

experimental Studio. In 1971, Montreal architect, Fred Lebensold, won the Massey Medal for his design.

The annual Stratford Summer Festival attracts millions to a circular theatre constructed of steel rods and cast concrete, yet strongly reminiscent of London's original Globe Theatre.

International awards for architectural excellence have been received for Expo '67 in Montreal, and the Canadian Pavillion at Expo '70 in Osaka, Japan.