The only house in which the inmates can get in a stove without inhaling in load properly is a deaf and dumb asylum.

The most brilliant shades possible, on all fabrics are made by the Diamond Dye. Unparalleled for brilliancy and durability. 10 cents.

A young man complained of a weakness in one of his legs, whereupon his father suggested that the young man tell his girl to sit on the other knee for a while.

Joseph Basso, Percy, writes: "I was induced to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for a weakness which troubled me for three or four years, and I found it the best article I ever used."

"It has been a great blessing for me."

"A few men are born to rule; and that is what the bookkeeper thinks when he comes in after lunch and finds the old man has been trying to close an account on the ledger with a spattering pen and a ticked ruler."

"Among the most efficacious of remedial agents are the medicinal preparations from the laboratory of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass."

Scene, a butcher stand. Butcher—"Come, John, be lively, now; break the bones in Mr. Johnson's chops, and put Mr. Smith's ribs in the basket for him." John (briskly) "All right, sir; just as soon as I've sawed off Mrs. Jimmy's leg."

Mr. W. Boyd Hill, Cobourg, writes: "Having used Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for some years, I have much pleasure in testifying to its efficacy in relieving pains in the back and shoulders, and have found it in cases of cramp in children, and have found it to be all that we claim it to be."

Another St. Louis man started into a newspaper office to wait on the editor a few days ago, but when he noticed that he was being followed by six undertakers, five sextons and a coroner, a nervous fellow, he thought better of it and went home.

FOR RING WORMS AND OLD SORES.—Athe in Perry Davis' Pain-Killer, and then apply a salve made of equal parts of rosin, bees-wax, and sweet oil, mixed by simmering on a slow fire. Take internally half a tea-spoonful of Pain-Killer in sugar and water, three times a day, during the treatment.

The boarding-house keepers are comparing notes. "It seems to me, Mrs. McKie, that your chicken salad is never found out, leastways I never heard of one of the boarders complaining." "You see," explained Mrs. McKie, "I always chop up a few feathers with the rest."

I strongly recommend the use of Fallow's Compound Syrup or Hypophosphites to all who suffer in any way from disease or weakness of the Lungs, Bronchial Tube, or general debility.

J. H. W. Scott, M. D., Gagetown, N. B.

Every once in a while we read in the newspapers about parties "giving the bride away." This is generally done by a relative. This is kind of man, anyhow; but if the person has anything to say, he ought to wait until the ceremony is over, and not give her away until she has her husband fast.

A NERVE AND BRAIN FOOD is needed in all cases of nervous and sexual prostration. Fallow's Magnetic Mediflow meets this want more effectively than any other preparation, and the price brings it within the reach of all. Read the advertisement in another column.

Scene at a Texas post-office: "Is this letter all right, boss?" asked a darkey, handing the clerk a letter; the clerk weighed the letter and returned it, saying: "You want to put another stamp on it; it weighs too much." "Ef I puts another stamp on de letter, dat wout' make it any lighter; dat's gwy to make it weigh more."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral wonderfully improves the power and flexibility of the voice, enabling public speakers to speak clearly and without fatigue. If people who are troubled with hoarseness would take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral before going to church or places of entertainment, they would avoid coughing, greatly to the comfort of both hearers and speakers.

They were burying a man who had died in Southern Indiana, when a tramp passed over the fence and inquired: "Was he a statesman?" "No." "Orator?" "No." "Great inventor, or anything of that sort?" "No; he was simply an honest man." "Oh, that's all, eh? Why don't his widow take the body over to Chicago and put it on exhibition and make a stake?"

"Do boldly what you do at all." Boldly do we affirm that Kidney-Wort is the great remedy for liver, bowels and kidney diseases. Rheumatism and piles vanish before it. The tonic effect of Kidney-Wort is produced by its cleansing and purifying action on the blood. Where there is a gravelly deposit in the urine, or milky,ropy urine from disordered kidneys, it always cures.

A circus man met with a disaster and had to sell the circus to pay his debts; but he had a very fine menagerie left, and going to Chicago, advertised a "great moral show," that the place to bring children to study natural history." At the close of the first performance, twenty-seven deacons and five preachers were raving around the ticket wagon, denouncing the concern as a swindle and demanding their money back.

Alexis Cyr, of Grant Isle, Araratook Co., Alaska, writes: "Having used Northrop & Co.'s valuable Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, and derived great benefit from it. I take the liberty of asking you for quotations, and also whether you would be willing to give me the agency for this place, as I am confident there would be a large sale for it in this vicinity when its merits were made known."

SCENE IN A LONDON THEATRE. LONDON, Nov. 14.—A scene which occasioned sensation occurred to-night in the Globe Theatre, during the performance of Tompion's new national drama, "The Prince of May." The Marquis of Queensberry, who is an avowed teetotaler, rose excitedly and loudly protested against Tompion's presentation of the principles of teetotalism as enumerated by one of the characters of the play. At the desire of the officers, the Marquis left the theatre, amid much confusion.

JACQUES CARTIER.

HON. THOMAS D'ARCY M'GEE.

In the sea-port of Saint Malo 'twas a smiling morn in May.

When the Commodore Jacques Cartier to the westward sailed away.

In the crowded old Cathedral all the town were on their knees.

For the safe return of kinsmen from the undiscovered seas.

And every autumn blast that swept o'er pinnacles and pier.

Filled mainly hearts with sorrow, and gentle hearts with fear.

A year passed o'er Saint Malo—again came round the day.

When the Comm'dore Jacques Cartier to the westward sailed away.

But no word came from the absent had come the way they went.

And fearful were the signs that many a maiden sent.

And many hearts were filled with gloom, and gentle hearts with fear.

When no tidings came from Cartier at the closing of the year.

But the earth is as the future, it hath its hidden life.

And the Captain of Saint Malo was rejoicing in his pride.

In the forests of the North—while his townsmen mourned his loss.

He was resting on Mount Royal the fleur-de-lis and cross.

And when two months were over and added to the year.

Saint Malo hailed him home again, cheer answering cheer.

He told them of a region, hard, iron-bound and cold.

Nor seas of pearl abounded, nor mines of shining gold.

Where the wind from Gaul freezes the word upon the lip.

And the spring comes sailing seaward the early April.

He told them of the frozen scene until they thrilled with fear.

And a pilot's hand on the hearth to make them better cheer.

But when he chafed the strain—he told how soon he came.

In early spring the letters that he told the waters told.

How the winter cause was broken is drifted out to sea.

And the hills and rivers sing with pride the answer to the day.

How the magic wand of summer clad the landscape to his eyes.

Like the dry bones of the just when they wake in Paradise.

He told them of Algonquin braves—the hunters on the wild.

Of how the Indian mother in the forest rocks her child.

Of how, at dusk, they fancy in every living thing.

A spirit word or deed, that claims their worshiping.

Of how they brought their sick and maim'd for him to breathe upon.

And of the wonders wrought for them thro' the Gospel of St. John.

He told them of a river, whose mighty current flows.

His freshness for a hundred leagues to ocean's briny wave.

He told them of the glorious scene presented to his sight.

What time he heaved the cross and crown on Hochelaga's height.

And of the fortress built that keeps of Canada the name.

And they welcomed back Jacques Cartier from his perilous over sea.

Is it a Humbug? Some people think all proprietary Medicines humbugs. In this they may be mistaken. A cough medicine like Rev. N. B. Down's Elixir that has stood the racket of 63 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Down's Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine. Sold by all druggists. Price 25c and $1.00 per bottle.

A remarkable large scrotole, weighing more than half a ton has fallen at Aix, in the department of the Haute-Garonne, France.
