

Indians have been ordained as Deacons. A Boarding School for Indian children is in full operation, and its influence is limited only through lack of funds and workers.

Surely all this is matter for praise and thanksgiving to Him in Whose Name it has been carried on.

A serious Outlook.

But now, owing to various causes, the present is a time of great anxiety, and the outlook is most serious

one. The chief causes are—

1. The Church Missionary Society is gradually withdrawing its help and grants towards the Far North.
2. The Canadian Church, upon whose shoulders the burden therefore falls, is confronted with the most serious and complex problem of dealing with the spiritual conditions and welfare of the thousands of emigrants who are pouring into that country. The work amongst the Indians has consequently made to suffer through lack of support.

It, therefore, becomes imperative for us to appeal many friends of the Indian in the home land to continue help in procuring men and means for the continuance of the work. It would be a disastrous thing for us to abandon the work so favoured and blessed by God in the past.

Our Chief and most Urgent Needs.

1. Increased support for our Diocesan Boarding School for Indian children at Hay River.

This school was planned and started by the late revered Bishop Bompas about 18 years ago, and is doing a splendid work for the children, 32 of whom are now in residence. These Indian children