TESTIMONIALS.

The range of topics is varied, highly instructive, and interesting; written in a chaste style, and well adapted to the taste and wants of a reading community.—Rev. W. Herr, Piqua, O.

Mr. Pitzel has already given to the public two or three excellent books, which have had a large sale. This will fully equal the others in permanent value, and, we hope, far surpass them in popularity.—D. W. Clark, D. D., Editor of the Ladies' Repository.

The essays give evidence of much reading and more thought. Their style is simple and unambitious, and they will be acceptable to a very large class of readers.—Cincinnati Gazette.

It is well adapted to youth, and will doubtless have an extensive circulation.—E. Thomson, D. D., Editor of Christian Advocate and Journal.

This is an excellent little book, well written, and neatly put up. Without the formalities of labored argument, or any of the disagreeables of controversy, it clearly brings out and earnestly enforces the most essential principles and duties of Christianity. It is especially adapted to such as have but little time to read, though profitable to others. I cheerfully recommend it.—T. A. Morris, Senior Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

III.

THE BACKWOODS BOY.

Price, 28 Cents.

A neat Sunday School book; seven engravings. Autobiographical, though under veiled names of persons and places. Pronounced by good judges to be "a unique volume that will both please and profit."
