

has tried to do as much good as it could to as many patients as it could admit.

Length of Stay.

The length of stay of patients at the Sanatorium, owing to limited accommodation and the desire to benefit as many as possible, is six months. In some cases, however, where patients make unusually good progress, the time may be extended, but this departure is the exception and not the rule.

Another View of the Sleeping Pavillions

Cost of Maintenance.

The Sanatorium is maintained by a per diem allowance from Municipalities from which the patients come, and from the Government, also by payments from patients. The estimated cost per patient is about $12.00 per week.