WHAT TOTEMISM IS.

Light on an Interesting and Little Understood Subject.

It is interesting to note that totemism is found not only in Alaska, but among the North American Indians, the aborigines of Australia, the Hottentots of Africa and even the hill tribes of In-dia. Totems are also common among the Samoans.

clan or tribe, but it signifies a great deal more than mere political or social alliance. It is not only a tribal emblem, but also a family sign; not merely a symbol of nationality, but also an expression of religion; not simply a bond of union among primitive peo-ples, but also a regulator of the marriage laws and of other social institu tions. A totem has been defined as "a class of material objects which a say. age regards with superstitious respect, believing that there exists between him and every member of the class an inti mate and special relation."

Among the Ojibway Indians there are no fewer than twenty-three differ-ent totems. Nine of these are quadrupeds, marking out the wolf, the bear, the beaver and other clans, eight are birds, five are fishes and one is the snake.

Some extraordinary superstitions regarding totems prevail in Samoa. Thus it is believed that if a turtle man eats it is believed that if a turtle man eats of a turtle he will grow very ill, and the voice of the turtle will be heard in his inside saying: "He ate me. I am killing him." If a banana man uses a banana leaf for a cap he becomes bald. If a butterfly man catches a butterfly the trible him. it strikes him dead. If a fowl man eats a fowl delirium and death results, and so on, all going to show that the totem has something of the quality of a fetich as well as the significance of a fearify emblem.

Regarding totemism, it is to be noted that the relation of mutual help and protection includes also the totem it-self—that is to say, if a man takes care of his totem he expects the to-tem to return the compliment. If the totem is a dangerous animal it must not hurt his clansmen. The scorpion men of Senegambia declare that the most deadly scorpions will run over their bodies without hurting them. There is a snake clan in Australia which holds to a similar belief. Among the crocodile clan of the Bechuanas if a man is bitten by a crocodile or even has water splashed on him by one he is expelled from the clan as one esteemed unworthy by the totem.-Housekeeper.

SOME SUPERSTITIONS.

If you want a cat to stay at your ome, rub its paw on the stove.

To keep a new dog, measure his tail with a cornstalk and bury the latter under the front step.

If you sing in bed you will cry next day. If you sing before breakfast you will cry before night. A family must never move except in the light or increase of the moon. This will secure prosperity and increase of If a woman is making soap and a man stirs it, all will be well and the soap will be fine, but if a woman comes the soap will spoil in the making.

Looking at a new moon for the first time through obstructions, as through treetop, foretells misfortune during that moon. To see it over the right shoulder and in a clear space brings good luck.

"As a rule," says a meteorological expert, "those killed by lightning main-tain an appearance of life, staying in the attitude which they had when struck. An English minister named Butler witnessed the following: In the town of Everdon ten harvesters had sought refuge under a hedge during a storm. Lightning struck and killed four, who were left as if petrified. One was found holding in his fingers the souff which he was about to take. Anand had one hand on the animal's head, while holding in the other hand some bread with wh', as had been feeding it. A third as sitting with his eyes open and his head turned toward the storm.

A Translator's Blunder.

Jacob Boehme, the "mystic shoemaker," once wrote a pamphlet which he er," once wrote a pamphlet which he called "Reflections on the Treatise of Isaiah Stiefel." One of Boehme's biographers had never heard of that the ologian. But he knew enough German to be aware that "Stiefel" meant "boot," and he was further misled by the fact that Boehme was a cobbler as well as a philosopher, so he made a brilliant shot and spoke of the pam-phlet in question as Boehme's "Reflec-tions on the Boots of Isaiah." In this guise it passed into several catalogues.

A Good Thing to Know. A writer, discussing the lost art of early rising, says, "The proper time to rise is when sleep ends." That's a good thing to learn. Do you know, if we hadn't seen that in a paper we should have gone on believing that the proper time to rise was when you were right in the midst of your soundest sleep. What a blessed thing it is for this blind old world that there are some men in it who know nearly everything!

The wise man when he contemplates a journey lets his wife pack and then takes her along to repack. If not, he will need a dry goods case to hold the overflow when he turns homeward.

Stone Falls On a Man.

Port Arthur, July 17.—H. Huston of London, Ont., is in a hospital here in a critical condition. He was working on a Methodist church when a large flee of stone fell from the top of the building, lighting on his head. It is not expected he will live.

Mount Vernon, Ind., July 17.—In a head-on collision between two freight trains on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad near Upton, Ind., Saturday four persons were killed and eight injured. One of the injured will die. A train despatcher mistook the number of the trains.

No furnace drudgery in the Bison

The most exasperating mystery a man-can have is a cranky furnace. The dirt and soot, the ash sifting and draft worry of many heaters, make life a burden. With the new "Bison" hot water heater, there are no worries. Its drafts are so simple a child can understand them, the shaking down apparatus is operated with the slightest effort, shaking down and sifting in one operation. It is a clean, simple, economical heater, perfectly safe, as it burns its own gas no matter how the drafts are set. Write to H. R. Ives Co., Limited, Montreal, for an interesting booklet which fully describes it.

Coming Back.

On one of the streets of a souther city a dusky belle, sauntering aimless ly along, met a white haired ex-slave who was promenading with definite-ness and an approach to speed. "Hello, Aunt Dilsey!" said the belle nonchalantly. "Whey you gwine?"

"Whey I gwine?" queried the old woman sharply. "Whey you reckon I gwine? I ain't gwine. I done beep whey I gwine. '

Cruel.

Mabel (not in her first youth)—First of all he held my hands and told my fortune, and then, Evie, he gazed into my face ever so long and said he could read my thoughts! Wasn't that clever of him, dear? Evie—Oh, I suppose he read between the lines, darling—Punch.

All's well that ends well.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Their financial responsibility is well known to every newspaper publisher and druggist in the United States. No other medicine than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription could possibly "win out" as the saying goes, on such a proposition. But they know whereof they speak. They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation especially designed for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

"I believe that I suffered from every disease that any overworked, run-down woman could." writes Mrs. Ida Martin, of Berry, Ky; "was not able to do anything. Could not get one good night's sleep. Suffered from womanly trouble through change of life. Had a disordered liver and trouble with my heart. I suffered excruciating pain in breast and shoulders. Had no appetite. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and they did more for me than all the medical treatment that I have ever taken. All suffering women should take Dr. Pierce's medicines and be healed."

How to preserve health and beauty is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Med-medicines and be healed."

THE TREADMILL.

A Punishment Still In Vogue In Many English Prisons.

The treadwheel is still in vogue at many English prisons. Within the walls is a little building, built of blue gray stone, standing somewhat apart from the main structure in a corner of the exercise ground and prison garden. On the chocolate colored door are painted in white letters the two words, "Wheel House." As the door opens the dull, grinding sound that we heard outside grows a little louder and clearer. The door closes behind us with the inevitable clash and click of the returning bolt. The house is an apartment some thirty feet long and fifteen feet wide. On the left hand side are the wheels four of them, in two tiers, divided by a gallery running the whole length of the house and communicating with the floor by a staircase at the opposite end On the right hand side there is another lower and shorter gallery, on which stands the warder in charge. The wheels are separated by a section of Each wheel is divided into compartments, cutting off each prisoner from the others. The object of this is to prevent the prisoners from seeing and hearing one another, although conversation in a low voice pitched in a dif-ferent key from that of "the music of the wheel" is perfectly easy and intelligible.
