

276 VALMOND CAME TO PONTIAC.

graveyard; he is ours; and, being ours, let us protect his memory, as though he had not sought us a stranger, but was of us: of our homes, as of our love, and of our sorrow.

“And so atoning for our sins, as did he, may we at last come to the perfect pardon, and to peace everlasting.”