An Evening Out with Roger Doris

Christmas and New Year's Eve celebrations are many and varied in this area, and although many places have sold out early this year, there are still many spots with openings if you hurry with your reservations.

A close look at these entertainment pages will surely prove that the area offers something to please the taste and price of practically everyone. Most of the hotels are offering special prices for rooms for those that would like to stay over on New Year's Eve. With McGuiness Distillers picking up the tab for riders of TTC on New Year's Eve, that may be a safe and free way of getting from and to your home.

Running a good restaurant is no picnic!

We figured we had it made. Everything was going for us. Our menu included ribs, roast beef, steak, and food — just about anything anyone could ask for. And, the people we had cooking and serving were about the best anywhere. We had Businessmen's Buffet Luncheons every day from 12:00 till 2:30, and evening meals that started at just $2.10. We had nightly entertainment and dancing, "Happy Hour Specials" and an overall atmosphere of friendly warmth. We even stayed open Monday through Saturday till 1:00 A.M. We had it made. It was thumbs up, all the way. But, we were missing one thing. Customers. That's when it hit us. Why would such a top rated dining room serve dinner on a picnic table? Yes, we had picnic tables instead of the conventional kind. Who's idea was that anyway?

That was yesterday. Today, we've still got everything we started with. Except the picnic tables. Maybe, now, you'll come in and enjoy what we have to offer. By the way — do you know anyone who's looking for a good deal on a picnic table? Hardly been used.
