MERMAIDS EDGE MT. A 5 Pool Records Smashed

The UNB Mermaids defeated the Mount Allison Goldfish 55-48 in an exhibition swim meet held in conjunction with the UNB Winter Carnival. Each team was permitted one entry per event except in the diving where two entries were allowed.

Carol Scarborough, Pat Martin, Jil Robinson and Janet Skelton were awarded first place in the 160 yard medley relay after Mount A were disqualified. UNB's captain, Judi Ritchie, edged Mount A's Marilyn Lutz in the 40 yard freestyle with a time of 24.5. Pat Martin of UNB was a winner of the 40 yd. breaststroke for Mount A over UNB's Carol Scarborough. In the 40 yd. butterfly, Aileen Barker broke the existing pool record with a time of 26.2; she was very closely followed by UNB's co-captain, Janet Skelton.

The 80 yd. freestyle saw Janet Skelton breaking her own pool record with a time of 52.5; second place went to Mount A's Ruth McVetty. Nancy Kilburn lowered her own pool record in the 80 yd. breaststroke as she covered the distance in 1:13.0 followed by Andrea Vaines. Carol Scarborough finished a close second to Marilyn Lutz in the 80 yd. backstroke; the winning time was 1:07.7. Aileen Barker broke her second record of the meet as she lowered her own mark to 1:00.6, followed by Nancy Kilburn.

Elaine MacEwan scored an upset win in the diving, with Jenny Adam placing second. Mount A's divers Nancy McCarthy and Cosy Vaughan rounded out the scoring sheet. Sally Steele of Mount A showed true championship form in winning the 160 yard individual medley in 2:15.2, followed by Carol Scarborough. The fifth pool record in the girls division was set by Jil Robinson who lowered her own time to 1:06.8 in the 100 yd. freestyle; Sally Steel placed second. Lori Foster, Judi Ritchie, Jil Robinson and Janet Skelton stroked to a new pool record of 1:38.4 in the 160 yd. freestyle re-

McGILL EDGES BEAVERS BY 1 POINT

The Beavers suffered the same experience as McGill did last week when McGill swam to a one point victory this week over UNB. The CMR Invitational Meet held at St. Jean P.Q. had five teams entered, Sir George Williams, Laval, McGill, UNB and CMR. The final score was McGill 74, UNB 73, Sir George Williams 50 with CMR and Laval tying for 4th place with 37 points apiece. Amby Legere's planning strategy for the meet had to include the threat of Olympic star Richard Pound, who's swimming for Sir George Williams this year.

Mike Hutchins dove 5 dives on the 1 metre board and one dive on the 3 metre board to win by 5 points over the McGill diver. Chris Robb, the only double winner won the 200 yd. and 400 yd. free style events in the times of 2:09.0 and 4:57.6 respectively. Bill Warner won the 50 yd. free style in 24.5 to edge out the close McGill swimmer. Preston Thom, co-captain of the Beavers beat out Nils Vikander of McGill to win the Individual Medley. Bruce McDonald was only 1 second behind McGill's Tamilia in the breaststroke to take second place. Pound won the 100 yd. butterfly event followed by provincial record in order to make the event from UNB. This gave the McGill team the one point edge. It was a tough meet for the UNB swimmers to lose but they are looking forward to next year with anticipation until the next meet with McGill to breaking the standing tie between the two teams.

The situation was just reversed this week for the final event, the 200 yd. freestyle relay, UNB was ahead in points over McGill. McGill had to break the provincial record in order to make the event from UNB. This gave the McGill team the one point edge. It was a tough meet for the UNB swimmers to lose but they are looking forward to next year with anticipation until the next meet with McGill to breaking the standing tie between the two teams.

Bloomer forward Sandy Robinson out races Acadia defenders for loose ball. The U.N.B. squad went on to drop the Axettes 27-26.

Red Bloomers Nip Axettes

Acadia Axettes almost defeated the UNB Red Bloomers in an Intercollegiate Basketball League Game in the Lady Beaverbrook Gymnasium Friday night during the Winter Carnival weekend. Coach Sylvia Shaw started the game with forwards Pat Pickard, Sandy Pomeroy and Peg Donovan and a man to man defense of Kilby McClafferty, Gail Godden and Sherry Bickle. The forwards racked up 16 points in the first quarter while the UNB guards held the Acadia forwards to one basket.

It looked like a definite victory for the UNB co-eds but at the conclusion of the game the Bloomers had squeaked out a 27-26 win. The guards rebounded well and worked the ball continually up the floor but the Bloomers offence was having trouble swishing the ball through the basket. As a consequence, the Bloomers failed to score in the second quarter and hit for only 11 points in the second half. Sandy Pomeroy, co-captain of the Red Bloomers was high scorer for the UNB team with 13 points while Janet Armstrong of the Axettes scored 13 points for the losers.

Referees Fran McHugh and Gwen McMullin whisked down a total of 34 points, 17 against each team. Acadia hit nine out of the twenty while UNB managed to sink 5.

Following the game, the most valuable player for each team was presented with a trophy. Kilby McClafferty received the award on the UNB team. This is Kilby's first year with the Red Bloomers and she is playing guard position. For the Axettes guard Nancy Hagen accepted the award.

The Bloomers meet Dalhousie Tigerettes Saturday February 16 at 7:00 p.m. in the LB Gym for their fifth Intercollegiate League game.

lay. However, the girls were disqualified for illegal procedure, and first place was awarded to the Mount A team composed of Aileen Barker, Marilyn Lutz, Ruth McVetty, and Sally Steele.

Following the meet a reception was held during which prizes were presented to the most valuable swimmer in each team. These swimmers were chosen by the coaches of the opposing teams. Daryl McLean, Miss Business Administration presented the awards to Aileen Barker and Nancy Kilburn. High point winner for the Mermaids was Carol Scarborough with 10¼ points followed by Janet Skelton with 9¼.

An added attraction of the Carnival Meet this year was a very fine display of synchronized swimming by a group of co-eds under the direction of Lynn Wisener, a senior Physical Education student. Those taking part were Mary MacAfee, Sylvia Logie, Leslie McKeown, Anne Davis, Linda Blais, Janet Hepburn, Cheryl Pierce, Betty-Anne Douglass and Georgina Debow. We hope to see more of these girls in the future.

The next meet for the Mermaids is on Saturday, February 16, at the Mount Allison Winter Carnival.
