

Progress in Dardanelles Slower Than at Beginning Owing to Nature of The Country, and Fighting More Difficult

HAVE ORGANIZED EVERY INCH OF GROUND GAINED

French War Office Issues Summary of Month's Fighting in Dardanelles

BATTLEFRONT IN FORM OF TRIANGLE

Strategic position taken in surprise attack by a daring band of volunteers.

Paris, June 14.—An official note given out today presents a summary of the operations in the Dardanelles from May 15 to June 1, as follows:

"Heavy fighting has taken place during this time. Today our progress is somewhat slower than it was in the beginning, but every inch of ground gained has been organized in such a manner as to permit of the repelling of counter-attacks, and the physical aspects of the country make fighting extremely difficult and dangerous, as the battle front presents the form of a triangle.

"During the second half of May there were attacks on the Turkish line of entrenchments in front of Kereves, and the redoubt called the 'Douchet,' which we took May 8. All the Turkish counter-attacks failed completely.

"Our position being assured here we endeavored to capture a small fortress situated on the extreme left of the enemy's line, on account of the strategic position of this fortress it was impossible to take it in the ordinary way by an artillery attack followed by a bayonet charge. Such a method would have resulted in heavy loss of life.

"The heat had to be a surprise. On the night of May 28, a mixed company composed of thirty-four white and thirty-two negro troops, all volunteers, under the command of a lieutenant, received orders to slip out of our first trench, one by one, and crawl on their hands and knees to the opposing trench. Here they were to surprise the occupants and kill them without firing a shot. Two other companies bringing up the rear were to go at once to the assistance of the first company if the plan failed.

"At 11.45 p. m. our men, having crept forward in accordance with instructions, rushed over the embankments of the enemy trenches. The Turks were completely surprised. They discharged their guns into the air and immediately took to flight. Thanks to the rapidity of our attack our only casualties were one sergeant and two men wounded.

"The Turks attacked twice without success, and dawn saw us firmly established in our new positions."

PREMIER BORDEN SHOWS HIS KEEN INTEREST IN RECRUITING CAMPAIGN

Special to The Standard
Ottawa, Ont., June 14.—Sir Robert Borden's keen interest in the recruiting of men for the Canadian forces at the front is manifested in a letter to the recruiting committee of the 43rd Regiment, Ottawa. The Prime Minister sends his "congratulations and thanks for the good work which you have undertaken." He adds "It is hardly necessary to assure you of my entire sympathy with your efforts. In this struggle the Empire is fighting for its very existence, and its institutions and liberties cannot be preserved except by the earnest and united efforts of all. The experience of the past ten months should bring home to us all the tremendous nature of the conflict which has been forced upon us."

PATRIOTISM 365 DAYS A YEAR, PRES. WILSON SAYS

Not something reserved especially for National Holidays, but citizens should always carry flag of Nation in their hearts.

Washington, June 14.—President Wilson, speaking at Flag Day exercises here today, urged United States citizens to remember their patriotism on other days than national holidays, and to carry the flag of the country ever in their hearts.

The President made no direct reference to the European war, or to international questions, but he was applauded whenever he made any reference to the patriotism of the people of the United States.

MANITOBA GOVERNMENT PLACES CAVEAT AGAINST CONTRACTORS' PROPERTY

Winnipeg, Man., June 14.—A caveat has been placed against all the property of Thomas Kelly and Sons, Limited, in Manitoba, by the provincial government. This step is the first formal move towards a suit to recover for the province any money that may have been improperly received by the firm of contractors in connection with the parliament building construction. The caveat covers some seventeen parcels of lands and buildings, aggregating in value more than one million dollars. The Royal Commission enquiring into the parliament buildings contracts resumed its session here this morning. Liberal counsel suggested that Dr. Simpson, late president of the Winnipeg Association, but now at the front, be asked to return to give evidence. C. A. Andrews, K. C., said probably Dr. Simpson's military duties were such that he could not get away. Chief Justice Mathers thereupon remarked he could not conceive any duties so imperative as that duty Dr. Simpson had in clearing his good name.

