Christmas was a quiet one in Halifax. The interiors of some of the Episcopal churches were decorated. The only attempts at decorations in the Catholic churches were about the altars, flowers being used.

The weather was beautiful and young Halifax was in evidence early in the household, judging from the noises that could be heard in many of the residences. The bugle and the drum were evidently still among the Santa Claus' stock, though this year he seemed to have so improved them that they were capable of creating more noise than ever.

Miss Mabel (Cherry) Craig, of Summer street, left on Saturday to spend her Christmas holidays with her little friend, Miss Carrie Reid, of "Scot-velsky," Truro.

A very pretty wedding took place at St. George's church on Monday morning, by Rev. H. H. Plummer, the contracting parties being Sergt. T. Larder, R. E. of Hull, Yorkshire, England, and Helen Augusta eldest daughter of Mrs. J. A. B. Harris and granddaughter of the late Rev. H. Harris, rector of Ipplepen, Devonshire, England. The bride looked charming in a costume of cream, trimmed with white chiffon with a wreath of orange blossoms, she carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Grace Harris sister of the bride, who looked very sweet in a pale gray dress trimmed with cream and gold brocade, with velvet hat to match, and Miss Tomblinson-Cole, of London, England, who looked handsome in a cream dress, and hat composed entirely of violets. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. E. Harvey. The groom was supported by Co. Sergt. F. Dalton, R. E., and Sergt. F. Loop, R. E. After the ceremony a breakfast was held at the residence of the bride's mother, a large number of guests being present. Amid a shower of rice and hearty congratulations the happy couple departed by the 2.30 train for Truro where they will spend their honeymoon. The bride's travelling dress was of heavy cloth with broad trimmings and hat to match. They received a lot of handsome and useful presents, including a magnificent clock from the N. C. O.'s mess of the royal engineers.

The funeral of Miss Rebecca A. Taylor, which took place Sunday afternoon from the residence of her father, J. E. M. Taylor, 502 Lockman street, Camp Hill cemetery and the last rites were performed by the Rev. N. LeCombe. There were numerous floral tributes on the casket.

NEW YORK.

Dec. 26.—There is every prospect that the Yuletide revelries which were well under way Xmas eve will bubble over into youthful festivities without end throughout the week. Westchester will be the scene of the chief social gayeties arranged to welcome the new year. In Amherst those who will entertain house parties on Saturday on are Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sande, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clark Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Story, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic H. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Russell. A large number of dinner parties have been arranged for Saturday night at the clubhouses. The big billiard room will be the scene of the dance afterward. Hereafter Mr. and Mrs. Frederic H. Allen, have been noted for their New Year's eve entertainments at Bolton Priory. This season they are obliged to content themselves with a house party. I will be recalled that large additions were made to the big house after the Westchester estate was purchased by Mrs. Allen by her mother the Duchess de Dino. These included the gorgeous Louis XVI. ballroom. Owing to errors in construction one portion of this began to sink and it has been found necessary to have it thoroughly reconstructed and redecorated. The artisans are still hard at work at this.

There have been a number of large dinners the past week. One of the most elaborate was given on Tuesday night by Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Wilton. The table was trimmed with a profusion of pink roses. On Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. John C. Westervelt gave a dinner of twenty-four covers. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Claws have cards out for one of the few dinners this week that are not to be family affairs. It will be of twenty-four covers.

Mr. and Mrs. Almeric Paget, who recently returned from a visit to the British embassy at Washington, have had Miss Audrey Pannocote as their guest during the past week. Miss Pannocote is the fourth daughter of Sir Julian and Lady Pannocote. Mr. Paget's brother, Capt. Alfred Paget, R. N., is a naval attaché of the British Embassy. The dinner dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Paget on Thursday night in honor of Miss Emily Vanderbilt Soane was a very gay and successful affair. There were not more than a hundred guests all told, and the rooms were gay with Christmas greens, holly and mistletoe. Quite a number of pretty trifles were distributed during the collation, which was led by Worthington Whitehouse.

Four prettier sisters all young women are seldom seen together than were seen at the coming out tea last Thursday afternoon, when Miss Louise Beales was the debutante. The tea was given by Mrs. J. Rich Steers, formerly Miss Mary D. Beales at her home 605 Madison avenue. The other sisters were Mrs. Henry Bodewick and Mrs. Theodore Sedgewick. Miss Louise Beales wore a particularly dainty costume of white chiffon over tulle. She is one of the few heiresses presented this winter, and will be seen at the important functions of the season. Like her sisters and brother she inherited an ample fortune from her mother, the late Mrs. James A. G. Beales. They were also substantially remembered in the will of their maternal grandfather, Eugene Kelly.

