This week will about wind up the seeding if the weather is favorable.

We understand Mr. S. Vogan sold his old horse for the good round sum of $101.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks of Wawanosh, paid friends here a visit on Sunday.

Mr. William Fry of Belmore is making the orchards of this part look a lot better when the brush is piled up. He understands his business.

Our school opened on Monday. Miss Ida Jacques who taught here for three years previous to the last one, has charge of the school for a time.

Quite a few of our farmers delivered their cattle on Monday at Clifford. Mr. Wm. Pomeroy being the buyer. Wat. pays good prices and that brings out the stock.

We are very sorry to report the illness of our teacher, Mr. John R. Mayberry. He went home to spend the Easter holidays with his parents and was taken ill with pleurisy. Then other diseases set in and at present he is dangerously ill. It is the wish of all his friends that he may be spared to health and strength again, as he is well liked by old and young, especially by the scholars.

Walkerton.

There is talk of putting down granite sidewalk on both sides of Jackson street, from Durham to Young. It is badly needed, and the "aristocracy" live there, you know.

It is said that the authorities sent a man and team to Goderich the other day for that scenery purchased so very cheap for the new town hall, and that when he was about to return home, a restraining hand was laid upon his shoulder. The scenery had a string on it, in the shape of a lien. Dave had to return home with the empty wagon.

It is reported Mr. Heinicke, bandmaster, has been engaged to teach the 36th battalion band at Shelburne, and that he goes there next week. Band matters have not been running smoothly of late, and there is no doubt that Mr. Heinicke's removal is due to this. It is not the purpose of your correspondent to discuss these troubles, suffice it to say that the band is controlled by a musical society, and the disorder is of an internal nature, requiring a painful operation and a heroic remedy before a permanent cure is effected.

The baseball boys have got a good program for the 24th of May celebration, including lacrosse between Chelsey and Walkerton; baseball, Hanover vs. Walkerton juniors, and Guelph vs. Walkerton; football, Mildmay vs. Walkerton; bicycle races, for which entrance is free, besides a procession, band music, etc. If Mildmay is not celebrating, no doubt we will see the GAZETTE in its new plug hat, and the other influential citizens of your charming village among the crowds who will make Walkerton lively by their presence. Come along, everybody, and help us to mix up fun, fellowship, flirtation, beer and pretzels and give Her Majesty a royal salute.

Fishing expeditions are plentiful and fish stories more so. A number of our sports opened the season and several bottles of bait some miles up the Rocky Saugeen. Some very fine speckled beauties were brought back. It appears that the trout caught in this neighborhood don't all bite at the same kind of bait. Some prefer worms, some have an appetite for flies, and others, vain ones no doubt, will catch on only when silver or other precious metals are used. It must have been this kind of bait which was made use of by a certain society swell who was showing his many friends his fine catch he made, as those who accompanied him on the trip reported that he caught only five indifferent, sad-eyed, dyspeptic, round shouldered specimens during the whole of Monday's operations. Well, the piscatorial liar has got a fair start, and already the air smells fishy.

Christian Endeavor.

The regular weekly meeting of the Society of Christian Endeavor was held on Tuesday evening in the Presbyterian church. Miss Allie Curle, convener of the Social committee presided and read a well prepared paper on the topic, "Little ways of bettering the world," Phil. 2:12-16; Matt. 5:13-19.

Instead of bemoaning the fact that we live in a wicked world we should each be trying to make the world better. The Bible and history teach us that there are very few men, who reach greatness. Where we find a Moses, a Joshua, a Paul or a Spurgeon, we find thousands of others who can only can only do small things for God and the world. Yet we can all be helpful if we will only try to be of use to those who are in need around us. A cheerful word, a bright smile, a song of gladness or the gift of a flower may prove a great blessing to the recipient. Starting in the home where each member of the family should try and live in perfect harmony with the others, it should be our aim to neglect no opportunity of being helpful to all whom we meet in any way in our journey through life. Then when death comes we will be remembered because the good things we have done.

Topic for next meeting, "Things my denomination has accomplished" Eph. 5:25-27; Ps. 87:1-7.

PRESS COM.

