Senator Kirchhoffer moved for the adoption of a report of the divorce committee recommending granting the application of Alfred O. Durnan of Toronto for divorce from his wife.
Senator Cloran said this was the only divorce case in which he had ever assisted. He was surprised to find that the report of the proceedings upon which parliament was asked to grant which parliament was asked to grant divorce was not complete. Senator Cloran said the committee had been informed by the lawyer representing the petitioner that he had subpoenaed and had outside of the material witness the alleged co-respondent, but as he declared he would not give evidence it did not seem to be worth while to put him on the stand.

Syme, all of whom retined except Alex McMurchy, reeve of King Township, who was declared elect d by acclamation, after which Ex-Warden R. J. Bull chaperoned the new warden to his chair.

Warden McMurchy was gratified to be elected by acclamation by his colleagues, inasmuch as he is only the fourth warden selected from King Township in sixty-three years. He stated that the business before the council required the uttermost attention of the members, especially the proposed amalgamation of the county registry office with the one the City of Toronto intends to erect. He thought it would be perhaps better to have the two registry offices under one roof. The next new and important business is the good roads movement, and as the electors of Toronto have voted a substantial sum of money to improve the county roads, he hoped that the county council was unanimous in assisting the good roads movement.

The French investors in the merger, he said, had nothing to complain of, as they had received dividends from the start and the concern was making money.
