Legal Decisions

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the Post Office—whether directed to his name or another's or whether he has subscribed or uot—is responsible

2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay up all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

3. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post Office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

Misunderstanding. They walk together, friend and friend, From week to week, and day by day, And one chill shadow falls across Their common way.

A veil impalpable as air,
Yet unmistakable as death,
A veil that might be blown away
By one free breath,

O friends; once loving, trusted long, There is one Judge, one Judge alone, To whom all hearts are open, all Desires are known.

n His dear Presence you may meet So sundered and so helpless now; And he to rend that cruel veil Will teach you how.

Ye know what He to teach will say-Forgive, forget, begin anew. And learn of Me to love as I Have loved you.

HIS OPPORTUNITY.

BY HENRY CLEMENS PEARSON.

CHAPTER III.—Continued.

During the conversation, two men, in citizens' dress, and of quiet appearance, had come down one of the broad paths of the park and now stood quiet operation. One of them mounted a mound of earth, opened a hymn book, and be gan in a clear, pleasant voice to sing.