The wedding of Miss Bertha L. Terrell and W. Fred Buckley son of Henry Buckley of Birmingham, England, will be celebrated at noon next True happiness does not begin for a woman until she becomes a mother. The fear of death stands between thousands of women and this supreme joy. If a woman will but take the right course, she may trample this fear out of her heart, and all cause for it out of her body.

There is practically no danger, and but little pain, in maternity for a woman who is thoroughly healthy and strong in a womanly way. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes the delicate organs that bear the burdens of maternity strong, healthy, virile and elastic. It banishes the distress of the period, insures the health and an ample supply of nourishment. An honest druggist will not try to get you to take some substitute for his profit's sake. Prospective mothers who write to Dr. R. V. Pierce will receive the best advice of an eminent and skillful physician, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the great Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y.

"A neighbor of mine who was expecting the arrival of a baby before very long, was in very poor health," writes Eliza Reinhardt, Postmistress at Maquella, Bourbon Co., Kansas. "I induced her to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. She used four bottles, and has just been delivered of as fine a daughter as I ever saw. She was only a short time in labor and is now doing well."

Pierce's For sick headache, biliousness and constipation, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most rational cure known. They are mild but thorough and effective. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Never gripe. No other pill is like them.

Saturday in All Souls' Church, Madison avenue and Sixty-sixth street. The Rev. Dr. R. Heber Newton the rector will perform the ceremony. Miss Ruth Moore will attend the bride as maid of honor, and Miss Jay Low, Miss Eleanor Thomas, Miss Maud Sinclair, Miss Faith Moore and Miss Margaret Winsor of Boston will be bridesmaids. Because of the death of her father Miss Kate Brice who was to have been one of the attendants, will be replaced by Miss Jane Seely Plummer. F. W. Whitcomb of Boston will act as best man, and Joseph Golden Sutton, John C. Bunkley, Walter Alexander, Edward R. Warren, McLane Van Ingen, and Frederick Blais will be the ushers. After the church ceremony there will be a bridal breakfast and reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Leslie Terrell of 16 East Fifty-fifth street.

The engagement is announced of Miss Marie Brinkmeyer Perkins, daughter of Mr. Henry C. Perkins to Mr. Edward Goldman Parikh of this city. Robert Hargous sailed last week on the Lucania for his home in Venice. Mr. Hargous is the brother of Mrs. Duncan Elliott and Mrs. George B. De Forest.

Dances those who are to send out invitations to dances just after the holidays are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Oelrichs. There is now no mystery made of the fact that William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., is paying assiduous attention to Mrs. Oelrichs' sister Miss Virginia Fair. Mr. Vanderbilt will be graduated from Harvard in 1900.

AMHERST.

[Progress is for sale in Amherst by W. P. Smith & Co.]

Dec. 23.—Christmas has come and gone. The weather was more like Easter-tide than mid-winter. The sun shone brightly, the streets clean for walking, enticing a goodly number out, so that all the churches were well filled, and in all of them the music and singing showed great care and taste. In the evening at the Baptist church, Miss Lawson of Acadia Seminary, Wolfville, rendered a solo very sweetly. In Christ church Miss Chan's Chapman and Miss Mabel Fagley, each took a solo in the "Te Deum" most acceptably.

The flowers on the Altar in Christ church were the product of Gould's Conservatory, Sussex, and were lovely. There is no need to make apologies now for the special remembrance of Christmas and Easter. The grand old "Te Deum" "Gloria in Excelsis" and the "Gloria Patri" were now heard in congregations where once they were shut out asavoring of the dark ages. Good Friday is observed each year more and more widely.

Mrs. Freeman Quigley is enjoying a trip to Halifax, Annapolis, and Yarmouth, visiting her relatives.

Mr. John W. Lowe of Aylesford spent a few days in town a guest of his sister Mrs. C. H. Bent, Victoria street.

The members of Acadia Lodge, A. F. and A. M., attended the Methodist church on Christmas evening when Rev. J. Batty delivered the annual sermon. In the evening of St. John the Evangelist day the brethren with their guests dined together at the "Hotel Terrace" about sixty in number.

Mr. Inglis Moffat returned to Halifax on Tuesday after spending Sunday and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Barry H. Bent "Hillside" Eddy St.

Miss Helen Miles I regret to note is still under treatment at the Cottage Hospital Springfield.

Mrs. W. H. Harte Chapman and little daughter Maribel of "Maplehurst" Dorchester are spending this week in town guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Inglis Bent Church St.

