think that it would be inconvenient for them to pay the amount of damages claimed. M. H. East for plaintiff. H. S. Dsler for defendants Owing to the non-attendance of Dr.

Owing to the non-attendance of Dr. Orr, a witness for plaintiff, the learned chief justice kindly adjourned the case until Tuesday, suggesting that if the defendants would not register the plaintiff until he had passed an examination it might be easier and less troublesome for him to get a special Act of Parliament to enable him to practise.

Montreal, Nov. 7.—Mr. E. A. Struthers, manager of Dr. Bernardo's Industrial Farm at Russell, Man., who was in the city today, states that the establishment is in a flourishing condition, and is doing a first-rate work, not only for the boys, but for the country to which they have come. The Home was established in 1888, and since then 700 boys between 17 and 22 have passed through the institution. Some 40 more young men are expected out by the Allan liner Mongolian, and upon their arrival will proceed with Mr. Struthers to their new home in Russell, which is located on the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway. These boys remain in charge of Dr. Bernardo's experienced farmers during one year, and after this they are placed with farmers of the surrounding districts, the supply from the Home being only one-tenth of the demand.

"One of our objects," says Mr. Struthers, "is to colonize the boys. We have 9000 acres at our disposal, and we make the young men tenants on the share. A number of them are already doing well, and a good many of them have homesteads of their own."

McIntyre & Wardwell (John J. Dixon) received the following despatch to-day from Schwartz, Dupee & Co., Chicago:

The shorts in wheat had a small scare this morning at the decline in consols and French rentes, which was construed as a reflection of the political situation abroad. The demand principally was for the Dec. option, offerings of which were sold freely for Northwestern account, and had the effect of checking the advance in Dec. and were for 289,000 busn at 3%0 to Toledo an 3c-to, Buffalo.

Corn was a shade firmer on the wet were ther, which induced considerable covering of shorts. The bulk of the selling for May was by receivers. Charters were 85,000 bush. Receipts were 500 cars; the estimate for to-morrow, 355. Shipments out of store were 150,000 bush.
Provisions were inactive and held very steady, in sympathy with strength in grain market, which, while inducing covering by scalping shorts, offset the lower price of hogs. Packers were sellers all day. The outside business was very small.
