PRESENTATION.
On Tuesday evening, Nov. 25, a special meeting of the members of Branch 19, C. M. B. A. Ingersoll, met at their hall, when Mr. John Carroll, of the freight department of the G. T. R. of this town, was made the recipient of a pleasing address, accompanied with a handsome and address, accompanied with a handsome and valuable present, as a souvenier of the respect in which he was held by his brother members, Rev. C. M. B. A.:

DEAR SIR :- Seeing that the RECORD, of late had little to say on society mat-ters, our branch at its last meeting directed me, in the temporary absence of our Recording Secretary, to convey to you the following, which are the views of our branch:

Our branch is of opinion that it would be to the interest of the organization, if several branches in Canada were re quested by you as Grand Secretary, through the Record or any mode you may see fit, to labor hard and make strenuous efforts this winter to increase their membership, so that in a few months we would have the required are many this year, four already.

Some in our branch talk of withdrawing from the association unless there is a the States in the near future. Other branches no doubt have the same complaints, so very strenuous efforts should be made at once to accomplish aid object. We will work hard he help procure the much desired Separate Beneficiary. Yours fraternally, JNO. BATTLE, jr. Financial Secty., C. M. B. A., Branch 24.

J. J. Kane, Esg., Recording Secretary
Branch 26, C. M. B. A., Montreal. Dean Sir,—We, the undersigned, beg to return our thanks for the prompt payment by your association of the $2,000 benefit due on the death of the late Patrick Dinihan. Frs. Kieran, P. McCrory, Montreal, November 27, 1884. Recording Secretaries of Branches are requested to send the Grand Secretary as early as possible the list of new officers for the ensuing term; also any other items of interest, for publication in our C. M. B. A. column.

Several correspondents have written us, asking the following question:—"If the Grand Council of Canada had under its jurisdiction two thousand five hundred members, and petitioned the Supreme Council for a Separate Beneficiary, would the Supreme Council be compelled to grant said petition?" No. The Grand Council may petition, and the Supreme Council may (not shall), by a majority vote, grant, said petition. a majority vote, grant, said petition.

The Supreme Council, according to our constitution, could grant a Separate Beneficiary to a Grand Council with 1400 members in its jurisdiction as well as if there were 2500 members; but a Grand Council has not, it would seem proved to set the course of the same time to a small but exquisitely-carved statue of the Redeemer placed on his string desk: "There, my Lord, is the real master of the house; I am but His servant." lat day of Jan., 1885. Our reasons for this were fully and truthfully set forth in said petition, but the Supreme Council did not count it.

did not grant it.

As the separate beneficiary question has been pretty fully discussed in the colums of this paper, and as the Branches in Canada, with few exceptions, pronounced in favor of said separation, and was carried by an overwhelming majority at our last Grand Council Convention, we cannot see that anything further can be done, until the laws of Canada force us to form a financial separation from the United States, or until some other action, which we do not know of at present, is taken by States, or until some other action, which we do not know of at present, is taken by the Grand Council of Canada and its Branches. We are entirely opposed to any action that would destroy the friendly feeling that should exist between the members in Canada and those in the United States, and hope some satisfactory settlement of this question can be arrived at by the Supreme Council and the Grand at by the Supreme Council and the Grand Council of Canada.

BOURGET COLLEGE, RIGAUD, P.Q.

The "Bourget College Bank Associa-tion" elected the following collegians to fulfil the various occupations as directors of the College Bank for the ensuing term, ending March 15th, 1885: Mr. L. Seguin as president, Mr. N. Derochie as cashier, Mr. N. Raymond, J. McGinn, F. O'Hagan, and J. Harkin as directors. Moreover, Mr. L. Seguin has been named receiving teller and N. Raymond paying teller for teller and N. Raymond paying teller for the ensuing month. The other employ-ees have not been changed. We congra-tulate the young men upon this wise choice; for a more zealous and skilful staff of directors could not have been sel-ected. We hope that the above men-tioned will prove themselves worthy of the trust confided to them.

On Monday evening the "Orphean Society" of Bourget College favored the public with a choice entertainment. Space will only permit me to give a very brief synopsis of the capital programme, which was carried out in a laudable manner. The College Band, under the leadership of its talented musical professor, executed very fine selections, which and feeling reply:

To Brother John Carroll,—We the members of this Branch, on learning of your approaching marriage, deem it a brotherly duty to express to you the very high manner in which your many good qualities and kindly dispositions are held, not only by the members of this Branch, but also by your many friends and associates, who truly and worthily honor and respect you. We must not let this most auspicious event pass without making you some tangible mark of our esteem and regards, and we therefore beg of you to accept this time-piece as a small token of our kindly feelings and good wishes towards you and the very estimable young lady with whom you are to be united in marriage. May time run smoothly with you and may every good attend you and yours is our sincere wish. On behalf of the members of this Branch, we are fraternally.