News from the Klondyke indicates that the country is fairly full of gold and the rush of miners this spring is immense. The other day a couple of Swedes were sent to an island near Dawson to cut some timber. In digging post holes for their shanty they came upon untold wealth of gold dust. That whole island was staked off in claims inside of five hours after the Swedes made their good luck known.

Away back in the year 1775, and while the American Revolution was at its height, Jacob Baker owned 160 acres of land that is now included in the southwest portion of the city of Philadelphia. Jacob died a bachelor, and the property, much of which was rented on 99-year leases, was managed by Jacob's only brother, Abraham Baker, and at his death passed over, in trust, to the Philadelphia branch of the Bank of British North America. The natural increase in the value of the property and the accumulations of rents have brought the total value of the estates up to $300,000,000. This estate is now declared to have descended to Abraham Baker and from him to his heirs. He had a family of eleven children, one of whom was the mother of Mr. John Fra Flatt, ex-M. P. for north Wentworth. Several of the heirs reside in Toronto and in the vicinity of Markham, and a Toronto lawyer, engaged by them, has spent considerable time in Philadelphia looking up records.

Agricultural Notes.

If you have a pasture growing up in weeds or brier bushes, put sheep on it two or three seasons. Then put cows or some other kind of stock on the ground. Changing the kind of stock on a pasture about every two years is excellent both for the pasture and the stock.

Lambs very soon learn to eat. When you are hurrying them on for market give them as soon as they begin to eat in addition to their mothers' milk a mixture of cornmeal, oats and bran. Put it in a crit where the old sheep cannot disturb it, but where the lambs can get it whenever they choose. It will bring them on amazingly.

A man with an ordinary farm can keep 20 brood sows upon it and raise food for them and their pigs if the land is fertile and rich and he has as much as 20 acres of pasture. The 20 sows at two litters a year should raise 240 pigs, out of which fine profit could be realized if they were well managed. Many experienced live stock men declare there is more money in hogs than in any other kind of farm animals.

Reports from Manitoba indicate that the spring spring seeding will be completed five weeks earlier than last year. This should prove a distinct advantage to the prairie farmer. His great difficulty is the summer frosts, and if the wheat crop is sufficiently mature before the frost comes not to be injured by it, the Manitoba farmer is sure of a good crop.

American fruit seems to be getting it on every side. The Austrian authorities have issued a decree forbidding the importation of American fresh fruit, plants, fresh fruit refuse, fruit wrappers and fruit packages, etc., in cases where the examination at the port of entry results in the discovery of traces of the San Jose scale. Such action on the part of European governments may prove blessings in disguise to the American fruit-growers, as they will certainly have the effect of inducing more rigid investigation on the part of the authorities towards exterminating the pest in America.

COUNTY AND DISTRICT.

During a militia encampment at Dunduran in Ireland, the wood, and turf used were supplied by the neighboring farmers. One day a donkey-cart of turf was brought in, the driver being a small Donegal boy. As the regimental band was playing, he stood in front holding the ass tightly by the head. Some of the 'smart ones' of the corps gathered around, highly amused, and the wit of the company asked the boy why he held his 'brother' so tight. "I'm afraid he'd list," was the curt reply.

There is great excitement in Goderich the past few weeks over the appearance of a "ghost." The Star says that the 'ghost' is still up to his capers, although every evening some 200 people (more or less) are on the watch for him, and it is really astonishing the number of boys and girls who gather in the vicinity of East street from 8 to 10 o'clock. The numerous stories about his tricks are much overdrawn, and nine times out of ten have no foundation whatever, and in some cases cause much annoyance. The fellow who is playing the tricks has very little sense and not much regard for the inconvenience he causes many people, especially ladies.

New baggage rules went into effect on the G. T. R. last week. The greater number of the rules refer to the improved method of checking. Prefaced to the regulations are several important directions to employees upon whom is impressed the necessity of exercising constant and watchful care over the property of travellers, of trying to give satisfaction to the public, and of establishing a reputation for courtesy and civility. "You are expected," says Mr. Quick, the general passenger agent, "to be polite at all times, and to answer civilly all questions addressed to you. Endeavor to make this line popular, because its business is dependent upon the good-will of the people.
