Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, and Lieutenant-could not have been very sanguine of ultimate Colonel the Marquis of Tweeddale, and Major success. The General distinctly states that, Evans, commanding the King's regiments, with his gallant and accomplished troops, he merit my warmest praise for the good ex-will break down all opposition between him ample they showed at the head of their re- and Lake Ontario; but he is careful to qualify spective regiments.

Macconnochie, was ably served, and directed junction should not take place, he will endeawith good effect; and I am particularly your to avoid disgrace. obliged to Major Lisle, of the 19th light dragoons, for the manner in which he covered battle of Chippewa are worthy of notice for and protected one of the twenty-four-pound-their outrageous extravagance. Mr. O'Coners which had been disabled. I have reason nor, for instance, states that the British reguto be highly satisfied with the zeal, activity, lars suffered defeat from an inferior force. and intelligence of Captain Holland, my principally volunteers and militia, inferior aide-de-camp, Captain Eliot, deputy-assistant in everything but courage to the vanquished quarter-master-general; staff-adjutant Greig, enemy. Yet this same writer was in possesand Lieutenant Fox, of the royal Scots, who sion of official documents which particularized acted as Major of brigade during the absence the presence of four regiments of regular in-of Major Glegg at Fort George. The conduct fantry and a corps of artillery, and the fact of Lieutenant-Colonel Dixon, of the 2d Lin- of these bodies having suffered severely in colu militia, has been most exemplary; and the engagement. This statement was made, I am very much indebted to him for it, on too, in direct opposition to General Wilkinthis as well as on other occasions, in which son's account, which states the effective he has evinced the greatest zeal for his Ma-strength of General Scott's brigade alone at jesty's service. The conduct of the officers eleven hundred regular infantry, and the and men of this regiment has also been highly force that crossed the strait under General praiseworthy. Lieutenant-Colonel Pearson, Brown at about three thousand five hundred has reported to me, in the most favourable men, including twenty-seven hundred reguterms, the excellent manner in which Lieut. lars.† Horton, with a part of the 19th light dra-! goons, observed the motions of the enemy, is better to give than to receive an attack, came while he occupied the position he took on from behind his works about five o'cleck in the his first landing, and during his advance to not bank him. Before six o'clock his line was this place.—I have, &c.,

P. RIALL, Major-Gen.

General Brown's despatch. is remarkable for one fled for shelter. feature, viz., that, even

* From Major-General Brown to the American Secretary at War.

Sin,—Excuse my silence: I have been much well—if not, under the favor of heaven, we shall engaged: Fort Eric did not, as I assured you it behave in a way to avoid disgrace. My detailed should not detain me a single day. At always should not, detain me a single day. At eleven report shall be made in a day or two o'clock on the night of the 4th, I arrived at this place with the reserve, General Scott having taken the position about noon with the van. My arrangements for turning and taking in the rear the enemy's position east of Chippewa was made, when Major-General Riall, suspecting our intention, and adhering to the rule that it, 652, 654, 658.

this admission by adding that "if joined by The artillery, under the command of Capt. the fleet, all will be well," but that, if such broken and his forces defeated, leaving on the field 400 killed and wounded. He was closely pressed, and would have been utterly rained, General Brown's despatch is short," but but for the preximity of his works, whither he

Some of the American accounts of the

The wounded of the enemy, and those of our with the knowledge of his own strength, he removed to Buffalo. This, with my limited means of transportation, will take a day or two. after which I shall advance, not doubting but that the gallant and accomplished troops I lead. will break down all opposition between me and Sir,—Excuse my silence: I have been much well—if not make the first silence is the fleet, all is graged: Foot Fall and the first silence is a silence in the fleet all is graged.

I am, with the highest respect, &c ..

JACOB BROWN.

Hon. Secretary of War.

* Wilkinson's Memoirs, Vol. I., pages 66,