You Can't be cheerful With Poor Eyes?

Don't be too hard on the "grouchy," perhaps he can't help it. He surely must feel badly himself, or he would not be snappy to others. There is something wrong with the man; if he can only find out what it is perhaps we can remove the cause.

How about the eyes? An uncorrected eye defect is enough to make even the best natured of us talk back. We have fitted some of the worst cranks imaginable and now they are tame and good natured.

Eye-strain and headaches do not tend to create pleasant feeling toward your fellow man. If more people wore glasses this would be a better world to live in.

Take this as a joke if you like. Of course it is partly. But read it over again, and let the main facts sink in. Then let us make things brighter for you by correcting your eye defects.

Thirty returned soldiers went up on the noon train yesterday to Quilcum Inn, where they will remain during their convalescing period. Many were sufferers from nerve shock and quite a few had received severe wounds.

As will be seen by advertisements elsewhere in this issue the butchers and nearly all the grocers in the city will close their stores all day Wednesday May 2nd, in order to give their employees an opportunity of attending the War Carnival in Vancouver, which is being held with the object of raising $100,000 for the several Patriotic Funds.

Writing from "Somewhere in France," Sergt. Archie Fulton wishes to be remembered to all Nanaimo friends. At the time of writing he was enjoying the best of health and recently attended a reunion of thirty Nanaimo boys.
