The fire brigade had a sharp run Wednesday noon with the hose wagon to the barn and hay stack belonging to Lee Follett, which was situated on the hill side just north of his residence. The alarm soon had the apparatus on the spot in spite of the roadway difficulties and soon extinguished the flames on the barn, without but little damage resulting to the structure. The stack containing about 10 tons of hay was totally destroyed. The fire was caused by the burning of a rubbish pile, the flames spreading to the stack.
