TENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF K. J. GRANT.

To the Eastern Committee of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in Canada:

We are brought to the close of our tenth year of mission labors in health and strength, for which we thank God. We review our years work with its results and take courage.

The work of preaching and school superintendance has varied little from that of former years, and we think it unnecessary to enter into any details. We have all worked, and, I may all, have worked all the time during the year, and the accompanying returns represent, as far as figures can represent, the results.

As hinted in my last report, our field of operations has been considerably extended. In three new districts in the wood, whither immigrants, who had spent ten years in the colony and yet did not wish to return to India, had withdrawn, carat schoolhouses have been built (of course temporary structures) at a cost of £59 158 2½d; and a teacher of the Hindi language, with an English speaking monitor, has been engaged in each throughout the year. In consequence of the unusually heavy rainfall, together with prejudices always to be encountered in newly occupied districts, the attendance of children has not been large. A work, however has been initiated which will most certainly advance. A service has been sustained at each of those stations regularly, with an average of 30 adults. In one of these districts nine men and two women have been taught to read Prominence is given in the country schools to the study of Hindi, as it has been found to yield cheering results.

A few days ago I baptized nine persons, eight of whom read fairly their own language. An examination of Canaan school