John A. Furlong, manager of the Capital Loan Company, with which Dr. Simpson banks, was asked to produce his books bearing on the account. Mr. Furlong objected, without instructions from his client, but Justice Mathers insisted on the production of the company's ledger, which accordingly was done.

Representatives of the C. P. R. and C. N. V. telegraph companies were instructed to produce messages exchanged between Winnipeg and eastern Canada. The former will comply, but the local manager of the latter company stated that on receipt of orders from the head office at Toronto the files of telegraph messages up to May 31st last had been destroyed, this being because a new system was then installed.

Science Has Not Solved The Submarine Problem; German Undersea War

The submarines will have any decisive effect on the fortunes of the war is very unlikely; but if the struggle is prolonged they will doubtless cause serious annoyance, and much loss of life and property. Every day the war is prolonged, every submarine that Germany launches, means additional burdens that the navy must assume, for it is vital to England that her merchant ships come and go. Her merchantmen bring to her ports the food of 24,000,000 people, and the raw material for the industries which provide the livelihood of 40,000,000. More torpedo boats, destroyers, and small craft of all descriptions will have to be detached from the battle fleets to patrol the headlands and approaches to merchant shipping ports and that will leave the great ships more exposed to submarine attacks. Ultimately the German navy will come out and give battle—public opinion will force it to before Germany submits—and the grand fleet will be accompanied by squadrons of submarines and clouds of Zeppelins and aeroplanes. And it will be a hard and terrible fight.

THE GERMAN STEEL RESOURCES.
An impression prevailed in Canada that England could continue this war indefinitely, that for her the policy of attrition was the best. Well, I begin to doubt that. Since the war broke out Germany, while maintaining great armies in the field, has been producing three times as much steel as this country. The late government did not rise to the occasion; the country is not organized for war as Germany is. And the present government is going to have a very difficult and delicate task to organize the nation, and assure co-operation between employers and workers, who even in this crisis are indulging in strikes and lockouts, prosecuted with great bitterness. Men whisper to you darkly: "Conscription is coming," and shake their heads. Rev. Dr. Clifford addresses a letter to the papers, declaring that if conscription is adopted there will be rebellion. If one may judge from the tone of the numerous labor papers conscription, unless very carefully applied, will be bitterly resented. Don't think the British working class have no heart for this fight. They have. The volunteer armies are composed mostly of the upper and working classes. But I judge from reading many different trade union organs that the workers had no confidence in the late government; that they felt it permitted the middle class to exploit the necessities of the situation while asking great sacrifices of them. Today the Daily Citizen, organ of the London trade unionists, says: "Do the employers really think the mass of the people are fools? Have they not the common gumption to realize that Labour can let them down with a crash?"

If I quoted some other sentences from this editorial I doubt if The Standard would print them; many things being said in London papers, labor and otherwise, might be considered high treason in St. John. But all is not right in England. Not, I say, because the masses are unpatriotic, but because a government posing as radical has, instead of adjusting, emphasized the differences between the classes and the masses. Canada, as a part of the Empire should know the truth; we should disabuse our minds of the idea that the Imperial government is always composed of peerless statesmen. For a long time my own view has been that the English are a great people, great contributors to civilization, in spite of their governments. I know half a dozen Canadian politicians—we would not call them statesmen—who I would sooner see in the position of Minister of Munitions than Lloyd George; they would at least know that the first thing necessary was to inspire the confidence and enthusiasm of the workers. Lloyd George is a versatile person; he may rise to the emergency; but the bitter attacks made upon him in the labor papers may cause some doubts. Arthur Henderson's inclusion in the Cabinet may make a big difference, but we have to live to learn. Let us hope the war will not be unduly prolonged. If it is I think the Imperial government will be re-organized again, and that men from Canada, Australia, New Zealand and other overseas Dominions will be called in—men who are prepared to recognize that in an Empire crisis the interests and welfare of the masses are quite as important as the interests of the wealthy.

