FREDERICTON MAN KILLED IN C. N. R. YARDS MONDAY

Was in the Act of Reaching Into a Car for Freight When Engine Hit the Cars, Causing Door to Rebound Crushing
the Man's Skull.

Special to The Standard.
Fredericton, N.B., May 5.—George Harris, a local teamster, was almost instantly killed this afternoon while unloading wood from a car in the C.N.R. freight yards in this city. He was in the act of reaching into the car to pull out some wood when a shunting engine hit the cars, causing the door of the car to rebound and fall back into the arms of Wm. Staples, by whom he was employed, and expired.

Dr. B. M. Mullin was summoned as coroner, and a jury viewed the remains and adjourned until Friday evening when an inquest will be held. This is said to be one of the first cases, coming under the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act order in council, which brings those transporting firewood within the scope of the act. Deceased was 44 years old, and besides his widow is survived by two sons, Fred, who went overseas with the Maclean Klitties and recently returned home, and George at home, and six daughters, Winnie in Boston, Blanch, Sadie, Ida, Quentin, and Mable; all at home. His mother, one brother, Jack, who resides at St. John, and two sisters, Mrs. Hartley French and Miss Ida Harris, of Boston, also survive. Another brother, William, went overseas with the Maclean Klitties, and was killed in September last.

GREAT INTEREST IN "CINDERELLA"

The advance sale for the English pantomime extravaganza "Cinderella," which is to be presented at the Imperial Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week and Thursday matinee, was unprecedented yesterday, a long queue of bookers filtering through the doors to the box office from 1 to 6 o'clock. There are still plenty of good seats for both nights. The matinee is not reserved. Evidence of the special merit of this big show continues to pour in from Halifax and along the line and St. John is going to get a delightful surprise. The show will be put on by daylight time for the sake of out-of-town patrons at all three performances.

Applications For Loans Coming In

Five Applications Received for the Purchase of Unsold City Properties—Commissioner Bullock Talks on City Scheme and Other Housing Matters.

Under the policy adopted by the city of holding out encouragement to occupants of houses on leasehold property to acquire their own homes, Com. Bullock has recently sold a number of city properties. In Milford the tenants of all but three or four houses on the city land there have undertaken to buy from the city, and five applications for the purchase of unsold properties have been received. Under the city's scheme the purchaser makes a first payment of $200, and pays the balance in annual instalments of 12 years, when he will get a deed of property. The purchase price is based on the annual rental, and the purchaser is not required to pay interest. If he fails to complete his payments, the property reverts to the city.

Com. Bullock said yesterday that applications for loans under the Dominion Housing Scheme were coming in every day. Many of the applicants had no definite plans, and unfortunately the city was not yet in a position to give out definite information as to the disposition of the money set aside for building purposes by the Dominion Government. Other cities seemed to be in the same plight; he had received a letter from Winnipeg asking what was being done here.

Com. Bullock said he had been discussing with the Mayor and others the problem of having the city utilize the loan to build communal dwellings in order to relieve the admitted difficulties in regard to housing accommodation here. They felt the great difficulty was to devise a system which would assure continuity of policy. They might start to work on a plan of housing development, and before it might be completed a new set of civic rulers might come in and throw the scheme overboard.

In regard to the suggestion that holding companies might be formed to take advantage of the Dominion loan and build groups of houses, Com. Bullock said he found no interest on the part of men able to form such companies. The provision that such a company could only pay 6 per cent. dividends would not attract investors. And so far he had not been able to secure information as to how that provision was to be applied. If there was no contract between the company's expense account, it might be able to pay large salaries.

So far as he could see, Com. Bullock thought the only kind of company likely to take advantage of the loan would be one getting in for building houses as a philanthropic enterprise. Large employers, who recognize the advantage of having their workers comfortably housed, ought to be interested in the scheme. They could build groups of houses at little or no expense to themselves, and then sell them on easy terms to their steady employees.

Many Drunks in The Police Court

An Even Dozen Men Charged
With Either Being Drunk or Having Liquor in Their Possession—Only One Lerner
Extract Victim in the Crowd

Of late it is quite apparent that the many persons being arrested on the charge of drunkenness. The police have performed good work in rounding up many drunks during the past few months and in many of these cases these persons were turned over to the inspectors who obtained information that led to the arrest of the bootleggers. No less than twelve names were on the police blotter handed into the police court yesterday and in every case but one it was gin or whiskey which caused the downfall of the prisoner. In the one case mentioned the prisoner blames lemon extract for causing him to become intoxicated and he informed the court that he had the extract in his possession for over two years.

