

QUIPS AND CRANKS.

A lazy man does his hardest work in looking for an easy place

We can do more good by being good than than in any other way.

You are always sure to find foot notes in a shoe dealer's advertisement.

This would be a much better world if more people would take their own advice.

It is a difficult matter to fence in a bow-legged man--he always has an open gait of his own.

Be careful of your language when talking to the elevator boy; he is apt to take you up very quickly.

"Er man kin run inter debt," said Uncle Eben, but when it comes ter gettin' out he's gotter crawl."

He (passionately): Something stirs within me. She (calmly): Why don't you drink filtered water?

It is believed the seventeen-year locusts will finish their business and adjourn before Congress does.

Little Harry: Papa is the tariff bill a counterfeit? Papa: No. Little Harry: Then why can't they pass it?

A Burlington girl is learning to play the cornet, and her admirers speak of her as "the fairest flower that blows."

Old lady: My friend, are you a Christian? Beggar: Well, mum, no one has ever accused me of working on Sunday.

What is a friend? A friend is a man who points out the silver lining in the clouds to avoid lending you an umbrella.

Everybody knows that the sun has spots on it, and yet some people always expect a ten-year-old boy to be about perfect.

Musician: Well, what do you think of my new piece? Critic: It needs ventilating. Musician: What do you mean? Critic: Why, the air is bad.

He: Why will you treat me so coldly? Has your heart grown cold toward me? She: No, Harry, my heart is the same as ever; I have only changed my mind.

The poet's wife: They say that poetry is a drug on the market. The poet: Nonsense! If you'd ever sold any poetry and bought any drugs you'd know the difference.

Wife: How many people gaze at my new dress! I presume they wonder if I've been shopping in Paris. Husband: More likely they wonder if I've been robbing a bank.

She: Why is it they speak of a man as a 'strong' candidate? He doesn't have to lift anything, does he? He: Er--not exactly; but his friends all expect him to carry the day.

Miss Elderleigh: I wonder why they're introducing such old-fashioned dances. I can't manage to learn them. Miss Caustique: Oh, the steps will all come back to you by-and-by.

"Poor man!" exclaimed the sympathetic woman; "have you really tried to get employment?" "Yes'm," replied Meandering Mike. "And without success?" "Intirely; for three solid days I've tramped the streets trying ter get work fur me nine-year-old brother, and hain't even got so much ez an encouragin' word."

Deacon Heavyweight: And so you are going to leave us, parson? Rev. Mr. Thankful: Yes, I have had a call to another parish, where, by the way, the salary is considerably larger. I am sorry to leave my flock, but I must obey the call. Deacon Heavyweight (dryly): Wal, it may be what you call a call, but it seems to me a good deal more like a raise.

From Ostrogoshsk, on the Volga, it is reported that the whole of that district is being ravaged by rats. The damage already caused by the invasion is approximately assessed at upward of 2,000,000 rubles. Military assistance has been sent to help the panic-stricken people in the wholesale destruction of their innumerable enemy. It was observed, as a curious sign of some coming untoward event, that during two or three weeks every cat in the district gradually disappeared.

On the occasion of the dog show in Paris a French statistician published an estimate of the number of dogs to be found in that city. After informing the world that there are no fewer than 80,000 of them, he proceeds to speculate upon the number of persons who are kept awake by their barking. On an average, he thinks, one dog in ten would be restless and inclined to bark during the night; and on this basis he arrives at the conclusion that there are in Paris, at all times, at least, 8,000 persons who cannot sleep from this cause alone.

JAMES E. LESLIE, Richmond street, Toronto, writes:—"It affords me great pleasure to attest to the benefit I derived from your Guaranteed Acetic Acid in a case of Pleurisy. It was decidedly effectual; nothing more need be said. I have also recommended the Acid Cure system of treatment to many of my friends and in no case has it failed. You are at liberty to give this certificate publication."

According to some recent statistics on the cost of living an Englishman spends on an average $48 a year for food, a Frenchman $47, a German $42, a Spaniard $33, an Italian $42 and a Russian $23. Of meat the Englishman eats 109 pounds a year, the Frenchman 87, the German 64, the Italian 26 and the Russian 51. Of bread the Englishman consumes 380 pounds, the Frenchman 540, the German 560, the Spaniard 480, the Italian 400 and the Russian 635.

MR. JOHN HENDERSON, 335 Bathurst street, Toronto, was cured many years ago of a complication of diseases at the Saltcoats Sanitarium, Ayrshire, Scotland, where our remedy is largely used. At home his people were never without it.

The real name of Brother Joseph, who has succeeded Father Damien in the work among the lepers of Hawaii, is said to be Ira P. Dutton, a native of Vermont.

Strong Testimony of Emigrant Commissioner, the Hon. George Starr, as to the power of Radway's Ready Relief in a Case of Sciatica, Rheumatism.

VAN NESS PLACE, NEW YORK.

DR. RADWAY--With me your Relief has worked wonders. For the last three years I have had frequent and severe attacks of sciatica, sometimes extending from the lumbar regions to my ankles, and at times to both lower limbs.

During the time I have been afflicted I have tried almost all the remedies recommended by wise men and fools, hoping to find relief, but all proved to be failures.

I have tried various kinds of baths, manipulation, outward application of liniments too numerous to mention, and prescriptions of the most eminent physicians, all of which failed to give me relief.

Last September at the urgent request of a friend (who had been afflicted as myself), I was induced to try your remedy. I was then suffering fearfully with one of my old turns. To my surprise and delight the first application gave me ease, after bathing and rubbing the parts affected, leaving the limbs in a warm glow, created by the Relief. In a short time the pain passed entirely away. Although I have slight periodical attacks approaching a change of weather, I know now how to cure myself, and feel quite master of the situation. RADWAY'S READY RELIEF is my friend. I never travel without a bottle in my valise.

Yours truly, GEO. STARR.
