A VICTIM OF CIGARETTES.

(Montreal Witness.)
A despatch from Sorel referring to Lime Lussier, who is awaiting trial on the charge of attempting to kill his dather, says that he is an inveterate cigaretic smoker. It is stated that he has smoked as many as ten packages of cigarettes in a day, and uses from four to six boxes a day as a rule. He is now restricted to three cigarettes per day, one after each meal, and does not enjoy the new rule. The habit is believed to have affected his mind, and he says he does not remember much that has happened since the day of the shooting. Two specialists are examining his mental condition, one on behalf of the crown, and the other for the defence. The enquete in the case will be continued in a few days.

Germs.

That's precisely what Vapo-Cresolene does. You light the vaporizer, the vapor of Cresolene is given off. Not a disease germ can live in this vapor, yet it can't possibly harm even the youngest child. Just naturally breathe-in the vapor; it destroys the germs of la grippe, hay fever, influenza, and whooping-cough. It's the common sense treatment for all mothles of the throat and bronchial tubes.

GETTING NEARER TO BUSINESS.

Ald. Maxwell and Baxter agree in the nain with the views set forth by Mr. T. H. Estabrooks in regard to the manner in which additional berths should be provided on the west side The government should do the dredging and the city and C. P. R. construct the wharves; or if the city construct them, the railway company to contri-bute in rental or otherwise. Both of the aldermen are in favor of prompt and united action by the city coun expressed views of the great body of the citizens. Ald. Maxwell points out that as a result of the city's expeners last winter distributed about half a million dollars in St. John. If the city spent another quarter of a million, the interest charge would only be $8,750 year, and Ald. Maxwell believes that there would be as a result of the increased accommodation at least $150,-000 more per year spent here by the steamers, and if that were true the city would be justified in doing the work of wharf construction alone rather

The Telegraph has twice made reference to the danger of the city being used as a "cat's-paw" by the C. P. R. The business men of St. John are terests of the city. It is entirely to the C. P. R. we owe the new business that has gone through this port in winter. There is no call for attempts to arouse prejudice. It is entirely in the interests of St. John to work in harmony with Afterwards so were than the city will care

With these few corrections the Telegraph's remarks may be taken for what they are worth. It is really a pity that the recrudescence of the scientist should be marked by so mexact a statement of a plain case. The sympathy of the Star is cordially extended to a suffering lled by His Brother, Malcolm Ford, the Athlete.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Paul Leicester ord, the novelist, was shot and killed day by his brother, Malcolm Web-ter Ford, writer and athlete, who im-sediately sent a bullet into his own reast, dying instants.

The shooting occurred at 10.20 a. m. in the handsome new mansion which Paul Leicester Ford had built at 37 East 77th street, and had occupied

At the time of the shooting there were in the house, besides the two brothers, Mrs. Leicester Ford, Miss Elizabeth R. Hall, the novelait's secretary, and the servants. The novelist was sitting at his deek in one corner of his Morary. It is supposed he was busily engaged at some literary task. Miss Hall was at her deek in another corner of the room about thirty feet from Mr. Ford. Mrs. Paul Leicester Ford was in her own room at the front of the house on the third floor.

Malcolm W. Ford called, as he often had done, and went to his brother at his desk. Words were exchanged in a tone so low that Miss Hall could not hear what was said, though she says that possibly she might have distinguished the words if she had been paying any attention to this particular meeting of the brothers.

Suddenly there was a revolver shot, and Miss Hall, jumping up, darted from the noom. Then, according to the statements of the police, Miss Hall said to herself that she must act more bravely and re-enter the library. Meanwhile Malcolm Ford had called her. As she turned toward him he placed his revolver to his heart, fired and fell, dying instantly.

