TAKEN OFF THE BALTIC.

Queenstown, Aug. 9.—The steamer Baltic, with Archbishop Mannix of Australia on board, arrived off Queenstown at midnight last night. The liner, which was brilliantly illuminated, was accompanied by several destroyers. The liner stopped outside Queenstown for an ideal national hero in the eyes of Catholic Irishmen. The Daily Graphic remarks that Australia is happy to lose him, and thinks that he is making an egregious fool of himself. "If that is a faithful portrait," it adds, "one mountebank more cannot harm us."

The solitary exception to the eyes of can unknown port one of the destroyers. The liner stopped outside Queenstown for an hour while one of the destroyers entered the harbor for an unknown purpose.

Immediately after the destroyers put to sea again the Baltic resumed her voyage, accompanied by destroyers, for an unknown port. Seafaring men here surmise that the Baltic's delay was due to a firemen's strike, but no confirmation of this was obtainable.

The brother of Archbishop Mannix arrived here last evening.

Further progress in securing authorization of debenture issues for the waterworks and electrical departments was made today when word was received by E. V. This is more or less of a formality intended as a safeguard against infection of the system from any new connections. While the extensions proposed by the utilities commissions do not include any additions to the supply, the approval of the health department is still a necessary step in the procedure. F. A.