In one case a North End man was charged with having liquor in his possession. He was turned over to an inspector, divided the name of the person who supplied the liquor and later on that person was arrested and both were dealt with by the court. Percy Pawcett, charged with having a bottle of gin in his possession, stated that he procured the liquor from strangers. He was fined $50.

A Hickey for a similar offence said he did not know the person who supplied him with the liquor. He was fined fifty dollars. Ian McDonald pleaded guilty to being drunk and having liquor in his possession. He was remanded and the person who supplied the booze will be brought to court.

Irvine Barle when arrested had two bottles of liquor which he claimed he procured from strangers. He was remanded. Four drunks pleaded guilty and were remanded. Four additional drunks were on deposit and did not put in an appearance. The court gave instructions that they be brought to court this morning.

In the course of his remarks Magistrate Ritchie alluded to the prevalence of drunkenness in the city and added that he could furnish the North End police with names, but that it was for the police to get all who were implicated in the traffic.

Trade Between Italy and Canada

Trade Between the Two Countries During the War Has Shown Some Possibilities—Canadian Exports for Three Years.

In view of the announcement made by Secretary Armstrong of the Board of Trade, that a ship is coming from Italy with a cargo for exhibition purposes and that it will take back a cargo of Canadian goods as a trade experiment, it is interesting to note that trade between these two countries has shown some possibilities during the war. Canadian exports to Italy during the last three calendar years were as follows:

1916	.....	$1,214,748
1917	.....	2,318,838
1918	.....	5,516,642
Italy's imports into Canada were:
1916	.....	$1,196,328
1917	.....	$55,900
1918	.....	642,971

The extension of the Canadian Commercial Intelligence Service to Italy was effected by order-in-council of April 23, 1917, and the Trade Commissioner, W. McL. Clarke, began his actual work in Italy about July 1st of that year. His office is located in Milan, the second largest city of Italy, with a population of over 700,000. Milan is the most important industrial, financial and commercial city of Italy, and is the trading centre of an agricultural district well known for its dairy products, its silk culture and wine production.

Italy's area is 110,632 square miles, and its population is estimated at 36,975,000.

Italian firms have shown an interest in the following Canadian products: Wood pulp, chemicals, foodstuffs, hardware, metals, wire, iron beams, shovels, lumber, salted fish, grain, leather, tallow, manufactures of iron and steel, hosiery, electrical equipment, tanning extracts, asbestos, ferro-alloys, boots and shoes, office furniture, paper, fertilizers, machinery (agricultural and industrial), lubricants, emery wheels, mineral ores, colors, hides, telephone equipment, rubber goods, kitchen utensils, paints, marine engines, sporting goods, furs, tools, fancy leather goods, woolen goods, soap, non-bons, refractory material and transformer sheets.

Italy with 42 per cent. of her total imports: It is therefore reasonable to suppose that Canada's export trade to Italy can be considerably increased. Italy offers a good market for dried and salted fish, especially cod and stock fish. Her fish imports are from 100,000 to 850,000 quintals per year. Before the war Italy regularly imported 40,000 horses a year, mostly from Austria. As a result of the war she needs cattle to replenish her dairy herds, and for some years to come will have to import large quantities of frozen meats.

QUESTIONED REV. W. D. WILSON

Evangelical Alliance Satisfied
With the Chief Inspector's
Work—Resolutions Passed and Committees Appointed

Rev. Neil McLaughlin preached at the meeting of the Evangelical Alliance held yesterday morning. On motion it was recommended to ask the Protestant churches to make contributions towards securing much needed additional premises for the Protestant Orphanage.

A letter was read from Alexander Temple, asking the Alliance to appoint a committee to act with a committee from the Good Templars, looking to a better enforcement of the Prohibitory Act. The following committee was selected: Revs. F. E. Boothroyd, G. A. Kubring, Thos. Marshall, R. H. C. Fraser, David Hutchinson.