Miss McCarthy, Dorchester was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Inglis Bent on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Chapman spent Monday in Dorchester in being the 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. Chapman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Chapman. They were the recipients of many gifts. Among them, gold coins, silk umbrellas with gold handle. From their many friends in Dorchester a gold headed cane for Mr. Chapman, and Mrs. Chapman gold bowed spectacles, showing the esteem in which they are held after 50 years residence in that town. Mr. Chapman is quite ill and not able to receive the congratulations of his friends.

A fair hand at Montreal has beckoned Dr. McDougall there to spend the holidays. He left this week.

Mrs. Hibbard of Lower Cove spent a few days in town a guest of her daughter Mrs. Sam Sterns Church St.

Many of our citizens are taking advantage of the beautiful roads to enjoy a spin on their bicycles.

Miss Hanson of New York sister of Mr. T. S. Hanson is in town.

Dr. Lorenz Chapman and bride of Albert are spending a week in town guests of the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Chapman.

Mrs. C. R. Smith is spending a week or two in Parrboro with Mr. and Mrs. Gavia.

The gripe is spreading here and several of our citizens are ill with it.

Oliver oldest son of Hon. A. B. Dickey is at home from Kingston, military college to spend the holidays looking very smart in his uniform.

William Greenfield a respected citizen died this morning at his residence Eddy street aged 84 years. Mr. Greenfield had been three times married, his last wife survives him and two daughters.

PARRBORO.

[Progress is for sale at Parrboro Bookstore.]
Dec. 23.—The two plays given in St. George's hall this month have shown that Parrboro possesses an amount of histrionic talent hitherto unsuspected. The first was the well known drama "Among the Breakers" in which Miss Woodworth as Mother Carey a difficult part, Mr. L. S. Gowl as Peter Paragraph and Mr. McMurray the ill-housed keeper were inimitable. It was difficult to believe that Send Mr. S. C. Cholsset, was not a genuine darkey and a very funny one Mr. J. O. Nicholls with his dignified manner and noble bearing. The second play was "The Old Bachelor" (Mr. Paul Gillespie) made love in true Irish fashion to the attractive Biddy Dean, Mr. M. G. Atkinson, Bess Starbright, Miss "Jo" Gillespie, was as vivacious and saucy and Minnie Dase, Miss Isabel Aikman as romantic and languid as the parts required. Mr. Athel Cholsset as Clarence Hunter was a handsome and fascinating young lover. Much between the acts was furnished by Miss Upham and Mr. Alison Spence, piano and cornet.

The second play was a farce pure and simple "Dr. Baxter's Latest Invention" which kept the large audience in convulsions of laughter from the beginning to the end. The acting of Mr. C. E. Kelley as Dr. Baxter the absent minded nervous old bachelor professor would have done credit to a professional. Misses Allee Gillespie and Kate McNamara personated to perfection the two ancient maidens ladies the latter acting in a giddy fashion after being rejuvenated in the electrical machine and also singing very acceptable the song "Ye Merry Brides" the former marrying Prof. Baxter, Samuel Wolsey; Mr. W. G. Gillespie, who sang "I am not as Young as I used to be" recovered his youth to his great joy. Peter Crawford a very deprecated man forgotten and left in the machine so long that he emerges looking too absurdly young for his size. This character was exceptionally well done by Mr. Leo Gillespie, Messrs. McMurray, Nicholls, and Will Harry Teddy and Leo Gillespie sang down among the clover and Mr. McMurray taking the solo, Miss Upham presided at the piano.

The annual Christmas exercises of the Methodist Sunday school were held in the basement of Grace church last evening and consisted of a cantata "Grace in Dilliken's Flute" under the direction of Miss Maud Corbett, a dumb bell exercise by a large number of boys led by Dr. H. Clay and a fine drill performed by little girls trained by Miss Ethel Wotten. Both the dumb bell and tin drills were pretty to witness being in absolutely perfect time and without a mistake. The cantata was also well rendered the airs very sweet.

The masonic fraternity of Miss lodge are banqueting this evening at the Alpha hotel, after a service in St. George's church and sermon by the rector Rev. Robert Johnstone. Covers were laid for fifty.

Monday was observed as a holiday, places of business being generally closed. In the afternoon a large party drove or wheeled to Leake's lake to play hockey and skate weather and ice both being fine.

The usual carol service in St. George's church and Midnight Mass in St. Bridget's. Both are always largely attended. St. George's choir is improving under Mr. Guilford's leadership.

The Baptist Sunday school Christmas tree was on Friday evening.

There has been a home coming from the various colleges for the holidays. Mr. Cecil Thomas of McGill, Mr. Norris MacKenzie from Dalhousie, Misses Aurora McLeod, Sadie Epps, and Mr. Gordon Yates from Acadia, Miss David Howard from Mr. Allison.
