

The Modern Mission Century

Viewed as a Cycle of Divine Working

BY

ARTHUR T. PIERSON

CLOTH, NET, $1.50, POSTPAID

The study of forty years of a studious life is behind this volume, and in it are all the vigour and force for which Dr. Pierson is known.

The object of the book is not so much to give the annals of the century as to find the philosophy of its history—the centre about which all its events revolve. It studies the men and women, occurrences and developments, forces and factors of this hundred years, as divinely appointed and adjusted to this work. It is especially addressed to students of missionary history and lovers of a world's evangelization. But every person, be he Christian or otherwise, will find much of value and interest in these pages.