Rev. W. D. Wilson was asked a number of questions as regards the two men posing as detectives and after hearing him and thoroughly canvassing the situation the following resolution was heartily and unanimously passed: That the Alliance having heard the Inspector's account of recent temperance developments expressed their complete satisfaction and rejoiced that the position is occupied by a man of his capacity, knowledge and courage and that we pledge him our complete support. A committee was appointed to wait

TALE OF A CAT; ITS DAILY LIFE

What a Lady Witnessed All in One Day—Every Place She Visited She Witnessed the Good Old Tabby Enjoying
One of its Nine Lives.

"I may be wrong," said a visitor to a Standard reporter yesterday, "but I really believe that the good old house cat plays a highly important part in the daily life of St. John."

"Practically the first greeting I got," she continued, "was from a Maltese tabby who welcomed me at the house of a friend, where I am stopping. Going into the corner grocery this morning I saw a big grey cat sleeping in a case of evaporated apples and when I went down to the drug store for some toilet articles 'friend cat' was in the window with the rest of the display, taking a sun-bath."

"My friend wanted me to get a roast for the dinner and so I dropped in at an up-town meat store, but the villain cat still pursued me. Arriving at the store I had to wait for several minutes and all the while one of the biggest felines I have seen here was standing on a meat block, nibbling and licking a quarter of lamb."

"I thought at first that I was happening into the only places which kept cats around but I have since found out differently. In the lawyer's offices, in the business houses, in the hotels and boarding houses, in the news stands and stores—in fact all every place in the city where I have been I have encountered a cat, and they have been all kinds, conditions and degrees of cat from the mongrel kitten to the lordly Manx."

"And then those lovely orations at night; be it standard time or daylight time, from Courtenay Bay to the River, those feline Caruso and Melba and Anna Cases add to the melody of the fog alarm on Partridge island and the measured harmony of the street railway."

"There used to be a time in ancient Egypt that the cat was held as a sacred animal, like the sacrificial bull and the bull of Busson, and probably the city of St. John is reverting to those good old days, in keeping with its civic programme."

"Of course a cat is all right in its place, but His Feline Highness is altogether too much in the public eye in this city." And the visitor walked away, reeling.

The boast of tortoise shell, the pride of Manx, The Maltese bearing pedigree proof found; Await alike the cat's nimbly shanks; The public highway leads but to the pound.

COMMON COUNCIL MET IN COMMITTEE

City Fathers Object to Remarks Made by Chief Inspector Wilson—Union Street Paving Turned Down—Other Business.

The common council met in committee yesterday morning. Objections were taken to the remarks of Chief Inspector Wilson in his sermon on Sunday, when he is quoted as saying that police officials were offenders against the act.

The Mayor said the inspector had either said too much or too little. Commissioner Thornton said information given by the police to inspectors had not been acted on in several instances, and the police had contributed to a great extent to what ever success the prohibition officers had achieved here.

It was decided to repair North Rodney wharf at a cost of not more than $20,000.

Authority was given for the sale of three Lancaster lots and houses and one West Side lot owned by the city.

Commissioner Fisher's motion that a section of Union street be paved was lost.

Mrs. Wynne Trearthen was appointed janitor of City Hall, West St. John, at a salary of $15 per month, with free rent.

The West End Athletic Club was granted the lease of a room in West End City Hall at $60 per year.

Sat Up in Bed To Get Her Breath.

Palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, inability to lie on the left side, feelings as if smothering, oppressed feeling in the chest, dizzy and faint spells, tired, weak, worn out feeling, involuntary twitching of the muscles, sleeplessness, restlessness, etc., all point to the fact that either the heart or nerves, or both, are not what they should be. Any of these conditions should be remedied immediately so as to avoid a complete breakdown of the whole system.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will bring energy to the weakened constitution, strengthen and regulate the heart, and tone up the tired, overstrained nerves.

Mrs. William Steeves, Chemical Road, N. B., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles and palpitation of the heart, which was so bad I had to sit straight up in bed to get my breath. I could not lie on my left side at all. I tried doctor after doctor, also several different remedies, but got no help from them. My mother insisted on me trying Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. By the time I had used one box, I was feeling very much better. I took in all three boxes, and now I am in perfect health and can enjoy a good sound sleep, and can lie on my left side without any trouble."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are sold at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
