OUR SOLID BANKING SYSTEM.

The taking over of the tottering Ontario Bank by the Bank of Monta half guarantee joined in by other banks, illustrates the solidity of our admirable banking system in this country. To the casual outsider, unacquainted with the situation creat-ed by the banking act and our general financial situation, it might appear that the fall of one bank would merely remove a rival from the path of the others. They might be expected to stand aside and prepare to pick up what they could of the wreck-

But we have in a measure bound our various banking institutions together in Canada, so that one cannot collapse without injury to the others. The note circulation of all the banks, is, for instance, guaranteed by all the hanks; and the day upon which a nothing much is done about it. bank fails, its notes begin to bear interest, so that they positively become enhanced in value every day after the failure. In many ways, it is not to the interest of the other banks to the interest of the other banks to The Ontario Government's proce-have a brother fall by the way; and cution of the London election crimthe consequence is that, when one is inals is giving a complete insight threatened, we see this willingness to come to its rescue on the part chine" that was maintained by the of its late rivals. An "Endless Prayer Chain" has struck Brantford, and as a result some of the residents there are put to endless trouble and annoyance.

Maybe when the natural gas arrives in Chatham, the aldermen may see their way clear to erect a few lamp posts. At present the citizens cannot see any benefit coming from the municipal electric light plant. These are very dark nights, too.

The local Liberal organ has, as yet, offered no excuse for the bungle made out of the new Government dock at Jeannette's Creek. Here is a Government work, supposedly completed, and utterly useless for the purpose for which it was intended, and the Banner has nothing to say. The Banner is certainly living up to its reputation of being one of those strictly party organs of which the Windsor Record spoke the other day. A strict inquiry is needed in this dock

A few days ago a young man came to this city with the thrilling story that he had been held up in Dover, and in the fracas which followed, he received some serious injuries. He had the injuries all right, and his wounds, which consisted of a number of slashes, evidently made with knife, were attended to by a local surgeon. It seems now that his story of the hold-up does not hang together. How did he get the knife slashes? It is up to the county constabulary to investigate this thing. He wouldn't use a knife on himself, and he is evidently trying to shield the man who narrowly escaped becoming a murderer. The fact that knives have been freely used in a country fight is one not to be treated with indifference.

He was poor but intelligent. In all his courses he had taken honors, and in athlettes also great honors had been his. "Well, Smith." said the president, "through at last eh?"

"Yes, sir," said the young man, smiling and blushing.

"And now what are you going to do?"

"Thardly know yet, sir, I have had two offers."