When Miss Hall turned to look at Paul he still was standing at his desk, but rapidly losing strength. She helped him to a sofa, and then ran next door for Paul Ford's physician. Dr. Emanuel Baruch. In less than five minutes Dr. Baruch arrived, and the dying man, still conscious, was carried up to a room beside his wife's and placed on his bed. He spoke to his wife and asked the doctor for his opinion, showing that he expected death and was going to meet it calmly and bravely. A few moments later, about 20 minutes after he was shot, Mr. Ford died. It is sald that there was emitty between the two brothers and consequent bitterness, and that it was of eleven years' standing, that never since the death of their father have they been on intimate or brotherly terms. This alteged enmity on the part of Malcolm is said to have been brought about by the fact that the father of the boys disinherited

Hays, with the harbor board yesterday showed that all parties were anxious to put the plan through. The idea of the harbor board, which is favored by the business men of this city, is that the Grand Trunk should be given as many privileges as possible, in order that it may bring to Montreal the business which is now diverted to Portland.

the business which is now diverted to Portland.

As the disposal of a large space of the harbor, for a long term, will need the ratification of the dominion government, a deputation of the harbor commissioners, consisting of Hon. Robert Mackay, chairman: Mayor James Cochrane and Robert Bickerdike, M. P., and probably one or two others, will meet Mr. Hays in Ottawa, at a date to be fixed by the dominion cabinet ministers, and there the terms and conditions of the transfer will be discussed. The only modification so far proposed is that the Grand Trunk will receive 1,506 feet of space on the wharf instead of 1909 granted the Conners people. The railway company readily agree to this change.

SUDDEN DEATH OF JOHN J. FOX.

chirwans will be interested in knowing that today (25th) we had ten with the Duke and Duchess of Argyll at Kensington Palace. Was it not like the Princess Louise who loved Canada to wish to welcome in this way the daughters of that land?

After riding on the top of an omnibus through Piccadilly, past Rotten Row and Hyde Park, with the loveliest of summer weather favoring us, we were met at the palace by the duke's sister, Lady Francis Balfour, Mr. Lofty (an authority on London), Hon. Mrs. Littleton, Mrs. Herbert Chamberlain (who is a daughter of Col. Williams of Port Hope, Ont.,) and several gentlemen. We were then shown through the public rooms of the palace. King William the third and Marytook a great fancy to the building and many of the rooms are suggestive of their reign. Sir Christopher Wrenmade considerable additions, especially the "Orangery." Queen Anne and George the Second died in the palace and Queen Victoria was born and lived there as a child. We saw the room in which she was christened, and all her child's toys in the nursery. The queer little painted effigies of the 40's looked, in their doll's houses, just as though the hand of the little child queen had only yesterday, like "Little Boy Blue," kissed them, and put them there.

Some very beautiful portraits are in the galleries—an especially fine one being that of Peter the Great, by Kueller. But one could not linger very long, and at five o'clock we entered the apartments of the princess, being met by the Duke of Argyll. It was all so informal and delightful—simplicity and costness marked the suite of rooms, with of course the artistic touch everywhere visible.

The princess was very charming and asked many questions about Ottawa, though not as many as her husband, who seemed most interested in things Canadian. Both moved about and chatted with their guests very informally. Princess Louise looked very well indeed in a rich gown of viplet velvet, with lace at her throat and a hint of turquoise.

The Duke's Den.

The Duke's Den.

The Duke's Den.

Afterwards we went into the duke's "den." and he showed us all his curiosities. Looking over his library he picked up Morgan's "Canadian Men and Women of the Time," and said laughingly, "You'll all be in there soon." I forgot to say that he made such a nice little speech to the assembled girls, welcoming them and wishing them God speed. He said their share in making for the weal of the empire would be as great in a way as was the fine work of the Canadian soldier.

LIVERPOOL ALARMED.

MONTREAL, May 8.—The Star's London cable says: Lord Strathcona received today an influential deputation from the Liverpool chamber of commerce, city council and Mersey docks, and corn trade associations, all concerned in Liverpool shipping, begging that Liverpool be retained as the British terminal port of any Canadian fast mail service. All official information was denied to the press, but I understand that the deputation submitted in the strongest possible manner Liverpool's superior claims to Southampton and Milford Haven. The fact that so much official secrecy was demanded raises expectations that Lord Straticona may have told Six Afred Jones and other Liverpool owners present that they had the matter practically in their own hands. If they desired to secure Liverpool's claims they had better submit by mail proposals, inviolably British, under a subsky from the British and Canadian governments in competition with the Morgan trust. The Blackburn, Halifax and Huddersfield chambers of commerce were also represented on the deputation. In the opinion of highest chance both for Canada and British