MONUMENT TO THE MEN WHO DIED IN BATTLE OF THE MEUSE In Memory of French and Germans Alike—German General Makes Address in French.

Sedan, France, June 14.—A Franco-German monument, erected to the memory of the German and French soldiers who fell in the battle for the crossing of the Meuse, was dedicated yesterday at Noyers, near here. The German army commander, Gen. Von Elnem, and many other high officers and detachments of German troops who were engaged in the battle, were present at the exercises.

Gen. Von Elnem, in an address in French, entrusted the monument, which is inscribed in French and German, "For the Fatherland," to the care of the French residents. The French district president, in replying to the address of Gen. Von Elnem, expressed his appreciation of the fact that the Germans had recognized not only their victorious battalions, but that those who had died for their country were worthy of honor.

"The heavy buying of teas by Russia has caused abnormal prices to rule for them in the Colombo and Calcutta markets, quotations being 8c. to 10c. a pound higher than six months ago. In fact, it is reported that Russia is purchasing all the Ceylons available, and it is likely that prices will go still higher."—The Tea and Coffee Trade Journal.

TRAINING WOMEN FOR FARM WORK IN ENGLAND

Shortage of 170,000 men for farm labor—Several hundred women being trained to do the work.

London, June 14.—There is a war shortage of 170,000 males agricultural laborers on the farms of England, Scotland and Wales, according to a report from the Board of Agriculture.

During the next two months the board hopes to fill virtually all these vacancies with women. Already women have come to the assistance of farmers in the counties of Essex, Norfolk and Lincolnshire, in planting the potato crop and in truck gardening. Several hundred women are being trained and employed in place of men laborers in dairy farms in Cheshire, Dorset and Berks, where the wages paid range from $3.50 to $5.00 a week. There is one feature of dairy work which the board hopes to see taken over everywhere by women for the duration of the war, and that is the twice daily drive to the station with the milk, or the delivery of the milk to the customers. It is a common sight in Ireland to see the women drive the milk to the station or creamery in a donkey cart.

CANADA LINER COLLIDES WITH ANOTHER STEAMER, AT QUEBEC DOCK

Quebec, June 14.—While manoeuvring to reach her wharf here about six o'clock this morning, the Canada Line steamer Quebec, arriving from Montreal, crashed into the side of the Athenia, that was lying at her dock at the breakwater. The Athenia was uninjured, but the Quebec had her stem badly damaged. She will continue her service, however. The collision is attributed to the tide.

PERSIST IN STORY OF TORPEDOING OF A BRITISH CRUISER

Innsbruck, Austria, via Paris, June 14.—The Austrian submarine which, according to the official Austrian announcement last week, torpedoed and sank a small British cruiser off the Albanian coast, returned yesterday to the Austrian naval base at Pola. The members of the crew assert the submarine fired two torpedoes at close range, one of which hit the cruiser.

MAY CHANGE DESIGN OF ZEPPELINS

Lt. Warneford's successful attack on Dirigible may cause makers to alter plans of latest models.

Romanshorn, Switzerland, June 14, via Paris.—The exploit of the Canadian aviator, Lieut. R. A. J. Warneford, in destroying a Zeppelin in Belgium last week, may result in a change in design of Zeppelins manufactured hereafter. Some of the engineers at the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen have been at issue with Count Zeppelin on the question whether the dirigibles could be attacked successfully by aeroplanes. The Count, however, dissented from this view, deciding there was no danger of successful attacks.

Count Zeppelin is expected to arrive at Friedrichshafen shortly, and the question of changing the design of the dirigibles probably will be re-opened.

When last seen, they say, the British warship had a decided list. Owing to the near presence of hostile torpedo boats the submarine was obliged to submerge itself.
