More About Nickel and Mr. Monell

Editor World: It is very gratify to the public that your spirited that on the secret dealing with ' Young's export question has brought be trust out of its haughty silence the character of the character of the character of the character of the Globe has allied itself when the commercial stor of that paper wrote an article on the commercial stor of that paper wrote an article on the commercial stor of that paper wrote an article on the commercial stor of that paper wrote an article on the commercial stor of that paper wrote an article on the commercial stor of that paper wrote an article on the commercial stor of that paper wrote an article on the commercial stor of that paper wrote an article on the commercial stor of that paper wrote an article on the commercial stor of that paper wrote an article on the commercial story of the public the same information? It is the disdainful shence a servybody concerned which has made the public believe that commercial storests have smothered patriotism.

The belated and forced letter of Mr. Monell of the nickel trust makes everal points clear:

Premier.

1. He does not deny the repeated allegation that the Friedrich Krupp were, when war broke out, the real holders of millions of dollars of ook in the International Nickel Co., which money is lost to them if they hard get nickel oxide from New Jersey. Are they tamely submitting to

2. He offers no cardid statement as to the personnel of the chief holders of stock. Why should a great Canadian asset be in the hands of secret owners? Is the nere any disgrace attached to ownership of nickel hares that makes the usual publicity to be feared?

3. He makes no explanation of why his influence was used and was unfident to prevent the return of names of shareholders of Canadian Copper Co. (the Canadian name of the trust) to the provincial secretary so office for some years past. The law is plain and requires companies with Dominion charters to file a list of shareholders annually, just as provincial possible.

Just a month after, in yesterday's Globe, there appears the statement had precipitated the war deliberately, he continued:

"All these revelations are made before with the editorial printed above and to this effect:

Mr. Monell's clear-out statement was mide as a matter of duty to the country and the international Company rather than as a refutation of what has been alleged about European influences in alkeled metal markets being immical to the allies, particularly to the British Empire. There was no justification for the claim that the enemy has a voice in the production of mekel. Control of what nickel is refined under International Company assistes is vested in those who promptly placed "full information" relative to decign and local shipments of the metal "In the possession of the Dominion authorities."

Finally and in the same spirit of frankness that has characterized the war time policy of Mr. Monell and his colleagues, there is the admission that the International Company—and doubtless the Mone Company—and Company—and Company—and

The Toronto Star ran a series of editorials in November very much

No Nickel for Germany.

(Editorial Toronto Star, Nov. 21.)
Our object is not to make party capital or to blame the present government. It may fairly be said that both governments have been remiss. We are not interested in any attempt to apportion the blame. We want to see the thing stopped at once by the most drastic measures if necessary.

Why hesitate for a moment? On all the seas ships are being stopped and searched for copper, oil, and other munitions of war. We have a most important munition of war, a metal absolutely indispensable to the building of ships of war, entirely under our control. The export of nickel to the enemy can be stopped and not an ounce should be sold either to a German or to anybody who may sell it to the control of the pen of a minister of Canada.

It is argued that the prohibition cannot be effected by export duties, and that guarantees are interested in the American refinery, it would be criminal folly to accept their guarantee that they will not looke our nickel in their own business, but will store it away or make knives and forks out of it.

But if export duties are useless are useless and guarantees are worthless, there remains only one thing to be done. All nickel mines ought to be governments.

What does The Star say to Mr. Monell? And what advice has it to offer to the government now?

More Explanations Needed.

Editor World: I was greatly pleased with your article on nickel shipments. I am indirectly interested in a shipping mine, which only ships to England. I issues today is, as you say, not satisfactory. mine, which only ships to England. I have been nagging at the government for months, to let the public see the "inside works" of the nickel export business. In reply. I have had many assurances, which were not assurances.

Half Million Calmucks Will Battle For Russia

New Mounted Troops Expected to Vie With Cossacks in Dash and Effectiveness-Tribes Volunteered Practically in Body to Fight for Czar.

Canadian Press Despatch PETROGRAD, Dec. 22. Half a million Calmucks, members of a nomadic, pastoral race, which has always been free from obligation to furnish any soldiers for the Russian army, have just been added to the Russian forces.

A deputation from the Calmucks recently arrived in Petrograd with a request that they be allowed to serve in the ranks during the present war, and offering to supply 500,000 mounted troops if necessary. "Our tribes have volunteered practically en masse," declared the leader of the deputation.

The emperor's reply grants them a military organization and privileges similar to those enjoyed by the Cossacks. The Calmucks are born horsemen and their horses are among the finest in the world, closely resembling the true Arab breeds. The number of Calmuck subjects in Russia is given as about 5,000,006. VATICAN APPOINTMENT RESENTED IN BRITAIN

Protestant Afflance Asks Cabinet to Withdraw Mission to Rome.

Rome.

Caradian Press Despatch.

LONDON. Dec. 22, 8.25 p.m.—The appointment of Sir Henry Howard as a special minister to the Vatican has called forth a protest from the Protestant Alliance, which denounces the appointment as illegal.

The Northern Church Council of the Church Association, at its December meeting in Manchester, has framed an appeal to the King's ministers, in which it is stated that diplomatic relations between England and the Vatican have been discontinued for 400 years, and asking for the withdrawal of the present mission, which it says, "cannot but give grave offence to a vast majority of Englishmen."

The protest continues: "This council regrets that any action taken by his majesty's government at this time of crisis in the nation's history should place upon the country a controversy which will strain to the uttermost the endeavors of all loyal Englishmen to sink all differences and work together for the defence of the empire."

UNCERTAINTY IN EAST

Germans Claim to Have Crossed Bzura and Rawka Branches.

Canadian Press Despatch.

LONDON, Dec. 22, 10.55 p.m.—

Heavy fighting is taking place on both eastern and western fronts, but without producing any material change in the positions of the opposing armies. In France and Beigium the allies offensive is being pressed, and while some ground has been gained at widely separated points, other attacks have been repulsed by the Germans from their strongly entrenched positions. In the northern area the artiliery and warships yesterday took up the battle, giving the infantry a rest, but lower down the time and from the Oise to the Meuse, fierce fighting took place in many districts.

While the progress of the allies as extremely slow, it is the belief of military experts here and in France that the gains which the general staff has been able to report are disturbing the German system of fortifications at vital points, and will, if successfully continued, compel a retirement by the Germans from their present lines.

Germana Cross Bzurz.

In the east most of the Germans north of the Vistula have retired across the east Pruseian frontier before the onrush of the Russian forces, but south of that river, between the Bzura and the Pilica, the Germans continue their advance, and announce tonight that in a fierce battle they have succeeded in crossing branches

Enver Pasha Cannot Be Found and All Kinds of Rumors Are Circulated.

He has not, according to the despatch, been seen in Constantinople for several days, and his absence at such a moment has caused contradictory reports. According to one, he has gone to the Caucasus to take command of the Turkish army there. Another is that he fears that he will be assassinated and that he has fled with his adjutant to a German warship.

There is no doubt that Enver Pasha, has been subjected to constant pressure by the Germans, in pursuance of their plans in the war.
