"1. To marshal and unite all the temperance organizations, all young people's societies, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the temperance and prohibition ranks of the Christian churches and all persons and associations that, for their country and their homes, will volunteer, or can be enlisted into the ranks against the dark legions of the empire of strong drink. It is time the indignation of the Canadian people burst in flerce storm upon the iniquities of the liquor traffic. And I trust we are prepared for hearty co-operation with all faithful temperance people in this regard, and that our forces are ready for action wherever required in the field. "1. My view is that the moral, social and religious energy should be aroused at once, and directed upon every objective point of the conflict. The momentum gained for June will be effective in December. Our ardor and courage need not fail or droop in the summer campaigns for the pitched battle in December. Some talk as tho they would await the issue of the provincial elections, and then meet and debattle in December. Some talk as tho they would await the issue of the provincial elections, and then meet and debattle in December. Moral momentum is required for the whole range of battles, first to elect the best temperance men we can get in June, and then in December to pile up such a vote as neither Mr. Ross nor Mr. Whitney dares disregard.