Their endeavors met with the complete success they deserved, and made the vast hall echo with the laughter and enthusiasm of the pleased spectators. After this rare spectacle of jollity, Mr. L. Taking a retrospective glance at the whole entertainment, they pronounced it a decided success, and tendered their most cordial congratulations to the professors of the college, and to the actors for the untiring endeavors with which they labored for the success of the evening, and the numerous sacrifices of time and recreations which they cheer fully made, for the benefit of this laudable enterprise that was amply crowned with a wreath of well-merited victory.

CATHOLIC NOTES.

After a friendly interchange of views with Russia in regard to the position of the Catholic clergy in Poland, a note has been received at Rome from St. Petersburg, settling pending questions and con-firming friendly relations between Russia and the Vatican.

The Municipal Council of Paris has adopted a resolution censuring the Prefect of the Seine for failing to continue the or the seine for failing to continue the secularization of hospitals by removing nuns engaged as nurses, and calling upon him to carry out the law. The Prefect, in reply, said he agreed with the Council upon the principle involved, but considered it would be imprudent to remove nuns during the epidemic.

His Excellency Mgr. di Rende, the Apostolic Nuncio at Paris, accompanied by his mother, the Marquise di Rende, paid a visit not long ago to the famous composer Gounod. The maestro received them very warmly, and in the course of some conversation remarked to his distinused as a market garden. Adjoining was a small house occupied by a Protestant family, consisting of a gentleman and his wife, and a grown up son and daughter. The son was very ill, and his mother, who had been watching him most tenderly by night and by day, gave her place at the bedside to her daughter, with a strict injunction to be colled up. with a strict injunction to be called up if any change occurred in the sick man. After a little time the daughter thought she saw men come in and clear the ground on which the church stands; and then others appeared and erected a large building in the form of a cross, and on the arm of the cross a lady, with a child, stood. The lady looked down on her and then told her that her brother should recover, and that they were all to become Catholics. She they were all to become Catholics. She started up suddenly and told her mother what she had seen and heard, and her brother very quickly recovered. The family continued Protestants for a time, when to their surprise they saw the Church of Our Lady erected, built in the shape of a cross, and in the gable of the arms of the cross, one of which overlooked their house, was an image of Our Lady, with the Infant in her arms. The family could not but be struck with the fulfilment of their vision, and soon after the opening of the church were received into it as Cathothe church were received into it as Catholics. Eventually the daughter became a nun in the convent at Bermondsey. There are many still alive who know the family, and many who heard the history of this vision from the lips of the late Canon O'-Neal, who received them into the Church. It is also remarkable that a statue of Our Lady should have been thus publicly exposed when there was not a single one in any church in London.—Ave Maria.

Jurisdiction. The triangle of the date of the search of Our Lady at St. John's Wood, London,

MARRIAGES IN HULLETT. The Roman Catholic church, Hullett, on Monday last, was filled with the beauty and youth of the parish to witness the double marriage that was to take place within its sacred precincts that morning. Precisely at nine o'clock the wedding parties entered the chapel to the strains of a beautiful wedding march, artistically played by Miss Cook, of Goderich. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. B. J. Watters, after which he cele-brated High Mass for the bridal parties, who, as true Catholics, requested this to be done. The happy couples are Mr. John Shannon and Miss Annie McIntosh, and Mr. Richard Brennan and Miss Mar-garet McIntosh. We wish the young married couples all joy, peace and happi-ness in their new sphere of life. The choir deserves great credit for their charming singing, and for the zeal they show in praising the Lord with the beautiful voices God has given them. The organist, Miss M. Mullin, of Goderich, has reason to be proud of her choir, as it certainly reflects reach tainly reflects great credit on her for her talent as a teacher. Miss Annie Doyle, of Goderich, kindly came down to assist the choir, and her sweet voice was greatly adchoir, and her sweet voice was greatly ad-mired. We hope the parting advice of the rev. pastor to the young people pres-ent at the ceremony, "Go and do like-wise," may be realized every month during the coming year.
